Inspection of Home Provides For Greater Safety From Fire

Fires in the home are steadily increasing and are destroying more and more lives and property each year. Carelessness is the number one cause of most of these fires, therefore it is up to everyone in the family to do their part to help prevent this needless waste. A thorough inspection of the home and a good clean-up job can do a lot to prevent many of these needless fires from starting or spreading.

1. Accumulations of waste and discarded materials. Waste paper and discarded furniture constitute a wholly unnecessary fire hazard which householders would frequently be glad to be rid of. Oily rags are especially hazardous because of the danger of spontaneous ignition. Occasionally other waste materials found in the basement are subject to the same hazards.

2. Disorderly arrangement of fuel. Fire wood should be neatly piled or placed in a bin and kept separate from all waste papers and rags. Papers and rags mixed in with wood or coal may start spontaneous heating.

3. Ashes in contact with wood. The practice of putting hot ashes in wooden boxes or barrels or piling against wood partitions is a dangerous one responsible for many fires. Metal containers are the only safe kind to use.

4. Furnaces, stoves or smoke pipes close to combustible ceilings or partitions. Charring of wood or blistering of paint indicate exposure to excessive temperature. During operation of the furnace, wood that is too hot to hold the hand on may be considered subject to excessive temperatures.

5. Conditions of smokepipes. Poorly supported and corroded smoke pipes present a fire hazard. Now is the time to check these and replace them.

6. Oil burner installations. Oil burners, supply tanks and piping need to be properly installed to avoid danger of fire. The burner should be cleaned and checked not less than once a year to insure correct operation. The storage tank should be kept clean in case an oil leak develops so it can be detected and repaired.

7. Chimney defects and clearances. Wooden beams extending into chimney walls have started many fires. Unused chimney openings should be sealed with brick or with tight fitting metal stops.

8. Clean-out doors at base of chimney. These are needed in cleaning out the soot, which is necessary to avoid chimney fires.

9. Work rooms. Removal of shavings from work benches and the orderly storage of paints, varnishes, oils and turpentine are features that require attention.

10. Fire stops. The spaces at the bottom of wall studs should be tightly fire stopped to prevent fire in the basement from finding its way directly into the walls and up to other parts of the house. Fire stops also protect against vermin from entering buildings.

The attic and all closets should be thoroughly inspected to make sure that they do not contain added hazards that will start or help a fire to spread. A clean home is usually a safe home. Everyone should do their part this spring and help to make Newton a safer community in which to live.

Health For All

In the past the family doctor was seldom thought of in connection with treating tuberculosis. This highly complex disease was left to specialists specifically trained to fight the "great white plague."

Although it was always important for the family doctor to be able to recognize tuberculosis in his patients, today he is being brought more and more into the treatment as well as the diagnosis of the disease.

What has happened to bring about this change? The discovery of drugs to treat tuberculosis and the medical advances of recent years mean that, under certain circumstances, victims of tuberculosis may go home to continue their treatment after an initial period in a hospital. Because these patients must take good care of themselves and often must follow prescribed treatment for a long time after leaving the hospital, the family doctor becomes very important as the guardian of their health.

Since he has greater responsibility for caring for tuberculosis patients, the family doctor must know more about the disease than ever before. This situation may require some important changes in the teaching of tuberculosis in the medical schools, with greater emphasis on diseases of the chest than ever before.

Tuberculosis associations are encouraging the teaching of tuberculosis in medical schools on a broader scale so that the young men now training to become doctors will be able to care for the tuberculosis victims they will find among their patients in the year to come.

The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association has joined with many of the local tuberculosis associations in Massachusetts to support a medical education program for all third year medical students at Harvard, Tufts, and Boston University. The courses are being held at the Cambridge Sanatorium, the Channing Home, and the Middlesex County Sanatorium. The tuberculosis associations in Massachusetts appropriated $9,348 for the year 1955-56 for this medical education program.

This column is sponsored, in the interest of better health, by: The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association whose sole support is the annual sale of Christmas Seals in Newton.

Red Cross Annual Fund Appeal Gets Under Way Today

MAYOR HOWARD WHITMORE reviews organizational plans with Frank B. Maher, Chairman of 1956 Red Cross Fund Drive. Mayor pledges fullest cooperation to Mr. Maher and assures the citizens of Newton that the entire community will support the traditional services of Red Cross. Never before in its 75 year history has Red Cross been called upon so much as during the present year with such large scale disasters.

Over 1800 Volunteers to Visit Homes to Aid Mercy Services

More than 1800 workers will kick off the 1956 Red Cross Fund Appeal throughout the Newtons today (Thursday) as the annual nationwide campaign begins.

Volunteers will visit their neighbors to get the funds needed to continue the mercy services of the Red Cross for another year. The worst disaster years in the history of the Red Cross have occurred during the past few years with New England floods and hurricanes being a major cause for increased expenditures for Aid.

Frank Maher, Newton chairman of the drive, urged increased donations this year because of the drastic situation that faces the Red Cross and its ability to perform disaster relief work. Newton's goal this year is $90,000.

The increase of 10% over last year's quota reflects the money that must be provided for the disaster operating and reserve funds.

Mr. Maher announced that Newton has launched its Red Cross drive with contributions totalling more than $12,000 in advance gifts. He explained in detail how the Newton Red Cross divides the funds raised in the campaign.

APPROXIMATELY 40 per cent goes for services to the Armed Forces and Veterans, and about 15% is for the Red Cross Blood program. About nine per cent is given over to disaster preparedness and relief and another seven per cent goes for health, nursing and safety services. Approximately six per cent is for service and financial assistance to Chapters and the Junior Red Cross receives two per cent.

Mr. Maher pointed out that this has been the worst disaster year in the 75 year Red Cross history. The regular operating budget for disaster, together with the extra 16 million dollars donated for the Eastern flood has already been spent to aid flood victims.

THE CHAIRMAN pointed out that the 75 years of experience in disaster work has proved to the Red Cross that the next four months are the worst in the year in disaster damages with spring floods and tornadoes.

Typical items and services supplied by the Red Cross to persons in disaster areas include: food, shelter, medical and nursing help, clothing, repair and rebuilding of homes, essential home furnishings and utensils, information about the health and safety of loved ones.

During this past year, the Red Cross spent $17,000,000 on the Eastern States floods and

States "Flying Saucers" Are Not Man Made

Lybeck of Winchester, retired New England manager of aviation sales for Esso Standard Oil Company, last Monday urged members of Newton Rotary Club to "keep an open mind" on the subject of flying saucers. He stated scientists and students of unidentified flying objects agree flying ing saucers are not produced by any country on Earth.

Meeting at Brae-Burn Country Club, the group heard Mr. Lybeck relate incidents during the last decade where certain saucer-like objects have defied explanation and documentation. The term "flying saucer" was first used in 1947 although 68 "authentic sightings" of comparable objects were recorded in the 19th century.

Experts run the gamut in explanations of the objects from "natural phenomena" to "interplanetary vehicle," Mr. Lybeck stated.

Flying saucers have been the subject of long scientific study and research, the speaker pointed out in advising his audience to be open-minded. At the same time he saw "no reason for alarm" and reiterated "flying saucers" or whatever, are not manufactured on earth. "Time alone will give the real answer to this flying saucer," he concluded.

Charles H. Meeker introduced the speaker. Philip A. Enholm reported the following nominees as directors for 1956-57: Archibald G. Barron, Robert C. Deacon, Fred A. Hawkins, Raymond C. Wass and John J. White. Edwin F. Weidig, club president, presided.

Third Tigerama To Be Held Tomorrow Night

Newton's Student Activities Center is back in the news. You will remember that this is the endeavor on the part of a representative group of the student body of Newton High School to foster a civic center which would be open to all of the Newton's.

It is a dream of the Social Relations Committee of the Parent Teacher Student Association that this center would include facilities for teenage and adult recreation.

It is with this goal in mind that Newton High School is staging a series of four trial get-togethers (meetings) two of which have been spectacularly executed. In this, the third Tigerama, the members of the steering committee and the Social Relations Committee will attempt to embody the original concepts of a civic center by offering movies; dancing to records, complete with student disc jockeys; ping-pong, and fun for all.

The enthusiastic support of each and every Newton High School student is very essential to the success of Tigerama.

White House Conference to Hear Address by Dr. Faust

DR. CLARENCE H. FAUST

Dr. Clarence H. Faust, President of the Fund for the Advancement of Education of the Ford Foundation, will deliver the key address at the Newton White House Conference on Education. His subject will be "Education Is Everybody's Business."

THE CONFERENCE will take place at the Newton High School, Friday evening, March 16, and all day Saturday, March 17. Dr. Faust's speech will highlight the Saturday luncheon program.

Dr. Faust, of the Ford Foundation, has been President of the Fund's "Advancement of Education" since 1951 which was the time the fund was established as a non profit organization by the Ford Foundation. The fund's purpose is to work with schools at primary, secondary, college and university levels in the improvement of formal education.

Dr. Faust's background in the educational field, and as Newton's guest speaker should make the conference one of the finest to be held in the State.

Before accepting the Presidency of the fund, Mr. Faust had been associated with Stanford University since 1947. At Stanford he was director of the university's libraries, later Dean of Humanities and Sciences and during part of 1949 was acting President of the university.

HE ALSO served 17 years on the University of Chicago faculty before joining the Stan-

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Christian A Herter, Jr. May Be Candidate for Council: Attempt Being Made to Have Lodge Run for Governor: GOP Chances Weakened by Attacks on State Chrm. Nelson

Popular ex-Representative Christian A. Herter, Jr., son of the Governor, may undertake a political comeback this year as a candidate for the Governor's Council in the district now represented by Executive Councillor Endicott (Chub) Peabody.

The younger Herter, according to reports from Washington, will shortly resign from his federal post and return to Massachusetts to begin another chapter in one of the most unusual father-and-son political stories in modern Bay State history.

Herter, who formerly represented a large section of Newton in the House of Representatives, resigned from his legislative post because everything he did and every vote he cast was construed by onlookers to reflect the attitude and position of his father.

Former Representative Herter, a bright, promising and highly able young public official in his own right, found that he no longer possessed a political personality of his own, as far as most observers were concerned, after his father became Governor.

If he cast a vote for a measure, it was interpreted to mean that Governor Herter was for it. If he made a mistake, it was charged against the Governor. When he made a speech, he was regarded as a spokesman for his father.

The shadow of the Governor's office covered everything he said and did. Neither he nor his father wanted it that way, but there wasn't anything they could do to counteract the impression in the public mind.

So at the end of the legislative year in 1953, young Herter resigned from his legislative post and shifted the scene of his activity to Washington, where he could stand on his own feet.

Now that Governor Herter has announced that he will retire from the State House at the close of the present year, his son is returning to pick up the political threads that he severed a little less than three years ago.

Lest that be misunderstood, it might be added that few fathers and sons are any closer than Governor Herter and ex-Representative Herter.

When the Governor waged his uphill fight against heavy odds in 1952, his son practically disregarded his own campaign for the House and worked 16 to 18 hours a day to help achieve his father's election.

The big consideration that impelled him to give up his own legislative seat was that he was apprehensive that some action or vote might of his might embarrass his father.

An attempt was made by prominent Republicans to induce the younger Herter to become a candidate for State-wide office. They felt that his name would add strength to the GOP State ticket in the campaign next autumn. He is not disposed to yield to that persuasion.

The present indications are that Herter will be a candidate for the Governor's Council. There is no question but that he could have the nomination for the asking, because there would be a good possibility that he could win back a Council seat now held by a Democrat.

Some uncertainty exists as to who his Democratic opponent will be, but the likelihood that he will face Peabody next November. Peabody is now seeking the Democratic nomination for Attorney General. All the signs, however, indicate that the endorsement for that office will go to Boston City Council President Edward J. McCormack, Jr., and that Peabody will fall back and run for reelection.

Counihan Candidate for District Attorney

Attorney Edward A. Counihan III, son of Supreme Court Justice Edward A. Counihan, Jr., is gradually looming as an extremely formidable candidate for the Democratic nomination for District Attorney of Middlesex County.

An active and highly respected young attorney, who was associated in the practice of law with his father until the latter was appointed to the Supreme Court bench, Counihan has been waging an extremely active campaign through the big county that stretches from Newton to Lowell.

He has the backing of many members of ex-Governor Dever's organization, and this should stand him in good stead in the free-for-all battle that will be waged next September for the right to carry the Democratic banner against District Attorney Ephraim Martin.

Conihan is a graduate of Harvard College and Harvard Law School. In his bid for the nomination he will get off to a good start in Cambridge, where he will poll up a big vote, and he should be in the tick of the running across the county.

Friends Want Lodge to Seek Governorship

Attempts are being quietly made by some prominent Republicans to persuade UN Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., to seek the GOP nomination for Governor. So far Lodge has not shown much enthusiasm for the idea.

The argument being advanced by those who would like to see Lodge in the gubernatorial race is that a two-year term in the Governorship would place him in a stronger position to battle Senator John F. Kennedy in 1958.

A number of Lodge's admirers feel that his service as delegate to the United Nations is a little too remote from the people of Massachusetts and that he would be better off politically if he were closer to the public eye if his home State. Lodge, however, is not convinced that is so.

It is possible that Lodge might consider such a move if President Eisenhower were not to be a candidate for reelection.

Lodge's big objective, of course, is to regain the Senate seat he lost to Kennedy in 1952, and if he were certain that a term as Governor would help him to attain that goal, there is little doubt but that he would step into the fight.

As matters stand at the present time, Lieutenant Governor Sumner G. Whittier is virtually assured of nomination as the Republican candidate for Governor. When Governor's Councillor Bruce Crane announced that he would not oppose Whittie, it left the latter without any opposition.

That, of course, would be changed overnight if Lodge were to decide that the Governorship would be a stepping stone back to the Senate. In such an event Whittier presumably would drop back and stand for another term as Lieutenant Governor. There does not seem to be much likelihood of that happening, however.

For one thing the present-day problems confronting a Governor are of such a magnitude that Lodge might consider with some logic that a sojourn on Beacon Hill might hurt rather than help his prospects of returning to the Senate.

Unless Lodge should decide to start his political comeback this year, the Republican State ticket for the 1956 campaign now appears to be pretty well set except for one spot.

Present indications are that the GOP will line up with Whittier as the candidate for Governor, Republican House Leader Charles Gibbons of Stoneham as the nominee for Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General George Fingold of Concord, a candidate for reelection, State Senate President Richard I. Furbush of Waltham the contender for Secretary of State and Senator John Adams of Andover the candidate for State Treasurer.

Missing from the list is any nominee for State Auditor. So far the GOP has no seekers for the right to run against Auditor Thomas J. Buckley, but it undoubtedly will come up with one or more prospects in the next few weeks.

Of the men in that list, the only one with any real opposition is Gibbons. Senator Leslie B. Cutler of Needham is challenging him for the second position on the Republican State ticket. Gibbons, however, has powerful backing from his fellow House members, and it is unlikely that Mrs. Cutler will be able to take the nomination away from him.

Whittier has been weakened to some degree by the rather senseless attacks persons close to him have been making upon Republican State Committee Chairman Elmer C. Nelson at the very time that the greatest service they could perform for their man would be to promote party harmony.

There is little doubt but that Whittier's backers will insist that Nelson be thrown out as chairman as soon as Whittier is given the nomination. As the candidate for Governor, Whittier will have the right to pick his own State Committee head, and he undoubtedly will exercise that right.

So much bitterness has been engendered, however, that the removal of Nelson will leave scars within the GOP that can only serve to impair Whittier's chances of winning the Governorship next autumn. That is a situation which the Whittier forces blithely ignore. They act as if they were running against Nelson for Governor.

Nelson is a person who says exactly what he thinks, and he doesn't waste too much time on the fine points of tact and diplomacy. But he has done a great deal in building the GOP out in the small towns, and he has worked closely with thousands of the grass roots Republicans.

It is fair to say that Nelson has made a far greater contribution to the Republican party in Massachusetts than has Governor's Councillor Augustus G. Means who last week demanded that he be fired for naming Basil Brewer, the New Bedford newspaper publisher, as an alternate to the Republican national convention.

Inasmuch as Brewer probably will never even cast a vote at the GOP conclave in San Francisco, Means' attack upon him was absurd and served no purpose except to stir up a little more Republican discord.

Means should have sense enough to know and probably does know that Nelson didn't handpick either the delegates or alternates and that they were selected after consultations between such party leaders as Nelson, Governor Herter, Senator Saltonstall and Congressional Minority Leader Martin.

A safe guess would be that Martin, who represents an area in which Brewer's newspaper has considerable influence, insisted that the New Bedford publisher be given some recognition and that he probably was supported in that position by Herter and Saltonstall.

That would be obvious to anyone who has cut his political eye teeth, but Means, who is serving on the Governor's Council because he was appointed to it by Governor Herter not because he was elected, disregarded all that and blazed away with both barrels at Nelson.

It would be interesting to know what Messrs. Herter, Saltonstall and Martin thought about Means' blast.

What they might well have thought is that if Means has no more political judgment than he has displayed recently, it is not surprising that he was defeated by 170,000 votes after he has given the Republican nomination for State Treasurer in 1954.

— the informed citizen —

A Weekly Column written and prepared by the Newton League of Women Voters and devoted to the principle that an informed citizen is a good citizen.

The League at its State Convention last May, chose for study an item that has great current impact. In September, 1955, the last legislator had hardly closed the door of the State House after the third longest session of the Massachusetts General Court, when a bill was filed for the consideration of the next legislature concerning the lengthening of the term of office of the governor. There is already on file a legislative amendment to increase the term of office of the governor. It awaits only the majority vote of another joint session of the legislature to be ratified before it can be placed on the ballot. Why then has a completely new bill been filed?

First, let us consider what we must know to understand the problems involved in lengthening the term of the governor of Massachusetts. The position of governor in our state has had an interesting development historically. At first, distrust of the position of governor was natural, because he was appointed by the king of England and had strong veto powers. With our first constitution, we placed broad restrictions on him and he was elected for only one year. The increased complexity of daily life from the nineteenth century to the present day has seen the development of a strong reform movement to increase the powers of governors. At the present time, there are 29 states that have the four-year term for the chief executive. Today there is a strong feeling for the four-year term for governor (and the other constitutional officers) in Massachusetts.

Our governor now serves a two-year term as a result of changes in the executive branch of the state government in 1918.

There are many arguments for and against the four-year term. Some are:

FOR: 1. A governor will have time to develop an administrative policy.

2. He will not have to spend as much of his term of office campaigning for reelection.

3. He is likely to appoint more qualified officials as his responsibility to the voters is extended.

AGAINST: 1. There is fear of entrusting too much power to one man.

2. The electorate can exert more influence on its constitutional officers when they have to be elected every two years.

To attempt to answer the question posed at the beginning of this article, "Why has a bill containing provisions similar to one which has already passed one joint session of the legislature been introduced?" we must look at some partisan realities. Political reformers recommend the election of the governor for a four-year term in the non-presidential years, so that the state administration will not be judged at the same time as the national administration, and because such an election in the off-presidential years stimulates voter interest. Many party leaders in Massachusetts believe that election held in non-presidential years are of great benefit to the opposing party although there are others who maintain that a strong candidate would not be affected by the timing of the election. Many authorities believe that the cycle of four years irons out in time what appear to be advantages to any one party. The present bill (S. 763) if it passes another joint session of the General Court, will be on the ballot in 1956. The bill filed this past month would start the cycle again, pass two successive General Courts, be on the ballot in 1958 and then be effective in 1956. If you, the voters, feel strongly about this, let your legislators know.

Warren Junior High Notes

The Warren Junior High School Community extends congratulations to Elna Anderson of Jr. III who received her Official Intramural rating in basketball at Sargent College by the Boston Board of Women's Officials. Elna received a score of 96 in her written examination when a passing grade of only 70 was necessary. In order to receive any rating, a girl must take the written examination and a practical. The practical consists of refereeing a basketball game before several women who rate the referee. It is very unusual for a junior high school pupil to obtain her officials.

Color Team Drawing

The annual all-girls' assembly on Tuesday, February 14, was a special event for Jr. I girls as it featured the drawing of the colors which would determine the color team on which they would play in after-school sports throughout their three years at Warren. The program was under the supervision of Miss Alice Willey, assisted by Miss Nancy Gronberg, of the Girls' Physical Education Department.

Joan Chase, who acted as M.C., and herself captain of the red team, introduced the other color team captains. They are:

Red Team: Captain, Joan Chase. Co-Captain, Janet Doyle.

Yellow Team: Susan Fowler, Captain. Co-Captain, Frances Rosen.

Blue Team: Captain, Beverly Vaccarello. Co-Captain Martha Evans.

Green Team: Captain Robin Marsh. Co-Captain, Joan Cooper.

Joan Chase then explained the purpose of the color teams, while Robin Marsh outlined some of their activities, such as field hockey, basketball, volley ball, and softba

Miss Mary J. Cleveland, Assistant Principal of Warren, presented the basketball and field hockey awards to the champion homerooms and members of the teams. In Jr. I the championship was won by Room 13, captained by Debby Kinsella; in Jr. II, by Room 202, captained by Jill Schofield; and in Jr. III, Room 115, captained by Elna Anderson.

Excitement ran high as Beverly Vaccarello announced the drawing of colors by the girls of Jr. I. A very attractive box, decorated by Jean Winer of Jr. III, was held high by Judy Gores as each girl in the seventh grade dug deep for a colored banner, then shook hands with the captain of the color team she had just drawn. There was an added thrill in the drawing of colors this year when the girls saw Judy waiting for them with the box. Judy was stricken with polio last October, but is already attending most of her classes at Warren with the aid of crutches.

Special guests at the assembly were thirteen girls from Boston University Sargent School, who demonstrated several drills through which they develop the skills needed in playing basketball. They then played an exhibition game, with a tie score of 12 to 12. Two Warren girls kept score for the game, Elna Anderson and Betty Anderson. One of the Sargent girls, it was learned, attended Warren Junior High School in the seventh grade — she was Elizabeth Wagner.

A colorful note was added to this assembly, as to so many of the after-school sports, by the cheerleaders in their red and gold uniforms who welcomed the Sargent girls with an appropriate cheer, and later the new Jr. I members of the four color teams. The cheerleaders are: Beverly Vaccarello, Susan Callender, Deborah Emerson, Cathy Ryan, Carol Iannuzzi, Janet Doyle, Emily Newton. Two substitutes are Catherine Carleton and Diane Freeto.

Basketball Champions

The girls' color teams, are divided into two leagues, the American League and the National League. The girls to compete in the championship games are chosen by Miss Alice Willey, athletic instructor, according to their ability to play. The teams of each league play against each other; then the winner of the American League plays the winner of the National League.

Barbara Gorman

In Jr. II the winner of the National League was the Green team, the winner of the American League was the Blue team. The championship game between these two teams was played on February 13 with the Green's winning by a score of 20 to 14. Final ratings of the color teams were first place, Green; second, Blue; with Yellow and Red tied for 3rd place.

ton patients directly. In 1953 a study of the Newton rehabilitation services was made and, as a result, it was decided that the Newton association's case load should be transferred to the Rehabilitation Department of the Middlesex Health Association in a coordinated program. Since that time the rehabilitation services of the Newton Tuberculosis Association have been offered through the coordinated program centering in the Middlesex County Sanatorium.

IN INTRODUCING the principal speaker, Mrs. Levens pointed out that this open meeting was called with the purpose of again studying the rehabilitation situation in Newton. She said that many changes have taken place in the past 10 years in the tuberculosis picture and that related problems in rehabilitation had arisen.

Dr. William H. Weidman, Director, Division of Tuberculosis Control, Massachusetts Department of Public Health, spoke to the group about the changing aspects of tuberculosis control. Dr. Weidman emphasized the fact that we know something is happening in tuberculosis control, but that we do not know exactly where we are going. He said, "We think we are on the right road, but we are not too sure." He pointed out that the death rate since 1947 has fallen off very sharply, 70% in eight years. He added that unfortunately the number of new cases has only fallen about 17%. This drop, he said, is a small one numerically. In 1947, he explained, there were about 2800 new cases in Massachusetts as compared with more than 2300 in 1954. In fact, he pointed out, there were some areas in the United States where there has been an increase in the number of new cases. Dr. Weidman continued by pointing out that the tuberculosis problem is being confined more and more to large cities. Boston has the worst death rate for cities with populations of 500,000 and over in the United States. Dr. Weidman told the group that the tuberculosis situation in Boston is the concern of Newton and other surrounding communities.

IN COMMENTING on the use of drugs in tuberculosis treatment, Dr. Weidman emphasized that the drugs do not completely kill tuberculosis germs, but only retard their growth until the body has a chance to develop some resistance to the disease. Furthermore, the number of persons in sanatoria has been brought to a minimum and the number of persons with tuberculosis who are at home has increased considerably.

Dr. Weidman presented figures from a United States Public Health Report on "The Non-hospitalized Tuberculosis Patient." The report stated that, of the tuberculosis patients studied, 45% of those with active tuberculosis were at home. In concluding, Dr. Weidman said, "However we want to look at it, we do have a problem to face."

DR. WEIDMAN then opened the meeting for a discussion of rehabilitation services available and of possible future services. Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, Supervisor of Nurses, Newton Health Department, reported that as of February 28, Newton had 12 patients hospitalized for active tuberculosis, while 20 cases, considered to be active, were at home. In addition, there were 121 cases inactive less than 5 years, 85 inactive more than 5 years, and 19 cases of extra-pulmonary tuberculosis. This is a total of 238 pulmonary cases and 19 extra-pulmonary cases of tuberculosis in Newton in the active files of the Newton Health Department.

The Visiting Nurses Association has been making a steadily increasing number of visits to tuberculosis patients on chemotherapy, reported Miss Katherine MacDonald, executive director. She added that in 1955 the Visiting Nurses Association made 769 visits to 29 tuberculosis patients.

AT THE conclusion of the discussion the group felt that there is a need now to make an accurate study of the rehabilitation problems in Newton, and it was recommended that steps be taken to organize a study and discussion group.

Among those participating in the discussions were Mr. Thomas Brown, Director of Rehabilitation, Middlesex Health Association; Mr. George Wattendorf, Director Disability Assistance, Newton Welfare Department; Mrs. Eleanor Evison, Family Service Bureau; Miss Doris Johnson, Director of Rehabilitation, Massachusetts Tuberculosis and Health League; Mr. William Rowell, Assistant Director, Massachusetts Tuberculosis and Health League; Dr. R. Emerson Sylvester; Dr. Henry W. Godfrey, Acting Health Officer, Newton Health Department; Mrs. Ernest Kuebler; and Norma Solimene, Executive Director of the Newton Tuberculosis Association.

Others attending the meeting were Mrs. James Denning; Mr. Richard Kaerwer, Dr. Leslie MacMillan, Mrs. Henry Plimpton, Mrs. F. H. Fowle, Miss Mildred Moore, and Mrs. Gordon Pinkham, all members of the Board of Directors, Newton Tuberculosis Association; Mrs. Claire Erlanson, Rehabilitation Counselor, Middlesex Health Association; Miss Cornelia M. Anderson, Family Service Bureau; Mrs. Ruth McGregor, Social Service Department, Newton-Wellesley Hospital; Mr. John J. Burnes, Supervisor, Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, Massachusetts Department of Public Health; Dr. Wilmer P. Heath, member Newton Board of Health, and the staff nurses of the Health Department and Visiting Nurses Association.

ford University. Mr. Faust holds a BA degree from North Central College and M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in English from the University of Chicago.

His publications are many, including co-authorship of "Jonathan Edwards, 1935"; Emerson's Literary Theory and Practice," and "From Edwards to Emerson" in 1945.

Mr. Faust's appearance on the Saturday program promises to bring a record turnout to take an active part in the conference.

Mrs. James Zimmer, chairman of Newton's White House Conference on Education and the committees under her jurisdiction have left no stones unturned in bringing to Newton one of the most outstanding group of speakers and educators to be found in New England, who will head the Friday evening meeting on March 16.

The Friday evening session of the Conference will open at 8 p.m. at the High School Auditorium.

THE SUBJECT "What should our Schools Accomplish?" will be ably presented by three outstanding educators speaking in the interest of public, parochial and private schools.

Dr. Limwood W. Chase will speak for public schools. Dr. Chase is well known in New England educational circles as the Dean of Education at Boston University. He is a graduate of Aroostook, Maine, State Normal School, received his A.B. at the University of Maine.

His A.M. and Ph.D. at Columbia University and his LL.D. at the University of Maine. His educational service, from teaching as a "one room" school teacher and as teacher and principal in both elementary and secondary schools, also as a superintendent of schools, qualifies him as an outstanding personality to speak on the chosen subject.

Speaking for the parochial schools will be Prof. Brassil Fitzgerald. Prof. Fitzgerald attended Boston College and received his A.B. and M.A. at Arizona; taught English at Utah and Montana, also at University of Massachusetts. He is the Professor of English at Stonehill College at North Easton, Mass. He is also noted for his magazine articles and has authored two books.

IN THE interest of private schools, on the subject "What Should Our Schools Accomplish?" Dr. Francis Parkman will speak. Dr. Parkman is known as an outstanding citizen and educator in the secondary system of education. He is the executive secretary of the National Council of the Independent School and former headmaster of St. Mark's school.

Other highlights of the Friday evening session will be the presentation of the Newton delegates to the Washington White House Conference on Education. They are Mrs. Irene Thresher, Mr. Haskell Freedman and Mr. Joseph Kaplan. Audience participation will be in the question period following the speakers.

The Saturday session of the conference will open at 9:15 a.m.

EVERY NEWTON Taxpayer, Resident and Parent of Children in Private, Public or Parochial Schools should definitely plan to attend this Saturday program. The morning session will consist of four discussions on the following subjects: "Teachers—Winning and Holding Good Teachers"; "Finance — Our Choice — Standards Down or Up;" "Buildings — How Many High School for Newton;" "What About Our Obsolete Schools;" "General—Some Other School Problems." This is your opportunity to voice your expressions and opinions on these subjects.

At one o'clock, a well-menued luncheon will be served to those citizens who send in their reservations. Do this as soon as possible for only 1000 persons can be served. The luncheon program is under the direction of Mrs. Frederick Wood. Luncheon guests will have the opportunity of hearing Dr. Clarence H. Faust deliver his address on "Education Is Everybody's Business." It is expected that Dr. Faust will present a new approach to the problems that the conference will be considering. It has been his position that education must capitalize on intelligence wherever it is found, and that the idea of having teachers only teach our youth is to be challenged. Also that greater assistance is needed from industry, business and the professions. In the future, education will not be just teaching and studying in the common pattern. These are just a few of the things which Dr. Faust believes are certain to emerge.

THE AFTERNOON session will be under the direction of Mr. Harold Wooster and the well known Dr. Wendell Yeo.

Attending the two-day conference will be Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., of Newton, many dignitaries from the Commonwealth, together with the Newton board of aldermen, the school committee, and many executive heads of the City of Newton.

THE INVOCATION at the Friday evening session will be given by Bishop Eric F. MacKenzie, auxiliary Bishop of Boston. At the Saturday session the blessing will be given by Dr. Ross Cannon, Minister of the Second Congregational Church, West Newton, and the benediction will be given by Rabbi Murray I. Rothman of Temple Shalom, West Newton.

In addition to the programmed speakers for the Newton White House Conference on Education, the community is fortunate in having a high concentration of knowledgeable members who have agreed to lend their special talents to the conference as Discussion Leaders and Resource People or Consultants.

DISCUSSION Leaders will be Mr. A. G. Asaff, Mr. Fabian Bachrach, Jr., Mr. Wendell Bauckman, Mr. Joel Bloom, Mr. Chester Boyden, Mr. Peter Coogan, Mr. William A. ton's own representatives in the State Government.

At the ceremonies in the stadium, it is expected that scrolls made by students in the 35 schools of the city and bound in book form will be presented Miss Albright.

Dr. Hollis L. Albright, Tenley's father, said that she will make no public appearances anywhere until the official Newton homecoming celebration. He welcomed the ten-day interval as an "opportunity for Tenley to get some much deserved rest."

IN THE PARADE, Tenley will be seated in a huge ice skate on a float, symbolic of her Olympic victory. She will be flanked by two youngsters who serve as her aides at the Skating Club.

Many Greater Boston units will participate in the Welcome Home Parade, including the Army Band and the Navy Band. There will be Color Guards from all the various Newton Veteran organizations as well as units from the Boston College R.O.T.C. and the Red Cross.

OTHER UNITS will include the Gate of Heaven Band, Drill Team and Drum and Bugle Corps of South Boston; Blessed Sacrament Drill Team and Band of Cambridge; Christ Episcopal Church of Quincy Band; also from Quincy will be the St. John's Drill Team and President's Drill Team, St. Brendan's Drill Team of Allston, Waltham American Legion Band led by Dorothy Slamin Hill. From Newton there will be the High School band, the Newton Honor Guard, and units from the National Guard. In addition to Tenley's float, there will be floats by the Newton Chamber of Commerce and other participating groups.

There will be an old-time steam-pump fire engine, plus a number of antique automobiles which will move along under their own power.

THE PUBLIC of the city is cordially invited to attend the exercises at Dickinson stadium, as well as the parade along the route, and officials hope that a large throng will be present to honor Tenley Albright, the young lady who has brought so much fame, not only to herself, but to her native city as well by her achievement at the Olympic games.

$470,000 on Hurricanes Connie, Diane and Ione.

THE THEME of this year's campaign is "On the Job . . . Join and Serve" and Chairman Maher emphasized that the Red Cross must be kept on the job.

As the volunteers ring bells, starting today and continuing throughout the month, the chairman said that these workers are the people in the front lines who are asking aid for all the persons whom the Red Cross will be required to help this year.

He estimated that for all the services given to people by the American Red Cross this year, the expenditures would come to about $167 per minute, 24 hours per day and 365 days per year.

Mr. Maher said that the lives of nearly one-half million Americans were directly affected by disaster during the last half of 1955 and for the Red Cross it was the costliest period in history of providing help to victims of catastrophes.

In the six months between July and December, the Red Cross gave aid to stricken families and small businessmen at an average rate of $150,000 a day. By the start of the new year, more than $27 million had been committed in 78 operations.

HE REITERATED that last year's unprecedented series of disasters struck a near crippling blow to Red Cross finances. The normal $4 million yearly allocation for disaster relief proved pitifully inadequate and was quickly exhausted. Another $16 million, contributed by the American people during the Eastern States Floods also was used up.

President Eisenhower has summed up the feelings of most Americans when he said, "This nation, its government and its people will continue to look to the American Red Cross for all those humane, friendly services that have done so much to improve community life and to maintain the well being of our neighbors in time of disaster and emergency."

Dr. Butler lived in Newton Centre in the closing years of his life, and his funeral service was held from the Newton Centre Church. The Lasell Reporter

"The Swan," a romantic comedy by the great Hungarian playwright Ferenc Molnar, was presented in Winslow Hall for a three-day stand with an all-girl cast under the direction of Miss Margaret Wethern, advisor to the Workshop Players, Lasell dramatics group.

"This is the play that I have wanted for years to show both to the campus and the community,' the director is quoted as saying, "and this seems to be the moment." For one thing, MGM is about to release a cinema version of the play, starring Alec Guiness, Grace Kelley, and Louis Jourdan. In addition, the recent much-publicized romance between an English princess and a commoner has created wide interest in this sort of compilication, which also furnishes the basis of the plot of "The Swan."

Molnar, who has some 60 books and more than 40 plays to his credit, is best known in this country for his "Lilliom," which was adapted by Rodgers and Hammerstein as the very successful "Carousel," and for "The Guardsman," in which Lunt and Fontanne enjoyed a long run. Nineteen of his plays have had Broadway productions, and at least one, "The Good Fairy," was recently given an impeccable showing on TV.

The presence of Miss May Sarton, distinguished American poet and novelist, at the Lasell Book Fair to be held on the campus Tuesday and Wednesday, March 20 and 21, is the latest development in plans for that occasion, according to an announcement just made by Miss Frances Atwood, College Librarian and chairman of the Fair.

Miss Sarton, who has only recently returned to this country from a Guggenheim Fellowship in Europe, was born in Belgium. She received her early training in the country, however, at the Shady Hill School and at Cambridge Latin — a period about which she has written a series of charming reminiscences in the "New Yorker" in past months.

She has been the recipient of numerous awards for her writing, including the Reynolds Lyric Award of the Poetry Society of America in 1952, and the $3000 Donnelly Fellowship from Bryn Mawr College in 1953.

A frequent contributor to the "New Yorker," "Harpers," and the "Atlantic," she has pulished four volumes of verse and five novels, her most recent, "Faithful Are the Wounds," having attracted wide attention as a penetrating study of the causes which led to the suicide some years ago of a prominent member of Harvard's department of English.

Other guests and speakers at the Book Fair, as previously announced, are Mrs. Emily P. Flint of the Atlantic Monthly Press, and Dr. Donald J. Winslow, chairman of the English department of the College of Liberal Arts, Boston University. The Book Fair is open to the public.

Seven Newton girls won recognition for their academic records during the past semester and are included on the current Dean's List just released by the College Recorder. They are Lorraine Hintlian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nubar Hintlian of 784 Commonwealth Avenue; Elizabeth Larrabee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Larrabee of 32 Auburndale Avenue; Lucille Narefs, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Narefs of 259 Jackson Street; Nancy Nash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Nash of 42 Tyler Terrace; Harriet King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell King of 102 Cedar Street; Nancy Tuthill, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth W. Tuthill of 15 Chaske Avenue; and Nancy Ziman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ziman of 110 Mandalay Road.

Lasell Workshop Players Present 'The Swan' for Auburndale P.T.A.

The Auburndale P.T.A. is sponsoring this production as part of their program of social "get togethers" for parents and friends in Auburndale. Warren Freeman is chairman of the program and Mrs. Thomas Hickey is in charge of ticket sales. General Admission is 75c and Reserved Seats are $1.25. Tickets may be procured from members of the P.T.A. Board or at the door the evening of the performance.

Pictured above are some of the Lasell Workshop Players, Lasell Junior College, who are in rehearsal for the three-act romantic comedy "The Swan" by Ference Molnar, author of more than 60 books and 40 plays. March 2 at eight o'clock, the play will be presented by the Players at Winslow Hall.

"The Swan" was chosen by the Players at this time, for three special reasons. Public interest has been stimulated by the impending release of a cinema version by M.G.M., starring Alec Guinness, Grace Kelly and Louis Jourdan. The story of the play in some respects parallels details of a Princess-commoner romance which captured the sympathy of the public during the past year. The play has a wide variety of challenging and interesting characterizations which have frequently been played by all-girl casts, and the Players have chosen to present the play in this fashion. The production is staged by Miss Margaret Wethern, drama instructor.

Costumes are by Brooks, New York, costumer of many Broadway productions.

"The Swan" opened on Broadway in October, 1923, with Eva La Gallienne in the role of the Princess Alexandra.

High School's Biggest Musical Event Next Friday and Saturday

Newton High School's biggest musical event takes place in the High School Auditorium Friday and Saturday, March 9 and March 10. Over three hundred students and faculty members participate to present the Spring Musical, a program of music, drama and dancing.

IN ADDITION to the two evening performances at 8:15, there is a matinee on Saturday at 10 a.m.

The musical this year is in three parts. The first part, an operetta, Cox And Box, is by Sir Arthur Sullivan.

Part two is dancing by girls in the Newton High School's modern dance groups in a program entitled "Shades in Rhythm." The color referred to in each song title will be reflected in the dancers' costumes. Some of the music is on records, some by the school dance band.

The third selection of the program is Gilbert and Sullivan's Trial By Jury. The music for Cox And Box and Trial By Jury will be provided by the high school orchestra.

FOR MANY YEARS Newton High has presented a Spring Musical; some of the productions have been Sing Out Sweet Land. The Student Prince, and last year's presentation, Rogers and Hammerstein's, Allegro.

All the participants, both performers and workers behind scenes are talented volunteers from student body and faculty. Tickets will be on sale the week before in students' home rooms.

Employees of Eight Newton Firms Honored at Dinner

Red Feather honored employees of eight Newton firms at an unprecedented employees award dinner held in the Hotel Statler, Boston, last Thursday.

Over 600 employee groups from companies, union members of AFL-CIO, independent unions, faculties of schools and colleges, and others received awards for achieving top per capita averages in giving to the 1956 Red Feather Campaign.

Newton groups honored were the employees of Datamatic Corporation, Newton Highlands; Beacon Plastics and New England Advertising Co., Newton Highlands; Doelcam Division of Minneapolis Honeywell Corporation, Newton; A. J. Felz Company, Newton Highlands; General Electric Company Lamp Service, Newton Highlands; Star Market, Newtonville and Chestnut Hill; Federal Civil Defense Administration, Newton Centre; Wm. Filene's Sons Co., Chestnut Hill.

Of the $6,464,101 raised for the support of Red Feather's 277 health and social welfare agencies, over $1,372,000 came from employees groups. Contributions via payroll deductions plans, in many instances. doubled, tripled and even quadrupled previous year's figures.

Joseph F. Dineen, famous Boston crime reporter, headlined the program as guest speaker at the award dinner.

Throughout his twenty-five years as crime reporter for the Boston Globe, Mr. Dineen has covered almost every major crime in New England. When he is not writing about crime, he is writing about politics, also his specialty. "Ward Eight," his study of one single Ward in Boston is now required reading in Government courses at Harvard, Yale and other colleges. He is also the author of "The Anatomy of a Crime," patterned on Boston's famous Brink's case.

Among other speakers were Joseph W. Lund, Red Feather campaign chairman for 1957, and Hugh Thompson AFL-CIO leader. Joseph A. Erickson, United Community Services' community fund division chairman, and president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, was master of ceremonies.

Entertainment was provided by the Bunker Hill Billies, teenage hill billy band from Charlestown Boys' Club, and a group of square dancers from Boston Girls' Club, both Red Feather agencies.

"How much extra is there in extra-curricular activities" is the topic to be discussed at the Bowen School P. T. A. meeting, Wednesday evening, March 7, 1956.

Dr. Walter Toman, assistant professor of psychology at Brandeis University, will discuss the role of extra-curricular activity in child's life.

Miss Agnes Sweeney, Bowen third grade teacher, will report for the faculty on their impressions on these activities and their effect on the children at Bowen.

Mr. Edward Clarke, principal, will moderate the question period.

This has been a much discussed topic at the Bowen School and a P. T. A. Committee is at work on a survey to find out what children are participating outside of the school curriculum.

Refreshments will be served following the discussion.

Performances will be given at 1:30 and 3:00 p.m. Some tickets for the 3:00 performance are still available and will be sold at the door. Contact Mrs. Morton Braun (Decatur 2-9375), chairman of the theatre program series, for information.

Newton Players to Present 'Double Door' Mar. 2 and 3

Newton Players will offer as its second production of the 1955-56 season, "Double Door," a three-act play by Elizabeth McFadden, under the direction of Maude Graham Higgins.

Members and friends of the Newton Players will have some tense moments as the actors reveal the selfish and murderous objectives of a domineering member of a wealthy New York family.

Under the supervision of W. Hunter Perry Jr., the Workshop Craftsmen have assembled a stage setting and properties suggestive of the sinister aspects of the plot.

There will be three performances at the Beethoven School in Waban—Thursday, March 1, Friday, March 2, and Saturday, March 3, at 8:30 p.m.

Mayor Urges All Citizens To Join In Conference

"The people of Newton will gather on March 16 and 17 at a Newton White House Conference on Education to consider together the future of education as it affects them, their children and their schools: public, parochial and private.

"In this complex world, we are going to need citizens of the highest calibre we can develop. The role our schools must play in shaping such citizens is self-evident. In a democracy, the people must make the decisions about their educational systems. To do so intelligently, they must be informed and they must discuss their problems together and plan solutions for them. They must honestly appraise the costs as well as the benefits, the failures with the accomplishments.

"All over the country in thousands of communities, people are holding "Little White House Conferences" in compliance with President Eisenhower's request that "citizens sit down together to discuss their educational problems" since it is in the home towns of the nation that the problems must be solved. Governor Herter has echoed the President's wish.

"As Mayor of the City of Newton, I urge our citizens to interest themselves in this conference as a first step in a fruitful association of all the people toward the ultimate solution of their problems."

Nancy Carr, Lyric Soprano, to Be Soloist at Home Concert

MISS NANCY CARR

Tuesday, March 13, at 8:15 p.m., the Highland Glee Club of Newton will give its second home concert of the 1955-56 season in the Newton High School Auditorium.

The club will present as guest artist Miss Nancy Carr, lyric soprano, a beautiful woman with a beautiful voice. Miss Carr is both chic and charming in her personality and in her art, and combines the triple attributes of thrilling vocal ability, stage presence, and command of her repertoire.

Because she is the epitome of that new and refreshing phenomenon of the American musical scene—a young and exceptionally pretty concert singer—Miss Carr has acquired a large and devoted public, via radio, TV, symphony and oratorio performances and recitals. Star of her own Mutual network radio program, "The Enchanted Hour," regularly featured soloist with "The Chicago Theatre of the Air," and guest soloist of the West Coast "Standard Hour" and DuMont's TV program, "This is Music," Miss Carr naturally has been "good box office' in her many recital and orchestral engagements. The fact that she has been chosen as soloist by such an outstanding conductor as Bruno Walter, who has chosen to present her for three consecutive seasons with the Chicago Symphony, is sufficient indication of the calibre of her talent. She also has recently appeared as soloist with the orchestras of Cincinnati, Minneapolis, and Atlanta.

The program of the Highland chorus, which is the 104th subscription performance in an active forty-eight season, will be conducted by D. Ralph Maclean and will be accompanied by Jet Turner at the piano. The selections have been well chosen for such singing appeal, difficulty, and listening pleasure as to display the club talent to an always receptive audience.

These concerts are open to the public as well as the sponsoring membership, and tickets may be obtained from active members or at the box office.

Behind The TV Screen

By LARRY WITTE

Roy Rogers and Dale Evans, stars of NBC-TV's Roy Rogers Show, were honored by the Masquers' Club in Hollywood at a testimonial dinner last week, and received the George Spelvin Actors' Award for their humanitarian services.

Pat Buttram, Gene Autry's comic sidekick, was master of ceremonies. Stars previously honored with the award include Ronald Colman, Laurence Olivier, Jane Wyman and George Gobel.

SHORT CIRCUITS: Think Nancy Berg has a soft job lolling about in bed for a few minutes each evening on her NBC-TV program? Walter Slezak spends the entire last scene of his Broadway ht, "Fanny," in bed for about 15 minutes and during the more than 500 performances of the musical he's been tucked-in onstage for the equivalent of over five full days! . . .

CBS Radio is lining up a great many new top-drawer drama programs on popular request. They are bringing back the wonderful CBS Radio Workshop series on Friday nights; "Indictment," a series based on the experiences of the New York District Attorney's office, to be heard Sunday nights, and another Sunday night drama will be a Western entitled "Fort Laramie." . . . Accordionist Dick Contino makes his acting debut, Feb. 16, on NBC-TV's Video Theatre . . .

We hope that some recording company is smart and alert enough to sign Dinah Shore, Gisele MacKenzie, Stubby Kaye and Johnny Silvers in their parody of the popular "Sixteen Tons." Their version, which gives a housewive's view of 16 pounds of laundry and the husbands lament at being 16 years married, would keep the song on the Hit Parade for at least another six months!

THIS AND THAT: Kate Smith has postponed her Ed Sullivan Show appearances until Ted Collins returns from a month and a half stay in the hospital . . .

Jack Barry's "Life Begins at 80" returns to the Saturday night lineup on ABC-TV after just a short time off the air . . . Guy Mitchell told Peter Potter's nationwide CBS "Juke Box Jury" audience that he rebelled against recording "Ninety-Nine Years" for Columbia records. Now it's selling like hotcakes . . . Speaking of records, wait'll you hear Sammy Davis Jr.'s Decca platter of "The Man With the Golden Arm." A brilliant rendition of the title song of Frank Sinatra's United Artists motion picture . . .

Will Rogers, Jr., is slated to emcee CBS-TV's Morning Show . . . Jackie Gleason has signed comic Jack Carter as permanent emcee of CBS-TV's "Stage Show." . . . The Methodist Church launches a tv film series next month titled "The Way."

LIVE WIRES: Bobby Diamond, the eleven-year-old actor who plays the role of Joey n NBC-TV's "Fury" series, started his acting career four years ago at the Bliss Hayden Theatre, in Los Angeles. He appeared in the popular play "Goodbye Again." Bobby not only has a number of plays to his credit, but has been in great demand as a television thespian . . .

One of the highspots of Marion Marlowe's performance at the plush Eden Roc Hotel in Miami Beach is her rendition of "Begin the Beguine," one of the tunes Arthur Godfrey liked when he heard her sing at another Florida hotel five years ago and invited her to join his radio-TV troupe . . . Jack Lemmon, Raymond Massey, Lillian Gish and Charles Laughton will headline CBS-TV's Star Jubilee on Feb. 11 when "The Day Lincoln Was Shot" will be presented . . .

Motion picture producer Lester Cowan and composer Ann Ronell, one of the top-ranking husband-wife teams in show business, have been signed by NBC to create and produce a number of color TV Spectaculars. First is to be based on life and songs of Stephen Foster called "Oh! Susanna." . . . CBS-TV's "Pricate Secretary," starring Ann Sothern, starts its 4th year on the network starting Feb. 5. Show alternates with Jack Benny's show.

RADIO - TV NEWSREEL: NBC-TV presents a "Festival of Music," produced by S. Hurok, on "Producers' Showcase" Jan. 30. Marian Anderson leads a string of nine other artists . . . ABC-TV's Wyatt Earp (Hugh O'Brian) will make a guest appearance on Danny Thomas' "Make Room for Dad dy." . . . Jon Hall will be seen in a new telefilm series, "Knight of the South Seas." . . .

TV pioneer Dr. Allen B. Du Mont celebrates his 55th birthday on Jan. 29 . . . Bob Hope's Feb. 7 show on NBC-TV will emanate from Paris and London . . . Balladeer-composer Tom Scott is doing all the original music for CBS-TV's excellent "Camera Three" series. Scott is one of television's greatest composer-arrangers . . . Laurence Olivier's "Richard III" movie will be seen on NBC-TV, Sunday, March 11. Telecast is reported to be costing $350,000.

Improving Soil Will Help Combat Shade Tree Sickness

An increasing number of shade tree troubles, when traced back to first cause, is found to have origin below ground level.

The drama of a tree from ground up is easily observed by following the seasons. Just as much drama lies in a tree's labyrinth of root network. But it is unseen and frequently little understood.

It is here that many external evidences of tree troubles, from dead twig to vapid leaf, have beginning, says Dr. Philip L. Rusden, pathologist of the Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories.

Now specialists in tree ailment diagnosis are giving this area of tree increased attention, and for good reason.

Seldom have so many climatic and environmental factors conspired to affect roots of trees, each leaving cruel, abiding marks. Several years of successive drought and heat have seared or cooked vital rootlets. Longstanding flood waters last fall denied muchneeded soil aeration and some rootlets atrophied and died. Freakish winter with alternating deep-freeze cold and unseasonable thaw put others out of kilter.

Added to this is a progressive depletion of soil nutrients going on in most every suburb. Countless shade trees are trying to exist on a starvation diet. Construction of houses, laying of water and gas pipes, roadways and sidewalks all injuriously disturb roots of nearby growing trees. Often the water table is changed and grade altered without the tree owner's knowledge. Several years later troubles begin to pile up.

Soil improvement is the only answer. Feed trees to counteract poor soil conditions, to give a tree a vigorous diet, to help it overcome effects of drought, flood and frost, to cut down on invasion of fungi and other diseases that inevitably come in the wake of weakness. Feed liberally.

Then mulch the trees. Mulching equalizes soil temperature, winter and summer, helps retain soil moisture and aids in normalizing soil aeration.

Facts About the 1956 Heart Fund

NEW YORK—The American Heart Association sponsors the Heart Fund through its 56 affiliates, most of them organized on a statewide basis. General Mark Clark, former Commander-in-Chief of the Far East, is chairman of the 1956 Heart Fund Drive being conducted in thousands of communities throughout the United States.

The Heart Fund drive opened February 1 and will continue through February 29. High point of the drive will be Heart Sunday, February 26, when volunteers throughout the nation will call on their neighbors for contributions for the Heart Fund.

"Help Your Heart Fund—Help Your Heart" is the 1956 slogan. The Heart Fund supports research, education and community heart programs aimed at reducing disability and death from the heart and blood vessel diseases.

On the funds raised, the larger portion remains in the area of collection to support the programs of the state and local Heart Associations. The remainder goes to advance nationwide research, education and community service programs of the American Heart Association.

National Programs

The three major national programs of the Heart Association are Research, Education, and Community Services.

More than 13,000,000 Heart Fund dollars have been channeled into research during the past seven years by the American Heart Assn. and its affiliates. Among the foremost research objectives is discovery of the basic causes of rheumatic fever, high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries which are responsible for most heart disease.

The professional education program brings the latest research knowledge to practicing physicians. The public education program brings the essential facts about the heart diseases to the layman, helps to eliminate misconceptions and needless fears, and encourages early diagnosis and treatment.

The aim of the community service program is to guard healthy hearts and to better enable heart sufferers to continue as productive members of society. The Heart Association is not a direct-aid organization; it helps people to help themselves.

The American Heart Association, with its affiliated heart associations, is the only national voluntary health agency devoted exclusively to combating diseases of the heart and circulation. Its program is supported entirely by contributions from the public.

BACKYARD GARDENER

Alfred W. Boicourt, Extension Specialist in Horticulture, College of Agriculture, University of Massachusetts

Will your front yard be full of colorful flowers this year? I ask this question with the hope that some of you might plant a few floribunda or annual flowers to brighten the house and to add cheer to the whole community.

In our efforts to make our home attractive in both summer and winter, we have resorted to evergreens. This has resulted in a neater foundation planting that is easier to maintain but it often lacks seasonal interest.

Coming back through Hamilton, Ont., from our western trip last summer, we thoroughly enjoyed seeing flowers in practically every dooryard. Petunias, alyssum, verbena, ageratum, geraniums, salvia and zinnia were predominately used, both in front and back yards of the homes.

Since many annuals can be started from seed and grown directly in the soil in May, I am wondering if more of us shouldn't copy this wonderful custom of our Canadian neighbors.

For example, our dark-brown, shingled house needs additional color during the summer. Thus far, roses, Chinese delphinium and dwarf alyssum have been mainstays. One year I planted French marigolds along one side of my front walk. Last year I planted two dozen petunias in the same spot. By using annual flowers it is possible to change the color scheme each year.

If you plan to start flowers early indoors from seed, you should order the seeds today. Petunia, geranium, verbena and snapdragon plants are the exceptions and are best bought from your local florist at the time of planting.

Habit of 'Walking Blind' Hit By AAA School Safety Poster

"Alertness is a pedestrian's best defense against being struck by a car," says Richard W. Hoover, safety director for Massachusetts Division, American Automobile Association, in announcing that the February AAA school safety poster urges children to "Look All Ways Before Crossing."

Quoting from a study made by the Triple-A, Hoover said "more than 60% of all pedestrians run down by motor vehicles, who lived to tell about it, reported that they never saw what hit them."

Looking in both directions before leaving the curb is a habit that must be cultivated, the official said. "That is the reason we are devoting this month's poster to this safety lesson. If we can teach elementary school children always to look in all directions before crossing, it will become a habit that will stick with them for the rest of their lives."

The colorful February poster, which has been distributed to hundreds of schools in Eastern Massachusetts and throughout the United States, was drawn by Andrew Vinci, 13-year-old junior high student at Holy Family School, New Rochelle, New York.

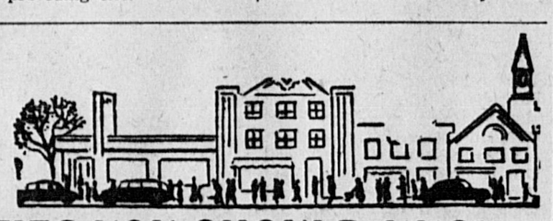

Andrew's poster won a first prize in the last Triple-A national traffic safety poster contest. Winners of this year's poster contest, which closed February 18th, will be announced around March first.

Legislators Warned Old Age Liberalization Requires Cash

Massachusetts legislators working with frenzy in election year to be as popular and well liked as a mischievous boy tries for a good conduct ribbon before Christmas, have been bluntly told to steer clear of liberalization of old age assistance benefits until they have the cash to pay the freight.

In a calm, realistic analysis of an emotional subject, Leo D. Bouthillier speaking for the Massachusetts Taxpayers Federation has analyzed only one day's grist of the mill on old age legislation to prove a need for slow action and deep thinking.

"In view of the fact that Massachusetts already has the fourth highest level of grants in the country, and is hard-pressed to meet the current expense of the state's share of those costs," the Taxpayers' spokesman said that caution is needed.

Discussing the three types of proposals for old age liberalization, scheduled for consideration in a single day, Bouthillier said that the bills to "make persons eligible for benefits at 60 rather than 65 fails to recognize the need for federal financing which would be lost under such a plan.

"The present minimum is 65 although the old age assistance law was amended some years ago to provide that whenever Congress reduces the eligibility age in the Social Security Act from 65 to 60, it would be applicable in the Commonwealth.

"The point is that if Massachusetts were to pay old age assistance grants to persons between 60 and 65, the total cost of such old age assistance would have to be borne by the state and the cities and towns because there would be no federal participation.

"It is impossible to say how many persons between 60 and 65 would avail themselves of Old Age Assistance if such a bill were passed. It is possible, therefore, to give only a hypothetical illustration of its possible cost.

"There are nearly 260,000 persons in the state over 60 and under 65. If just five per cent of those, or 13,000 were to ask for and received Old Age Assistance allowances equal to the present averages the total cost to the state, cities and towns would be about $11,000,000. The cost to the state would thus be near $8,000,000."

Commenting on proposals which would increase minimum grants to beneficiaries, Bouthillier stressed that "Legislation of this type is undesirable because it proposes a further departure from the needs measure upon which our present old age assistance law is based.

"If should be noted that if our old age assistance law is being properly and humanely administered, all elderly people who need more than $65 a month to live according to the standard budgets, are already receiving that amount. The only people who are receiving less than $65 are those who have other resources and who do not require as much as $65 to live on the state standards set up in the standard budget allowance administered by the department."

He spoke of the repeated demands of legislators to obtain additional funds for old age assistance beneficiaries by increasing allowances for such purposes as "transportation" and "recreational and cultural activities."

There is pending a proposal which would double the present $2.50 allowance for transportation and another to give a flat $5 for "recreational and cultural activities."

This past week there was a screech from legislators against the state welfare department because persons who are confined to rest homes—and supported by payments from the state's welfare money—are not getting the "transportation" allowance even though they never go anywhere.

When originally proposed the additional grant for transportation expenses was justified by its sponsors to provide carfares for the older people to get to and from Sunday church services in an era when public transportation facilities were increasing their rates.

Now it appears that the legislators believe that every person, regardless of actual use of such allowances for actual transportation, should be given the cash instead, and in many cases the public is paying over $25 a week to provide competent rest home care for the older people.

Bouthillier spoke of the annual request to extend old age benefits to aliens who have been residents of the United States for 25 years prior to making application for benefits.

"At the present time" he explained, "aliens in need of assistance are being taken care of under the general relief program. The full cost of public assistance for the aliens who are settled in the cities and towns of the Commonwealth is being borne by such cities and towns. For those not so settled the full cost is being borne by the Commonwealth. As the years go by, the number of cases which would be involved by an act of legislation such as this is constantly decreasing.

"The legislation can only be favored if the Legislature is ready and willing to increase the Commonwealth's appropriation for reimbursement to cities and towns sufficiently to bear the additional cost of this type of assistance."

Bake Sale To Be Held March 7

A Bake Sale will be held from noon to four o'clock Wednesday afternoon, March 7, through the courtesy of the management on the first floor of Grover Cronin's Waltham store. Sponsored by the Couples Club of the West Newton Untarian Church, the sale will help to augment the annual contribution of the club to the church.

Mrs. Philip W. Cranshaw, co-president, and Mrs. Robert L. Townsend, co-vice president of the Couples Club, head the committee for the Bake Sale. Both the West Newton Branch Alliance, of which Miss Margaret S. Ball is president, and the Evening Alliance, Mrs. Lloyd E. Morris, Jr., president, will cooperate on this benefit sale. Contributions of home-made cakes, pies, cookies and bread will be solicited from members of the West Newton Unitarian parish by a telephone committee, headed by Mrs. Stanley D. Krauss.

A special sandwich committee comprises Mrs. Cushing W. Ellis, Mrs. Nicholas P. Arenella and Mrs. Lloyd E. Morris.

Mrs. Cranshaw announces that the West Newton Unitarian parish house, 1326 Washington street, West Newton, will be open from seven to nine o'clock Tuesday evening, March 6, and again on Wednesday, March 7, from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. to receive the home-made delicacies for the Wednesday afternoon Bake Sale at Grover Cronin's. Mrs. John Ogden Fisher, wife of the minister of the First Unitarian Society in Newton, and several others, in addition to Mrs. Cranshaw and Mrs. Townsend, will act as salesladies at the Bake Sale.

Red Cross Plans Social Welfare Aides Course

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross is planning to conduct a training course for volunteer Social Welfare Aides according to an announcement made by Miss Lucy A. Turner, Chairman Social Welfare Aide Service for the Chapter. The class is scheduled to start early in March and will be held at the Chapter House, 21 Foster street, Newtonville.

The Social Welfare Aides are the basic link between members of the armed forces and their families at home. Personal problems or emergencies which arise during the serviceman's absence are referred to the Social Welfare Aides.

The Aides are also trained to assist the work of the Home Service Unit of Red Cross in time of local disaster.

The course will be given with the assistance of four teachers of the Metropolitan Chapter who will each cover one section of the work. They are Miss Isabel V. Travers, Case Work Supervisor; Miss Rita Quane, Disaster; Mrs. Lillian Vroom, Supervisor of Communications; and Miss Theodora Hubbard, Supervisor of Students, Metropolitan — Home Service Chapter.

Persons who complete the training course will merit a Red Cross Certificate.

Applicants for the course should apply to Miss Turner before March 1—Telephone LAsell 7-7024 or Chapter House LAsell 7-6000.

England Remains Jolly Despite Indignities of Commercial Television

After months of controversy the English public is at last being exposed to the indignities of commercial television. Mr. and Mrs. England for a few weeks now have been sitting in their cosy arm-chairs beside the blazing coal fire staring down their long critical noses at the restrained, oh-so-British TV hucksters.

We have made a flying trip to the "tight little Island" to get some first-hand reactions to this commercialization. The popular theory the commercials would lower the high standards set by BBC has long been bandied about by the uncharitable set in England, but so far it seems they were wrong, that is, if our interviews were typical of the average public response to the innovation.

Acting on the theory that a hospital would be a sure place to find a "trapped" audience, we visited the poor, bed-ridden fellow whose thoughtful relatives had given him a set. "Blimey," he said, "I like it fine, but comes visiting hours all I see is the backs of my thoughtful relatives' heads."

Although they all argued heatedly that only blooming idiots would watch commercials, it seemed, said the patient, they always were very quiet during the beastly things. Wistfully, the poor man wished he could someday see the fronts of people again. "I sometimes wish I'd never 'eard of the blinking TV," he told us as we were leaving.

This however, was a minority opinion, and most Englishmen seemed to like TV commercials as much as the "thoughtful relatives." Discounting those that catch you unawares, most commercials are now looked upon as a small entertainment in their own right.

Schweppes beverages, for instance, has an engagingly mad professor who discovers the liquid in the most outlandish places. Surf detergent features the voice of a certain Mrs. Bradshaw who is becoming vaguely famous despite the fact she is never seen.

Although England has many programs we do not, they also have some of our more well-known ones. Peter Black, of the London Daily Mail, has this to say of "Dragnet" and "I Love Lucy:" "Some of these shows achieve a silliness varying between the rousing and the soporific." And of our giveaways, he says, "These are an even less pleasing novelty. There are four of these varying in taste between the comparative restraint of 'Double Your Money' to the outrageous 'People Are Funny', which seems dedicated to proving that people are beastly."

Oh, come now, Peter old boy, t'ain't as bad as all that.

One question that entered our mind was this: "Will the introduction of commercial TV shatter the peace and dignity of England's stately old homes?" (Most of which, we learned, are drafty and mortgaged).

By a stroke of luck, we managed to catch Lord Chumley Ponsonby, of Ponsonby-on-the Notting, just before he left on a hunting trip.

Asked our question, he mumbled absent-mindedly, "All in favour — all in favour." And then, "Where did those blighters put my gun?"

At first we were worried that he intended to use the gun on TV sponsors, but no, that would't be cricket, he said. Lord Ponsonby's opinions of several shows might have startled a few critics. He thought "Dragnet" was charming—very charming." And he felt "I Love Lucy" was "so terribly sad."

After the good aristocrat left for the woods, his wife told us that "Chumley never watches the blooming thing." All that interests him is rabbits, she revealed. In fact, she said, his only contact with TV came one afternoon when the zoologial man was giving an illustrated lecture. His Lordship, returning from a hunt, happened to glance into the living room and he saw a big buck rabbit "through the window." He fired, scoring a direct hit.

"I made him buy me a new set the very next day," said Lady Ponsonby.

We decided "there'll always be an England" despite the sinister inroads of commercial television, and the well-known horrors of soap advertisements.

Old Age Aid Receivers In Tax Bracket

Beneficiaries who were entitled to old-age and survivors insurance payments in 1955 and whose total earnings for the taxable year were more than $1200 are obliged by law to file a report of their total earnings with the Social Security Administration early in 1956.

This reminder was given this week by Clement A. Derby, district manager of the Norwood social security office, who explained that this provision of the law applies to every person who was entitled to Social Security benefits in 1955 and who did not reach 72 years of age on or before January, 1955.

1955 was the first year in which a person entitled to benefits could earn up to $1200 in the year and still receive all his checks. For every $80 or fraction thereof that annual earnings exceeded $1200, however, one month's benefits must be withheld. It is necessary, therefore, that an annual earnings report be filed by each beneficiary whose earnings were more than $1200 during the year to enable the Social Security Administration to make a final and correct decision as to the number of checks due for 1955.

The report, which must include all wages or self-employment income or combination of both whether covered by social security or not, must be filed within two months and fifteen days after the end of the taxable year. This means that if you operate on a calendar year basis as most people do, you must file your report for 1955 on or before March 15, 1956. This is a separate report required by the Social Security Administration and is not to be confused with any reports required by the Director of Internal Revenue. Failure to file this earnings report on time, concluded Mr. Derby, could cause loss of benefits as there are penalties for late reporting.

Further information on this or other matters dealing with Social Security can be had by contacting the Social Security office at 661 Washington street, Norwood.

"Miracle" Drugs, Research Save Many TB Victims

"Brain fever," mumbled the mother when she brought her listless feverish child to the clinic.

"Tuberculosis meningitis" said the doctor when his thorough examination was completed.

Not long ago the diagnosis would have been the equivalent of — "no hope."

Today there is hope.

Paula, aged two, was hospitalized at the North Reading State Sanatorium. She was given the "miracle" drugs — isoniazid and streptomycin — and the best care that modern science can provide. Even so, all did not run smoothly. A serious complication appeared. Fortunately, it was detected in time and adequate measures taken before it was too late. Now Paula is definitely, if slowly, improving and all signs point to her being well enough to grab her stocking Christmas morning.

Dr. Claire W. Twinam, Superintendent of the North Reading State Sanatorium and a Director of the Middlesex Health Association, in telling the story of Paula yesterday, credited medical research with saving her life.

"Paula would have died a few years ago," he said. "There's nothing medical science could do to save the patient with tuberculosis which had attacked the meninges, or covering of the brain and spinal cord. Today, thanks to research, we have drugs which help the meningeal as well as the pulmonary tuberculosis patient.

"Furthermore, as a result of research conducted with the aid of a Christmas Seal grant, we have a test which can warn the doctor when a serious complication is developing in meningitis. This is the formation of an obstruction in the spinal fluid. If the flow of the fluid becomes completely blocked, death follows. But now we have a test which not only warns us of the danger, but indicates at what point the blockage is forming."

The test is known as the "sugar test" and was developed at Bellevue Hospital, New York City, by Dr. Jose Sifontes (now of Puerto Rico) and Dr. Edith M. Lincoln in studies made possible by a Christmas Seal research grant from the National Tuberculosis Association. The test reveals when the sugar content of the blood begins to rise — a sign that block is forming — whether in the upper or lower region of the spinal column. Specific treatment can be initiated at the strategic point to dissolve the obstruction — and prevent fatal consequences.

Paula's mother lives in an underprivileged section of the city. She does not speak our language well. She may not know much about research. But she knows her child lives.

Medical skill, bolstered by medical research supported by Christmas Seal funds, has opened the door to another Christmas for Paula.

Jazz Pianist In Concert At High School

At the recent assembly meeting of the High School Club, Miss Toshiko Akiyoshi, considered the world's most outstanding girl jazz pianist of Japan, was the guest celebrity. The Sophomore class was invited.

Larry Lipson, President of the Music Club, called the meeting to order. Following the Secretary's and Treasurer's reports, Mr. Henry Lasker, club advisor, introduced Mr. George Wein, founder and director of Storyville, impressario of jazz, and alumnus of N.H.S. and Mr. Lawrence Berk, founder and director of the Berklee School of Music in Boston. This school has granted Miss Akiyoshi a four year full scholarship because of her outstanding ability and musicianship.

The program consisted of a combination of piano solos by the guest celebrity accompanied by Marquis Foster on drums and Wyatt Reuther on bass both of Storyville, and a panel discussion relative to progressive jazz and to Miss Akiyoshi. The questions were submitted by members of the music class at N.H.S. These questions were read by Larry Lipson; the discussants were Mr. George Wein and Mr. Larry Berk, the moderator being Mr. Henry Lasker.

Miss Akiyoshi began her program with Melancholy Blues. The audience was then held spellbound by her imaginative rendition of Laura. Her next number was Tempus Fugit, a very lively and exhilerating piece. In both and in the following number, All the Things You Are, Miss Akiyoshi proved her knowledge both of classical music and progressive jazz. The concert ended with the playing of Just One of Those Things. The applause was overwhelming, indicative of the sincere appreciation of the audience for her superb skill and creative ability.

Miss Akiyoshi will appear on Frontiers of Faith, Sunday, February 26 at 9:30 a.m. over WBZ-TV, and on the Gary Moore Daytime Show on Fri., March 9.

YOUR INCOME TAX

by James R. Canavan,, C.P.A.

This is the fourth in a series of eight articles on Federal and State income taxes distributed by Boston Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants.

What expenses are classified as "other deductions" on the Federal return?

A partial list of expenses which are classified as "other deductions" follows:

1. Contributions
2. Interest
3. Taxes
4. Medical expenses
5. Child-care expenses for working mothers or widowers
6. Casualty losses
7. Miscellaneous expenses

What contributions may I deduct?

You may deduct the amount you contributed to most non-profit religious, charitable, educational, scientific, and literary organizations; to veterans' organizations; to societies for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals; to fraternal societies, orders or associations. If you contributed property rather than cash, you may deduct the fair value of the property. There is a limitation on your deduction, but the limitation rarely applies to the average taxpayer.

What interest may I deduct on my tax return?

You may deduct the interest paid on most loans if you are legally obligated to make the payment. This includes such items as the interest on a mortgage on your personal residence, interest on a personal loan, interest on an instalment purchase of a car, a television set, etc.

What taxes may I deduct?

Generally speaking, you may deduct all State and local taxes imposed upon and paid by you. You may not deduct Federal taxes or Massachusetts gift or inheritance taxes. Your State income tax, driver's license, motor vehicle registration fee, meal tax, State gasoline tax, State cigarette tax, State liquor tax, poll tax, local real estate and personal property taxes are typical of the taxes which you may deduct.

What are medical expenses?

A medical expense is an amount paid for the diagnosis, cure, treatment, mitigation or prevention of disease, or for the purpose of affecting any bodily function or structure. It also includes premiums paid for accident or health insurance. Fees paid to physicians, surgeons, dentists, Christian Science practitioners, nurses (including nurses' board), chiropodists, chiropractors, therapeutists, and osteopaths; the cost of artificial teeth, eyeglasses (including examination), drugs and medical supplies (including vitamins prescribed by a doctor), hearing aids, etc., are considered medical expenses.

My wife and I are under 65. May I deduct all of our medical expenses?

No. Your deduction is limited to that portion of the medical expenses which exceeds 3 per cent of your "adjusted gross income." However, in computing medical expenses, amounts paid for medicine and drugs are considered only to the extent that they exceed 1 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

Example: A taxpayer had "adjusted gross income" in 1955 of $6,000. His expenditures for medicines and drugs were $200, and for all other medical expenses, $500. The total medical expenses, for tax return purposes, would be $640. ($500 plus the expenditures for medicines and drugs in excess of 1 per cent of $6,000, or $140.) The taxpayer is entitled to a deduction of $460. ($640 minus 3 per cent of $6,000, or $180).

What are the maximum deductions for medical expenses?

The deduction for each exemption (excluding the additional exemptions for age and blindness) is limited to $2,500. On a separate return the maximum deduction may not exceed $5,000; on a joint or head-of-household return the maximum deduction may not exceed $10,000.

My wife is 65. May I deduct all of the medical expenses?

The three per cent limitation does not apply to you or your wife. This means that you may deduct, subject to the maximum deduction allowable, all of the medical expenses paid by you in 1955 for the care of yourself and your wife. If you paid medical expenses for a dependent, you may deduct only that part of these expenses which exceed three per cent of your "adjusted gross income." In computing medical expenses, amounts paid for medicines and drugs are considered only to the extent that they exceed 1 per cent of your "adjusted gross income."

1956 Plymouths Keynote Safety Features, Style

Plymouth President John P. Mansfield pointed out this week that the new models incorporate major advances in every phase of automobile design, with special emphasis on engine performance, safety and aerodynamic styling. The new Plymouths are on display at Muzi Motors, 557 Highland avenue, Needham Heights.

Plymouth has a wholly new engine for 1956. It is a more powerful Hy-Fire V-8 with a polysphere combustion chamber design, a 277 cubic inch displacement and an 8 to 1 compression ratio.

Other major innovations include:

Airfoil rear fenders which emphasize and contribute to the aerodynamic feeling of the new models.

A push button drive selector for Plymouth's PowerFlite automatic transmission.

New 90-90 Turbo-Torque PowerFlite on V-8 models. Ninety degree angles at the inlet and outlet blades of the torque converter impeller give faster breakaway performance.

A new four-door Hardtop (Sport Sedan) with an ingenious rear window operating mechanism allowing full side vision for all passengers.

MRS. BERYL MASTERS

Missionary To Speak Here Next Wednesday

Mrs. Beryl B. Masters, missionary from Southern Rhodesia, Africa, will be principal speaker at a luncheon meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service to be held at the Newtonville Methodist Church March 7 at 12:30. Mrs. Masters' world was completely smashed in the short space of 22 days when polio killed her four-year-old daughter and her doctor husband, and seriously crippled her and her two-year-old son.

In May 1952 Mrs. Masters and Michael, both paralyzed from the waist down, and her two older sons, untouched by the disease, were flown from Umtali Hospital in Rhodesia to Boston, by the American Board for Foreign Missions. The two older boys were taken into the care of the Walker Missionary Home in Auburndale, and Mrs. Masters and Michael went to the Warm Springs Foundation for special polio treatment.

After seven months at Warm Springs, Mrs. Masters and Michael came back to Auburndale, where a house had been especially equipped to make it easy for the manipulation of wheelchairs by men and women of surrounding churches, who had painted, papered, and furnished the little home.

Now Mrs. Masters keeps house for herself and three sons from her wheelchair and also has been training as a laboratory technician at Newton-Wellesley Hospital. The same spirit of faith and confidence which carried them through the trying days in Africa is now displayed by her as she faces an unknown future.

Torrid Tag Team Match Saturday

A torrid tag team match, with arch rivals Irish Pat Sullivan and badman Buddy Lee in opposite corners, will feature the Burns-Kerr Legion Post's weekly wrestling program at the West Newton Armory Saturday night.

In recent weeks, Sully and Lee hae been carrying on a lively vendetta. Saturday night, Sully will be partnered by Emile Dupres, a rugged young man from Moncton, N.B. Lee will be paired with veteran ring rogue Les Ruffin of Chicago.

The Armory has been the scene of three Sullivan-Lee contests this year. The first two failed to go the distance because of injuries to each wrestler. Saturday night, Lee triumphed.

Adding lustre to Saturday's card is the co-feature pitting June Grable, colorful hillbilly from Waycross, Ga., against the one and only Slave Girl Moolah, queen of the world's junior heavies. Judging from the manner in which Miss Grable made short work of Jean Hogan last Saturday night, she'll provide Moolah with all the opposition she can handle.

Initiating the program at 8:30 p.m. will be a match between Frank Shields of Boston and up-and-coming Tarzan Bolo of French Morocco.

Col. Gibson Now At Air-Ground Liaison School

Col. George W. Gibson, 145 Collins road, Waban, will leave this week for a training period at Southern Pines, No. Carolina, where he will attend Air-Ground Liaison School.

Chief of Staff of the 94th Infantry Reserve Division, Col. Gibson has attended the Guided Missile School and upon completion of this second phase of training will be accredited as an expert on the subject.

An insurance broker in civilian life, Col. Gibson will accompany the 94th's key personnel on the weekend Operation Raindrop exercise at Camp Kilmer, N. J., early in April. At that time his training in guided missile warfare will be put to good use. "Raindrop" is an atomic warfare exercise geared to prepare the nation's reserve units in the event of a national emergency.

Newtonite of the Week

LEWIS PAUL SIMONS

This week the Graphic is proud to salute Lawrence Kramer of 28 Samoset road, Waban.

Mr. Kramer has been chosen for this week's column because I feel he is a good example of the high calibre of young people who are moving into our community. He is a man with great potential, and if we are to use the past as a measuring stick for the future then his will be very bright.

For the past three years Mr. Kramer has been Director of Programs for the Massachusetts Heart Association. With his guidance the health education department of that organization has become a useful service to the communities of Greater Boston.

Mr. Kramer has been instrumental in developing two programs here in Massachusetts which have gained wide public acceptance, namely the Heart of the Home and the Rheumatic Fever Programs.

Heart of the Home was developed to teach the cardiac housewife the most efficient manner of caring for her home. Classes given by the Heart Association show how work simplification methods can be applied to every facet of housework.

The Rheumatic Fever Prevention program is particularly heart-warming because of the hope it brings. Research into rheumatic heart disease has shown that this affliction can in many instances be prevented or controlled. Knowledge such as this is useless if it is not disseminated to the general public. A program which does this must be well planned, effectively presented and accurately defined. Mr. Kramer has done this with skill and competance.

Recently Mr. Kramer has helped to bring into being a Teacher's Guide for the child with rheumatic heart disease. This Guide will do much to help teachers understand and successfully handle the classroom problems of such youngsters.

Mr. Kramer has a fine educational background. He did his undergraduate work in History at Antioch College in Ohio, and received his Master's Degree from Harvard University's Department of Chinese Regional Studies. Mr. Kramer was a History Instructor at Antioch and later a Teaching Fellow at Harvard. A paper written by him at Harvard is currently in the process of being published.

Mr. Kramer's prowess is not all confined to the academic. He is an avid and proficient tennis player as is testified to by the Belmont Tennis Singles Championship he won in 1953.

My observations about Larry Kramer are simple. He is a bright young man, self-disciplined and capable. His past performance is excellent; his future is good. If young men like him continue to settle in Newton, our city will continue to be the fine community it has always been.

Paid Greatest Tribute Ever Given In City

Newton's own Tenley Albright last Sunday received perhaps the greatest and warmest reception ever accorded her when approximately 50,000 of her friends, neighbors and admirers turned out to greet her in a home-coming celebration staged officially by the city.

TENLEY is wearing a little gold heart on her charm bracelet today, the gift of her native city. But more indelible undoubtedly will be the memory of the warm and spontanious outburst of welcome which she received all along the parade route. It was indeed a memor-

Harvard-Newton Summer Program to Open July 2

Six Greater Boston school systems this week begin signing up pupils for an unusual summer school — designed to help every kind of student learn that schoolwork can be exciting.

From the public schools of Belmont, Brookline, Concord, Newton, Weston and Winchester, a total of more than 500 pupils will be able to attend the six-week summer session in Newton.

CALLED the Harvard-Newton Summer Program, the school is planned cooperatively by the six towns and the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

The school will be operating for the second year. This summer it will be expanded to include all grades from the 3rd to the 10th, according to the program director, Associat Dean Judson T. Shaplin of the School of Education. Pupils will be selected to represent a normal cross-section of the total school populations as to ability and achievement.

Under the guidance of a faculty of 30 "master teachers," the pupils will study basic subjects like English, Social Studies, Mathematics and Science, and work in such fields as art, music, and folk dancing.

The "master teachers" are selected from schools and colleges throughout the East and Midwest. Assisting them — and helping them provide each pupil with concentrated individual attention — will be some 100 teacher trainees. They are graduates of liberal arts colleges all over the country, and some 60 of them will be teaching next year in the schools of the six communities, as well as in Lexington, Natick, and Wellesley, under a new Harvard "internship" program. This allows the train-

193 Pints of Blood Secured In Newtonville

The Newton Chapter American Red ross is proud to announce that Newtonville has broken a record set by Waban on January 28, 1955. On that date the Bloodmobile visited Waban and 181 pints of blood were collected.

A splendid turnout from the employees of Doelcam Corporation, Datamatic Corporation, Jarrell-Ash Company, National Research Corporation, New England Telephone & Telegraph, Newton Teachers' Federation, Stowe-Woodward, Inc. as well as from the residents of Newton, resulted in the procuring of 193 pints of blood on February 29th at St. John's Episcopal Church in Newtonville.

The Chapter hopes that a comparable number of volunteer donors will note that the Bloodmobile's next visit will be

Procedure for Summer School Is Announced

Parents of school children in Newton are being informed of the following procedure for admittance to the 1956 Harvard-Newton Summer School as follows:

First make application. Application forms describing the program can be ootained in the office of the school which your child attends, and should be returned to that office.

An enrollment form will be sent to parents promptly upon receipt of the application if the application is approved by Mr. Blaisdell, Principal of the Harvard-Newton Summer School. A pupil is not in the 1956 program until he is enrolled.

Parents who have already made application prior to March 8, will receive an enrollment form not later than March 8, if application has been approved. They must be returned promptly to assure admittance.

Applications after March 8 will be considered in order of receipt, and enrollment forms will be forwarded promptly to the parent if the application is approved.

Enrollment will continue until Newton's quota is filled. Newton's quota is 318 pupils or 39 pupils per grade, 3 through 10.

"World Politics" Discussions to Begin March 13

Mrs. Mitchell Marcus announces that the "World Politics" discussion series, with newly revised reading materials, will be offered in Newton this March. The ten successive discussion meetings will be held on Tuesday evenings from 8-10 p.m. in Library Hall at the Newtonville Branch Library beginning March 13. The "World Politics" Program, as Newton residents may recall, is administered by the American Foundation for Political Education, a non-partisan and non-profit corporation.

PARTICIPANTS find that the "World Politics" series provides an opportunity for those interested in political problems to study vital questions such as the relationship of the state and the individual, domination and the causes of war. Three volumes of selected readings are provided for each participant and include writings by Henry Thoreau, John Locke, Alexis de Toqueville, Abraham Lincoln, Albert Einstein, Joseph Stalin, Walter Lippmann, Franklin Roosevelt and others. The two hour discussion sessions, which are led by trained co-leaders, are based on the reading materials. At the first meeting in Newton on March 13, the "World Politics" group will examine President Eisenhower and Sir Winston Churchill's Joint Declaration of June 1954 which states "we believe that the cause of world peace would be advanced by general and drastic reduction under effective safeguards of world armaments of all classes and kinds." Participants may consider whether or not they think armament reduction would improve the prospects for peace as well as other international questions referred to in this document.

City Tops Middlesex County In March of Dimes Campaign

Newton has topped Middlesex County in contributing funds to the 1956 March of Dimes. The Newton March of Dimes Committee raised a record-breaking total of $34,546.08 during the January campaign. A capacity crowd of 500 March of Dimes fund-raising leaders from 53 Middlesex County communities accorded the 22-member Newton delegation a thumping ovation when the total was announced at the recent report dinner at Hotel Continental, Cambridge.

NEWTON TOPPED its nearest rival for the top-spot by a minimum of $12,000. Last year Newton topped the county by raising $27,500. Thus this January's efforts showed a $7000 increases in giving by Newton residents.

The largest part of this year's total—$15,139.29—was raised by the Mother's March. Other division totals included: special gifts, $3601; business and labor, $775; schools and colleges, $240.87; coin collectors, $1469.35; coin cards (mailed to Newton homes) $10,119.83; dance, $184; blue crutch drive conducted by city's American Legion posts,

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Speculation Rises that Nixon May Voluntarily Withdraw: Rumor Herter Being Considered for State Department Post

A strong impression exists among Republican leaders in Washington that Vice President Richard M. Nixon may withdraw voluntarily as a candidate for renomination in order to prevent any embarrassment for President Eisenhower.

In the event of such a move, GOP chieftains believe, Nixon would be appointed to some high cabinet post, possibly as Secretary of Defense.

This would leave the way clear for the President and his advisers to pick the Vice Presidential candidate who would be the greatest help to the Republican campaign across the country.

That may be simply wishful thinking on the part of GOP politicians who either don't like Nixon personally or who consider that he represents a weak link on which the Democrats will center their fire.

The Republican politicos find it somewhat difficult to put their finger on the precise reason for the antipathy to Nixon. They offer the observation that there is something in his personality that rubs a great many people the wrong way.

B. How can we encourage more students to take science courses? C. Are we allowing our children to take too many snap courses? D. Are there major inconsistencies in our Junior and Senior Hign School offerings? E. How soon should homework be given? How much?

2. What about autonomy — should there be more uniform policies in respect to curricula, guidance, and administration?

3. Does our program for the recognition and training of the exceptionally able child begin early enough?

4. What are the unmet needs of our guidance program?

5. What is the role of the Junior College in the Newton Schools?

6. Where do we go from here?

THERE IS a crisis in education. The school age generation reflects the highest birthrate in our history while the teachers are of the generation born in the depression years when the birthrate was exceptionally low.

Standards of education are higher than ever. More services are expected for more pupils and more pupils are continuing their education at the secondary level than in the past. The cost of education has increased. Therefore, the second area for Conference discussion will be: "Finance — Our Choice — Standards Down or Costs Up?" and will be divided into seeking answers for the following questions:

1. Are we really faced with this choice — if so, why?

2. The cost per pupil in the Newton Public Schools in 1955 was $309. Why have costs been increasing? Are you getting your money's worth?

3. Where can we reduce costs without lowering standards? A. In Buildings? B In operation? C. In personnel? D. In curriculum? E. In guidance? F. In extracurricular activities?

4. How could greater costs be met by the people of Newton?

5. What are the present financial and budgetary powers of the School Committee and are these powers suitable?

6. Should the Commonwealth of Massachusetts pay a larger share of school costs — if so, how?

7. Should the Federal government lend more financial aid; under what conditions?

8. Where do wo go from here?

DISCUSSION groups on the topic of "Winning and Holding Good Teachers" will consider the following aspects:

1. What about Newton's supply of highly qualified teachers? Is it limited? By what?

2. How can a teaching career be made more attractive to more young men and women?

3. Is the community doing all it should to make teaching in Newton attractive?

4. Has Newton a turnover problem — if so, why?

5. What can Newton do to hold its good teachers?

6. Does Newton make the most effective use of its teachers?

7. Where do we go from here?

Two major problems will be considered in the section on Buildings, the fourth topic. These are "How Many High Schools for Newton?" and "What About Our Obsolete Schools?" The subject matter will be divided as follows:

1. Based upon present accommodations affected by projected enrollments in the next few years, what are Newton's High School buildings needs?

2. What are the alternative solutions to the high school problem?

3. What are the factors important in the decision?

4. What decision would you make?

5. Can our obsolete schools be remodeled or renovated?

6. How quickly must we replace our hopelessly inadequate schools?

7. What school facilities and kind of school buildings are: A. Basic? B. Desirable but not mandatory?

8. Should city building codes and State Department of Public Safety rules be revised to permit more buildings such as the Franklin School addition?

9. Where do we go from here?

THE CITIZEN'S stake in the educational process is twofold. As a member of his community he is responsible for its strength and welfare to all the people in it, and as the financial support of education, he is concerned with that portion of his wealth which goes to educational purposes.

The conference is therefore open to all Newton residents, not only parents, and will consider the problems of all schools, the independent and church supported schools as well as the public.

ees to work under master teachers for a summer, spend a half-year teaching under guidance in a public school, and spend another half year filling out requirements for a Master's Degree at Harvard. Then they become full-time teachers.

THE PRINCIPAL of the Weeks Junior High School, Raymond W. Blaisdell, will serve for the second year as principal of the summer school.

"First of all, we are trying to offer our pupils a challenge," he comments. "A master teacher can capitalize on the natural curiosity which every child has. He can help the pupil see that there is both sense and vitality in what he is studying. The pupil is strongly encouraged to use his creative abilities."

"Secondly, the school builds the skills every pupil needs — especially in mathematics and English. It is done by exploring new avenues, new approaches, to catch the pupil's interest and amplify his understanding."

The emphasis of the program, Mr. Blaisdell adds, can be summed up in the word "enrichment." He says: "The pupil gets the biggest benefit. But the teacher-trainees see how a master teacher puts it across, and get the chance to try it themselves. Many more pupils will ultimately benefit from that."

PUPILS are enrolled for the grades they will enter in the fall. There is as little duplication of regular-year programs as possible.

The participating school systems — Belmont, Brookline, Concord, Newton, Weston and Winchester — begin registering applicants for the summer school this week. Because the enrollment is limited, each town has been assigned a quota for each grade. Prospective students should apply to their superintendent except in Newton, where they should apply to Mr. Blaisdell at the Weeks Junior High School.

In the secondary-school program, the pupils of grades 7 through 10 will take basic courses in English, Social Studies and Sciences, and will elect such studies as French, Mathematics, Creative Dance, and Folk Dance, Music, Orchestra, Band, Art and Shop.

In an Art Workshop, they may learn everything from block printing and mobile-making to painting and wood carving. An Industrila Arts workshop will teach them to work with wood and plastic, and to use hand and power tools.

A MUSIC WORKSHOP, featuring small-group instrumental and vocal rehearsals will be led by John Corley, Director of Instrumental Music at Brookline High School, and Conductor of the M.I.T. Symphony Orchestra and Concert Band.

In the elementary school, pupils will be instructed in reading, oral and written language, spelling, handwriting, arithmetic, social studies, music, art and physical education.

To make possible the broad range of courses and instruction offered, the summer school, which is mainly supported by private grants, will charge a tuition fee of $20 for the six-week period.

Secondary students will go to class at the Weeks Junior High School in Newton Center, elementary students at the nearby Bowen School. There will be eight grades (3 through 10) instead of last year's six (4 through 9). Pupils will attend three hours of classes every weekday morning from July 2 to August 10.

Tenley-

able day for her, one to be long remembered.

The outpouring of citizens to welcome home the game little skater who won an Olympic title on a lacerated ankle was most inspiring and the parade, with 1,500 marchers, added color to the event.

Rep. Laurence Curtis read a congratulatory telegram from President Eisenhower and other officials brought her good wishes from Governor Herter, Senator Leverett Saltonstall and Senator John Kennedy.

THE HEART CHARM and plaid traveling bag was presented to her by Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., at the Dickinson Stadium following the parade. Rules of the National Amateur Athletic Union do not allow the people of Newton to give the 20-year-old champion more lavish gifts the mayor explained.

The heart was inscribed: "To Tenley Albright, our beloved Olympic champion."

Tenley also received a scroll signed by 15,000 Newton school children.

THE FIRST GIRL from the United States to win an Olympic figure skating gold medal told her well-wishers:

"I want you to know how warm it makes me feel to see you all here. And how good it makes me feel to know that I can count on your pulling for me in the competition next week."

She will be skating in the U. S. Nationals in Philadelphia next week. This Sunday on the Ed Sullivan "Toast of the Town" television show, Miss Albright will make a guest appearance.

Her right instep, cut while she was practicing for the Olympics at Cortina, Italy, still is bandaged but this will not daunt the spirit of Tenley to give her all to win the U. S. Nationals.

DESPITE a cold and raw afternoon, spectators stood five and six deep the entire length of the parade route to give Tenley a big welcome home.

The parade itself was a most colorful one with many bands and fine drill teams on hand to lend support to the welcome home exercises which was held in Dickinson Stadium where Miss Albright received the official welcome home greeting of her native city. The whole affair was a fitting tribute to a charming little lady.

to construct such a building, it was stated that the Memorial School is the most-used building in the school system of the city and Mr. Morang urged the city to donate a lot of land to the Association for the construction of the building for teen-agers.

He also contended that there is no space in the Memorial School for after-school activities of teen-agers. The proposed project, it was brought out, has been supported by two-thirds of the members of the Association, following a postcard poll. It has also been endorsed by directors of the Oak Hill District Improvement Association, Mr. Morang stated.

THE AREA which is being sought by the Association is former Water Department land, containing about 121,260 square feet. It is part of Section 57, Block 34, Lot 40, and bounded by Saw Mill Brook parkway and the land of the former Shaw Estate now being held by the Charles River Manor, Inc.

Program to Aid Delinquency Is Presented Here

A program conceived by Garrett H. Byrne, district attorney of Suffolk County, to aid parents in the prevention of juvenile delinquency was shown by the Newton Highlands' Woman's club at its Workshop yesterday (Wednesday).

The program, designed to acquaint the public with the dangers of narcotics and causes and some cures of juvenile unrest, featured two full-length films, and live exhibits shown and explained by an assistant district attorney.

Exchange Group Plans Canada Trip

There has been an unexpected change of plans for the thirty Newton High School boys and girls who were to spend a week in Wamogo Regional High School, Litchfield, Connecticut, and then to visit New York City to study municipal enterprises. When this program was cancelled in February, the Newton School Exchange experienced for the first time the necessity of changing its plans. A substitute program was promptly made and now on Monday, April 16, the group will make a tour of neighboring Canadian provinces.

FOR SEVERAL DAYS they will make the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec, their headquarters. There they will go to Ottawa, guests of Glebe Collegiate Institute. En route home a stopover in Montreal is arranged, where the group will be registered at the Queen's Hotel.

Visits to schools and museums, tours of Montreal and Quebec, and trips into the countryside of the Province are certain to be of interest and value. It is, however, the five days in Ottawa which the Newton group keenly anticipates. The Glebe Collegiate and Newton Exchange, 1951-1952, established an enduring friendship between the two schools. Newton treasures a shield presented by Glebe and Glebe uses a United States flag, gift of Newton High School. Mr. William Atkinson, Principal of Glebe Collegiate visited Newton in 1952 and gave a lecture at the High School. He and his assistant, Mr. Callan, have planned a varied program for the Newton visitors, including attendance of classes for two full days, a school party, family day, and a program of events at Parliament House.

GLEBE COLLEGIATE Institute will make a return visit next autumn. The exchange group and faculty leaders will be in Newton at the time of the Canadian Thanksgiving, which is October 8. Newton pupils in the school and School Exchange and their parents are looking forward to celebrating two Thanksgivings this year, Canada's and our own.

Faculty leaders are Mr. Carl Birmingham and Miss Marilyn Drewes. Members of the Newton-Ottawa group are: Edith Albano, Marcia Bentley, Nancy Cardinali, Rochelle Clifton, Mary Ann Cushing, Grace Goodale, Marcia Huberman, Joan Hussey.

Esther Jacobson, Jacqueline Lamiet, Lois Marchant, Elaine Solomon, Deborah Stackpole, Brenda Stern, Rosalie Swartz.

Edward Argue, Frank Bachner, Stephen Cohen, Edward Davidson, Lawrence Di Bona, Robert Gorn.

Michael Harting, David Hoeh, Stephen J. Miller, William Preston, Robert Rowlings, David Ryder, Philip Schneider, James Stam, and Richard Williams.

Cub Scout Pack No. 5 Holds Annual Blue and Gold Supper

Cub Scout Pack 5 of Newton Centre held its annual Blue and Gold supper at the Bowen School Wednesday evening February 29. Two hundred persons attended. The head table was presided over by Cub Master Arthur McGrath and included F. Preston Herring, Sachem District Commissioner, Leroy B. Gould, Neighborhood Commissioner, Saul Primack, Webelos Den Leader, and Mrs. S. W. Hopengarten, Chief Den Mother.

The tables were attractively decorated with centerpieces, placemats and place cards made during den meetings this past month.

After the dinner, Mr. Herring and Mr. Gould presented the new Pack Charter to Cub Master McGrath and Milton R. Epstein, Committee Chairman. The following Den Mothers were honored: Mrs. Daniel Gordon, Mrs. Gertrude Runstein, Mrs. David H. Warsowe, Mrs. Milton R. Epstein, Mrs. Clifton Helman, Mrs. Paul Melrose, Mrs. Robert J. Fleischer, Mrs. Al Forman, Mrs. Frank Sullivan, Mrs. Bernard Gardiner, and Mrs. Dominic J. Taglienti.

The Webelos Den put on an amusing skit titled "OUT WHERE MEN ARE MEN". A Judo Demonstration by Sgt. James Bistany and Cpl. Paul Mathews of the Mass. National Guard, and a baton twirling exhibition by Jane Hopengarten, 8 yr. old Rhode Island Champion and the youngest Eastern States 2-baton Champion, completed the entertainment program.

Paper Drive for Eliot Church Fund to be Held Mar. 24

Eliot Church is organizing behind its all city rebuilding fund paper drive to be held Saturday, March 24, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Richard Salinger, general chairman, stated that several people have already called for paper collection.

Mrs. Warren Manhard and the boys from Boy Scout Troop 11 have offered their services to collect papers on March 24 and will canvass the Newton Corner area. Mrs. Manhard and Mrs. Robert Russell have offered to collect any paper from those who have storage problems on Saturday, March 10 and March 17.

A telephone committee of four ladies from the Eliot Circle, are taking calls for paper collection. They are Mrs. Powers, DEcatur 2-6637; Mrs. Russell, DEcatur 2-4180; Mrs. Shattuck, DEcatur 2-9159; and Mrs. Hayes, LAsell 7-9100.

The publicity committee, headed by Mrs. Richard Salinger, have completed posters and are now distributing them to all parts of the city this week. Those who are assisting are: Janet Pray, Marjorie Pray, Roddy Pratt, Diane Moore, Faye Douglas, Sandi Smith, Brenda and Susan Wasson, John Merrill, Mark Lothrop, Joyce Donald, Karen Gregory, Alice Hugh Tomb, Mrs. William Preston, Mrs. Robert Fowle, Mrs. Gustav Ericson and Jane Ross.

All citizens of Newton are urged to help in this paper drive and are urged to contact one of the four ladies whose phones are listed above.

Franklin School PTA

Mrs. Bernard Indeck, chairman of the Franklin School P. T. A.'s study group, announces an interesting program at the group's March 6th meeting at the school. That evening the group was privileged to hear Dr. Edward Landy, director of the Division of Counseling Services, lead the discussion on "The Role of the Psychologist in the Reading Program." The program proved most stimulating and informative.

In April, the group is planning classroom observations which will be guided by Miss Katherine Torrent, reading consultant for the Newton Schools. It has been a most gratifying year for the group in as much as it is the first year a program of this type has been attempted.

Nixon, of course, incurred the hostility of the so-called White House palace guard last September, when President Eisenhower was stricken with his heart attack in Denver.

Although the matter was hushed up at the time, some of the President's advisers construed certain moves by Nixon as the forerunner to an attempt to take over the direction of the national government under emergency powers.

It is not possible to determine exactly how much basis there is for that charge against Nixon. The person who would know are not talking, and those who are willing to talk even privately are vague in their accounts of precisely what happened.

One thing that is certain, however, is that the men around President Eisenhower do not want Nixon again as the nominee for Vice President and are doing everything possible to persuade Ike to drop him.

They obviously have progressed to the point where they have persuaded Eisenhower to abstain from any endorsement of Nixon when he announced last week that he would be a candidate for reelection.

While the President's answers to the questions put to him by reporters at his news conference caused eyebrow lifting and a flurry of conjecture, the fact that he did not even mention Nixon in his prepared and televised address that night might be equally significant.

Whether Nixon is renominated or dropped, he represents a problem to the men who will plan next fall's GOP's campaign.

There is no question but that Democratic orators will hit Nixon hard, it he is selected again as Ike's running mate, and will sharply challenge his qualifications to take over the Presidency, if Eisenhower should not be able to serve out the full four years of a second term.

At the same time, however, the Democrats also would endeavor to make political capital of it, if Nixon is dropped and the Vice Presidential nomination given to someone else.

That would be a bit difficult to do, if Nixon were to eliminate himself from Vice Presidential consideration with a face-saving statement that he did not desire the nomination a second time.

Democratic politicians, however, would claim, if Nixon were shunted aside, that the Republican leaders do not expect President Eisenhower to serve out a second term and prefer to groom someone other than Nixon to step into his place.

Whatever decision Ike and his advisers finally make concerning the selection of the Republican nominee for Vice President, the coming campaign will be an unusual one, and Mr. Eisenhower's ability to put in a full working day will be a constant topic of discussion on the political stump.

Democratic State Committee Chairman William H. Burke, Jr., one of the Bay State's shrewdest politicians, probably set the tone for his party's campaign in Massachusetts, when he declared that President Eisenhower now works 4½ hours a day and predicted that the people will not vote for a part-time President.

With his life carefully regulated and doctors and aides hovering about him to make certain that he takes his prescribed rest and exercise periods, Ike probably averages about 4½ to five hours of work a day.

At the start of the year he was limited to 3½ hours of actual work each day between 10 a.m. and noon and 2:30 and 4 in the afternoon. His work schedule, however, has been lengthened since then.

How effective that kind of campaign will be remains to be seen, but it is the issue on which the Democrats obviously intend to pitch their campaign.

State Department Post Seen for Herter

Well informed sources in Washington believe that Governor Herter will assume a high post in the federal government early next year, if Eisenhower is reelected and if Herter is not his Vice Presidential running mate.

They anticipated that one of two things will happen in such an event: 1. That Herter will become Under-Secretary of State with a view to replacing John Foster Dulles, when the latter retires. 2. Or Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., will shift to the State Department and Herter will succeed him as the U. S. delegate to the United Nations.

It is generally assumed in Washington that Dulles will not serve another four years as Secretary of State, irrespective of the outcome of next fall's election, and that his successor, if Ike gains another term, will be either Herter or Lodge.

Governor Herter is generally regarded as the No. 1 Vice Presidential possibility, if Nixon is dumped.

One historic fact that may give Nixon cause for sober reflection is that no Republican ever has been nominated for President after serving two terms of Vice President.

The guessing, however, among the political experts is that Nixon will not step aside without at least a strenuous behind-the-scenes struggle and that in the end he will prevail and gain the right to team up with President Eisenhower again on the 1956 national ticket and that Herter will go into the State Department.

Stevenson Trying for 'Sneak' N.H. Victory

It appears that Adlai Stevenson is trying to win a "sneak" victory in next Tuesday's Presidential primary in New Hampshire, the first to be held anywhere in the nation.

Ostensibly, Stevenson remained out of the Granite State contest and left the field to Senator Estes Kefauver. In fact, however, the Stevenson forces are making a real fight for New Hampshire and make pick up some of its delegate votes.

Basically, it is a test of strength between Kefauver's personal popularity and the vote-pulling power of the Democratic leaders who are carrying Stevenson's banner.

It is possible that Stevenson may be able to engineer a political coup that will give Kefauver a real setback, for there is little doubt but that the Granite State returns next Tuesday night will have a real psychological impact on the rest of the country.

There apparently is some basis of Kefauver's charge that Stevenson is campaigning by subterfuge and that Adlai wants to have his political cake and eat it, too. The realization on Kefauver's part that Stevenson is trying to pull a fast one undoubtedly accounts for the bitter tone of the campaigning.

By and large the Stevenson delegates are stronger than those pledged to Kefauver. From all accounts they also are better heeled financially. They have poured a substantial amount of money into the campaign for newspaper advertisements and television and radio time, and it obviously came from the Stevenson headquarters.

Kefauver is handicapped by the fact that three extra delegates supposedly favorable to him entered the contest without his permission and apparently for the purpose of splitting his strength and taking votes away from the 12 who are formally pledged to him.

The Tennessee Senator achieved a smashing victory in New Hampshire in 1952. But it was a triumph that proved costly to him. For although it projected him into the forefront as a Presidential contender, it was gained at the expense of former President Truman, made Truman look bad, and the latter thereafter wanted no part of Estes.

Senator Kefauver now has been maneuvered into a position where he has little to gain and a great deal to lose. If a substantial number of the Stevenson delegates win election, with their man ostensibly making no fight, it will be a blow to Kefauver. On the other hand, even if Kefauver sweeps the field, the Stevenson camp will claim that they did not choose to make New Hampshire a battleground.

This political onlooker can't help but wonder why Stevenson did not make the Granite State his first test. The odds would have been on his side. The most influential Democrats in the State are making his fight. Some of them may get elected with only under-the-table help from him. Maybe Adlai is allergic to the late winter weather in the New Hampshire hills.

It was in New Hampshire, incidentally, that President Eisenhower gained his first 1952 victory over the late Senator Robert A. Taft. Sherman Adams, now the President's first lieutenant and then the Governor of New Hampshire, spearheaded a successful fight to carry the State for Ike and Taft never quite recovered from the psychological reverse he suffered in the Granite State.

* * * *

Meanwhile, in Massachusetts some of the persons picked by Democratic leaders for places on the so-called official slates of candidates for election as delegates to the Democratic national convention face a real fight.

A group headed by Robert Kennedy, brother of Senator John F. Kennedy, is being sharply challenged in the district of Congressman Thomas P. O'Neill, Jr. O'Neill himself is remaining apart from the skirmish and will not be a delegate to the Democratic national convention.

To Give Talk On Business Ethics Mar. 14

Raymond W. Miller, visiting lecturer at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration since 1948, will speak on "Business Ethics" at the first "conversation" of the spring term at Newton Junior College Wednesday morning, March 14, at 8:30.

Mr. Miller was Consultant to the Director-General of the Food Agriculture Organization of the United Nations from 1947 to January 1 of this year. He has spent much time in these eight years in other countries as an advisor for the U. S. Department of State and other organizations. He is a trustee of the Transportation Association of America and a member of the Board of Trustees of the American University. He was formerly President of the American Institute of Cooperation, and is the author of several books and many articles on agriculture, business, public relations, and international affairs. He lived prior to 1947 in California where he still owns walnut groves.

The lecture-discussion series at the College augments the College's academic program. This particular "conversation" was arranged by students in the Business Administration curriculum. On March 22 the speaker is to be Dr. Ashley Montagu, head of the department of anthropology at Rutgers and author of The Direction of Human Development and The Natural Superiority of Women.

--- the informed citizen ---

A Weekly Column written and prepared by the Newton League of Women Voters and devoted to the principle that an informed citizen is a good citizen.

On March 16 and 17, the Newton White House Conference on Education will be held at the Newton High School. There has been much publicity given to the Conference. Every household in Newton has received an invitation to attend. Let us look at how the citizens of Newton have organized on such a large scale for a conference on education.

It is necessary to go back a few years to the time when citizens all over the country quite spontaneously began to realize that education was facing a crisis and that they as citizens had a responsibility to do something about it. The League of Women Voters has always had a primary interest in education. In the fall of 1954 they joined with representatives of five groups to form "Operation Education" — a voluntary alliance designed to strengthen communication between the schools and the public. The objective was to interpret to the citizens of Newton (especially the 65% with no children in the schools) the changing objectives in education. Besides the League, the member groups of the committee were the Newton School Department, the Newton Teachers Federation, the Parent Teachers Association Council and the Federation of Women's Clubs.

In March 1953, as a first step in their endeavor, Operation Education sponsored a city-wide lecture by a noted educator with experience in school systems throughout the world. The season of 1953-54 saw the group expand by the addition of the Newton Community Council which embraces all organizations in the city. A two-year study was undertaken that season of the community characteristics of Newton. The objective was to form a frame of reference for a study of education in Newton. The results were included as one of seven major reports in a city-wide secondary school survey.

Concurrently with the activities of Operation Education in Newton, activity of this type was springing up throughout the nation. Spearheaded by James Conant, who was one of the first to speak out to citizens about their role as primary guardians of education in a free society, the National Citizens Commission for the Public Schools was founded in 1949. Working with a group of less than 20 local organizations at its start, it now counts over 12,000 local groups similar to Operation Education. In fact, many are more formally organized. All are working at the grass roots on the premise that education is no longer simply the province of educators but in a democracy is the joint responsibility of educators and laymen alike.

President Eisenhower was alert to the crisis in education and played a large part in this growing awareness of citizens. He spoke of it in his inaugural address and in his State of the Union Message on January 7, 1954, he said:

> . . . I hope a conference on education will be held in each state, culminating in a national conference. From these conferences on education, every level of government — from the Federal Government to each local school board — should gain the information with which to attack these serious (educational) problems.

In the next year a call went out for local conferences to prepare for the White House Conference. Forty-eight such statewide conferences, scores of regional and thousands of local meetings were held. Citizens of all stripes — housewives, farmers, bankers, labor leaders, lawyers, doctors, merchants, educators — joined together at the sessions.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts sponsored a state-wide conference on September 8, 9 and 10, 1955. The culmination, of course, was the White House Conference on Education which was held in Washington from November 28 to December 1, 1955. Two thousand delegates met and discussed the major problems which had been outlined at the state and local conferences. It is interesting to note that at all of these conferences the ratio of laymen to educators was two to one.

To return to Newton, following the close of the National White House Conference, the Newton School Committee turned to Operation Education with a request that they undertake the first steps toward organizing a White House Conference for Newton. The purpose would be to seek methods to solve locally the problems focused upon at the fall series of conferences. The Newton Secondary School Survey had indicated weaknesses and inadequacies in organization and curriculm and had pointed up the immediate need of expanded facilities for Newton High School. It was hoped that the Newton White House conference would turn its attention to these problems as well as to the general ones brought out by the Washington Conference.

Operation Education went to work immediately by gathering 50 delegates representing a cross section of the city to form a Planning Committee. The Planning Committee named a temporary chairman and vice chairman, formulated a program, and sent invitations to every organization in Newton and to interested citizens to gather at a Planning Session. Three hundred Newton citizens gathered at this meeting to set overall policy for the conference and in confirm the Planning Committee's work. Since that meeting this community endeavor has grown and prospered. The culmination, of course, will be the meetings on March 16 and 17.

Every citizen in Newton has a stake in the education given to the members of his community. The conference will deal with matters of mutual interest to all schools — public, private and to confirm the Planning resents the wishes of a majority of the community and is designed to appeal to all segments and sections of the community. It is hoped that Newtonites will respond to the call of President Eisenhower and their community leaders and make this conference its purpose of finding ways to solve the serious educational problems which confront us today.

Eight Burly Grapplers at Armory Sat.

The West Newton Armory ring will creak and fans will shriek as eight burly grapplers with an aggregate weight of nearly 2000 pounds collide in an eight-man battle royal Saturday night.

It'll be every man for himself in the Burns-Kerr Legion Post main event.

The battle royal will be staged at 8:30 because pairings in four special bouts to follow will depend on the order in which the torso twisters are eliminated from the eight-man embroglio.

The first two to be ousted will be matched up. Other pairings will be made on the same basis, with the third and fourth wrestlers to bow out returning for a special contest.

This arrangement will mean that the last two battle royal survivors will meet a second time in a special bout.

It'll be the first time this plan has ever been followed at the Armory.

Early this week, a report was circulated to the effect that Matchmaker Fred Bruno was considering using a platoon of National Guardsmen as referees in Saturday's colossal clash.

Best known among the eight contestants is tough Tiger Tasker, keg chested veteran from Toronto.

Trying to "hold that Tiger" will be Tarzan Bolo of French Morocco, Frank Shields, proper Bostonian from Beacon Hill, Nick Valley of Three Rivers, Que., Ron Hill of Stoughton, Dick Marquis of Salem, Jim Taylor of Manchester, N.H., and the Black Terror of parts unknown.

One Thousand Students Attend 'Tigerama'

About one thousand students attended "Tigerama" at the Newton High School gymnasium last Friday evening.

"Activity" for everyone was provided in many ways. In the largest section, led by Ken Sherman and Ed Shulkin, disc jockeys, couples were swinging to the latest hits.

Ping-pong, horse shoes, checkers, etc., were very popular all evening in another section. This was a perfect example of the students trying to provide the type of activity that we hope to have in a "game room" in the "Center" which is our goal.

Around 10 p.m. there was a break from the dancing; movies, which consisted of community singing, cartoons, and an act by a former Olympic skater, were viewed.

Entertainment was provided by a group of senior boys called "Hoboes"; a quartet of sophomore girls, the "Tigerettes" and another singing group called the "Kapri's."

Refreshments were served throughout the evening in the lounge.

Thus, the third "Tigerama" was a huge success, well attend, well organized, and well behaved.

In a recent game between the G.B.I. All-Stars and the South Shore All-Stars, Newton showed up well in the 10-0 rout. They were represented by goalie Brian Dooley, forward Kenny Keyes, and defenseman Paul Fitzgerald. Dooley pulled off six saves in the second period, and Keyes slammed home a goal.

Cadillac

At Home... Among Strangers!

You're going to get a wonderful thrill when you take the wheel of your first Cadillac and head out into the country—a long, long way from home.

We're not just talking about the car's wonderful performance and its extraordinary riding and handling ease—satisfying and inspiring though these are bound to be.

No, we're talking about something more.

We're talking about the friendliness you're going to encounter—how you'll be driving among people who seem to know something about you, and who are ready to trust and respect you as if they had known you for a long, long time.

This is true, of course, because Cadillac quality and goodness have made it the overwhelming preference of people of judgment and discrimination—and the whole world has come to know and understand this and to appreciate what it means.

Yes, your best foot is forward when it rests on the throttle of a 1956 Cadillac.

This great personal benefit is strictly a plus value when you take the title of the "car of cars." It comes in addition to the long-known Cadillac virtues: matchless beauty and luxury and comfort, and safety and long life.

Why not consider a Cadillac for your next car?

It is a logical choice—not only for quality and goodness and prestige—but for economy of ownership and operation as well.

We suggest that you come in soon and see for yourself. We'll be happy to give you a personal demonstration at the wheel . . . and to explain why this is such a wonderful time to make the move from every standpoint.

Newton High Presents Spring Musical

Newton High School students and faculty present the first performance of the Spring Musical tomorrow at 8:15 in the school auditorium. There will be two more performances Saturday, one at 10:00 a.m. and another at 8:15.

In three sections, each performance features "Cox and Box" by Sir Arthur Sullivan; "Shades in Rhythm," a program of dancing and dance music; and Gilbert and Sullivan's "Trial By Jury".

Hundreds of students and faculty members participate. One highlight is the judge in "Trial By Jury" as sung by Mr. Frank Heys, teacher of English.

Club Notes - Personals

Toastmasters Club

The Newton Toastmasters Club held its reular meeting at the Beaconsfield Hotel. Toastmaster for the evening was Benneville (Ben) Clark, assisted by Charles E. Smith as topicmaster. They conducted a very interesting and fascinating meeting.

Topicmaster Smith's assignments were famous sayings of famous men and the theme of these unprepared talks was for the most enthusiasm. C. Gerald Murdy won the Man of the Evening Award for the most enthusiastic speech. His title was a famous saying by John Paul Jones, "I Have Not Yet Begun to Fight". What a switch he pulled in this talk! It was full of spicy humor and intensely interesting.

There were three five-minute prepared talks, two of which were given by new members on Lesson No. 1 in the Basic Training Manual, Breaking the Ice. This first lesson is a speech introducing the member to the Club and is a manner of getting acquainted with him by learning some of his early background.

The first speaker was Walter T. Hannigan, a manufacturer's agent, whose office is in Newton. His subject, "Ships Also Go Out" was extremely interesting as he talked about his personal life starting at the age of seventeen and going through his present days accomplishments.

John Farina, also of Newton, gave a very interesting resume of his early life, particularly regarding his experience at Tufts, his interests in track and the time spent in the service of the United States, as well as his present connection with his business as an engineer in the commercial construction field.

Both members certainly did break the ice.

Irwin F. Gordon, Personnel Manager of Brigham's, gave an unusually fine talk on Lesson No. 2, "Being in Earnest." His subject was "Automation". Mr. Gordon brought out in his talk the present day inventions and conveniences of electronics, radar and electric tools in contrast with the early day in making work easier for the average workman. His talk enabled him to be the recipient of the Higbee Award.

The President, John F. Higbee, conducted the business of the meeting and John A. Wilson, Chairman of the Nominating Committee, reported the slate of officers to be elected for the next term, April through November of this year.

Final announcements were made on the Speech Contest held last night at the Peaconsfield Hotel.

The Newton Club will be host to the following clubs: Hoods No. 1315, Lynn Windjammers No. 1077, Boston No. 502, Lexington Minute Men No. 1475, Shawmut No. 1088, Quannapowitt No. 849.

Richard Hailoran represented the Newton Club with four members of various clubs participating. The winner will go on to the District Contest to be held at the Hotel Edison in Lynn, Massachusetts, on May 6th, and will compete against the winners of three other areas.

The public is cordially invited to attend for this is an excellent opportunity to really see toastmasters in operation.

Reservations should be made by contacting the club secretary, Charles Scipione Jr., at LAsell 7-1368.

Lucy Jackson Chapter DAR

Mr. Robert L. Grayce of the Audubon Society will be the speaker at the meeting of the Lucy Jackson Chapter, D.A.R., next Monday, March 12th, at the Chapter House, 2349 Washington St., Newton Lower Falls. His subject will be "Wild Life at Home." Mrs. Walter E. Holden, regent, will preside at the two o'clock business meeting, and afternoon tea will be served at 3:30, following Mr. Grayce's talk. The hostesses will be Mrs. Walter R. Amesbury and Mrs. Theodore Nixon, co-chairmen, and Miss Katherine E. Cutter, Mrs. Elmer M. Kling, Mrs. Edward H. Mendell, Mrs. Herbert C. Moore, Mrs. Fred W. Nichols, Jr., Mrs. Edward B. Parker, Mrs. Harris C. Shelby, and Mrs. Terry Sherman.

Toastmistress Club Contest

Mrs. Joy Sabatini was declared winner of the annual Speech Contest of the Newton-Waltham Toastmistress Club held at their last meeting at the Newton Y.M.C.A. Mrs. Lucille Webb was selected as her alternate to represent Newton at the council contest to be held in Boston this month.

After a short business meeting, Mrs. Ann Manguso assumed the duties of Toastmistress, explaining the rules and introducing the contestants.

Contest judges were Mrs. Sandra Meshover, Misses Dorothy la Spada, Isabelle and Sona Tahmizian. Mrs. Barbara Casey and Mrs. Daisy Quirk served as timekeepers and reported all contestants kept within the required limitations. The contest rules requires speakers to draw for positions and to give prepared talks, which could not be less than seven nor more than ten minutes. This division carried a 75% value.

The subjects dscussed were "This is My Avocation" by Mrs. Lucille Webb, a description of Red Cross activity; "Yesterday's Children" by Mrs. Phylis Guzzi, reminiscence of an earlier generation of teenagers; "Flirtation with Death," by Mrs. Joy Sabatini, an encounter with a madman; "Wanted a Baby Doll," by Mrs. Christine Walsh, an explanation of the value of a doll in a child's life; and "Reflections" by Mrs. Rita McCarthy, an exposition on the power of a baby in the home.

In the impromptu division the speakers must talk at least three minutes on a topic which is revealed by the Toastmistress. These assignments were, to Mrs. Webb, " A Most Unforgettable Character"; to Mrs. Guzzi, "Friendship"; to Mrs. Sabatini, "Vitality"; to Mrs. Walsh, "Babies"; to Mrs. McCarthy, "Teenager."

Newton-Waltham Toastmistress Club, two years ago, had a national contestant, and we are hoping Mrs. Sabatini will go on to the finals again this year.

Due to the inclement weather Saturday, no races were held. However, consolation gifts were presented to Nancy Crowell and Arthur Goodman who suffered sprained ankles; and to Jim Bishop who had the misfortune to break his ankle. Prizes were also awarded to Harold Johnson and his dad for their exhibition of skiing horizontally — with skis crossed. Later "trophies" were presented with the compliments of the Ski Dorm.

Tillinghast of Newtonville, became the bride of Mr. David Wilson Morse, son of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Morse of 35 Nichols road, Needham. A reception followed at the Hotel Beaconsfield.

White gladioli, snapdragons and carnations adorned the altar for the double ring ceremony, which was attended by the immediate families only. Rev. Richard Lee Bartholomew was the officiating clergyman, and Mrs. Harlan Cook played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown of embroidered nylon net over tulle and taffeta, fashioned with a fitted bodice, boat neckline, and little cap sleeves. Her shoulder length veil was caught to a headband which had seed pearl trim. She carried a Colonial bouquet of tiny white roses and stephanotis.

Miss Sally Tillinghast of Newtonville, maid of honor and sister of the bride, wore yellow nylon tulle and lace with a matching headband and short veil, and carried a Colonial bouquet of purple violets and miniature yellow roses.

Mrs. Henry Harris of Rutherford, New Jersey, aunt of the bride, wore wedgewood blue with a hat to match. Mrs. Morse, the bridegroom's mother, chose a mauve taffeta dress and a peacock blue hat.

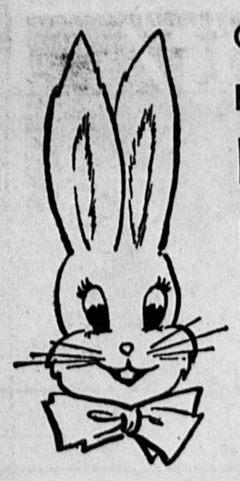

Serving as best man for his brother was Donald G. Morse of Needham.

Upon returning from a wedding trip to Vermont the couple will reside at 52 Brookside Avenue in Newtonville.

The bride, an alumna of Newton high school, attended Colby Junior College. Mr. Morse, a graduate of Needham high school, attended Northeastern University and the University of Massachusetts.

Best Coach in the World Can't Make Winner Without Material

After a recent losing effort by the Tiger hoopmen, I overheard two gentlemen and their sons discussing the game. Apparently loyal Newton rooters, they were taking the loss badly and directing a large part of their criticism toward the Tiger coach. Just whose fault was the disappointing season? Can a coach produce a winner without the material?

About a week ago, Clif Keane, Boston sports writer, wrote the following story. "Charlie Eckman, now coach for the professional Fort Wayne Pistons, was referee for the playoff game between Rochester and Minneapolis With eight seconds remaining and the score tied, Rochester called a time out. Just to know what was going to happen, Eckman moved closer to the Rochester huddle. The strategy has to be made quickly because there is but one minute to the huddle.

"Harrison, the Royal's coach, is the first to speak. He asks what they think they should do. Bob Davies says that he can drive on his man, so give him the ball. This meets with the approval of Harrison, but Bobby Wanzer says that he can set on his man, so give him the ball. Harrison agrees to this, too. But up speaks Arnie Risen, and he says that he can hook on George Mikan. Once again, Harrison agrees. Then the time is up and the club moves out on the court. There is one ball and four guys that want to shoot. The only man that didn't say anything was Bull Johnson. Jack Coleman said he could make it.

"Well, the whistle blows and Rochester puts the ball in bounds. Who is going to shoot? Wanzer? Davies? Risen? Coleman? Looking under the basket, I see Johnson standing all alone. The ball goes to him, and he lays it in for the winning basket. Everybody rushes for Coach Harrison, patting him on the back and congratulating him on his brilliant strategy. And then, to the amazement of Eckman, Harrison goes and tells how he planned the winning play."

Now, I by no means want to degrade the value of a coach, especially in high school where the fundamentals are taught to the future stars of college and pro-ranks. But, if a coach doesn't have the materials, the best man in the world can't produce a winner. If a man has the necessary material, and doesn't produce a good club, then get on him. In the preceeding story it is obvious that Harrison had nothing to do with the wininng play, nor would he have been to blame if they had lost. The best manager in the world couldn't have led the Pirates to a first division club in the past baseball season, yet most any good manager could have led the Dodgers to their pennant winning effort. A coach teaches his players, but he does not play for them.

Fourth Quarterly Conference Held by Methodist Church

Reports on a busy Junior High Youth Fellowship program, interesting programs of the Women's Society of Christian Service, the installation of a new oil burner in the church by the trustees and the election of officers for the coming year featured the Fourth Quarterly Conference of the Newton Methodist Church on Monday evening, Feb. 26th. Dr. H. Daniel Hawver, Superintendent of the Boston District of the Methodist Church, presided and in his devotional talk commented upon the divine origin, character, and mission of the Christian Church.

Officers elected at the meeting were: Charge Lay Leader, Eldred M. Peterson; recording Steward, Mrs. Elsie Ladabouche; Financial Secretary, Miss Virginia Brown; Secretary of Collections for the Building Fund, Miss Marion F. Jackson; Church Treasurer, Charles E. Smith, Jr.; Superintendent of the Church School, Mrs. Herbert Duvay; District Steward, Dr. Harold Higgins; Communion Steward, Mrs. Harry Coutts; Assistant Communion Steward, Mrs. Frank Fisher; Lay Delegate to Annual Conference, Paul S. Rich; Head Usher, Stewart Coutts; Assistant Head Usher, Roland Holland.

Trustees elected to the class of 1959, to serve for three years, Miss Abbie Dunks, Philip Harrington, and William Hopkins. Miss Giuliana Cialdea and Fred Jorgensen were elected stewards in the class of 1958 while Harry Bradley, Mrs. Dale Brown, Mrs. Herbert Duvay, Mrs. William Earle, Mrs. Stanley Jackson, Leon Marsh, Mrs. George McFarland, Mrs. Charles E. Smith, Mrs. Lawrence Sprague, Mr. and Mrs. George Strandbers and Mr. Frank E. Wing were elected to the class of 1959.

Dr. Paul Uhlinger, minister of the church, outlined areas for strengthening the work of the church in the year ahead by enlarging the public relations efforts, increasing services to the present constituency, working toward the elimination of the debt on the church so further improvements on the building and in the program can be made, extending the counseling work of the pastor and making available a more extensive "teaching ministry" on the part of the pastor.

Announcement was made that the Eliot Church would use the Sanctuary of the Methodist Church for their worship services at 9 a.m. on Sunday until Palm Sunday, when the services will be held in Grace Church, April through June. Union services with Eliot will be held in the Methodist Church during July and August. The Junior Choir of Eliot and their Senior Choir will rehearse in the church Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Action was taken to help sponsor a choir program, composed of the Eliot and Methodist Choirs in May, for the benefit of the Eliot Building Fund. It was also announced that a special collection will be taken this Sunday morning in the worship service for the Eliot rebuilding project.

Cub Scout Pack 24 Holds Its Annual Father and Son Night

Cub Scout Pack 24 held its annual "Father and Son" dinner last night at the Church of the Messiah, in Auburndale.

After an opening prayer by Rev. Sydney Adams of the Centenary Methodist Church, the Cub Scouts, their fathers and the den mothers, who were the Pack's guests of honor, were served dinner by the den chiefs.

Each table was decorated with place mats, centerpieces and nut cups made by the boys and designed to carry out a special theme.

Mrs. Joseph Sullivan, den mother for Den 6, had directed her boys in the making of decorations inspired by the story of Robin Hood. An archery target and archer figurines formed the centerpiece. Cub Scouts at this table were dressed as characters from Robin Hood.

Mrs. Robert Reed and Mrs. E. Parker Calver, and the boys of Den 1, carried out a Huckleberry Finn theme. A mirror fishing hole was the centerpiece with fishing rods to which gifts of candy were attached. The guests at this table wore Huck Finn type straw hats and shirts.

Mrs. Benjamin Brodie's Den 3 chose the Robin Hood theme also with an archer's bow as the centerpiece and place mats depicting scenes from the story which had been drawn by the boys.

Mrs. Ernest Clark and her assistant, Mrs. Carey Peters with the boys of Den 4 were inspired by the story of King Arthur and the Knights of the Round Table for their costumes and decorations. The boys and their fathers wore helmets and had aluminum shields. Nut cups were made like chalice-shaped goblets, and the centerpiece was a miniature replica of a medieval castle.

Mrs. Page Cotton's Den 2 cubs and their fathers wore coolie-type Chinese hats and queues. The China theme was carried out in a yellow and black color scheme and the center of the table bore two coolie figures fashioned from fruit.

Mrs. Harry Goodman's Den 5 cubs and their fathers wore colorful Mexican costumes. Their centerpiece was made up of cactus plants, gourds and a gaily dressed Mexican doll.

Mrs. Lewis Stafford and Mrs. Arthur McQuiston had worked out with their boys, Den 11, an elaborately detailed miniature Sutter's Mill of the California gold rush of 1849 to adorn the center of their table. Cub Scouts and their fathers carried the forty-niners theme through in their costumes.

Then den mothers sat at a special table as honored guests. They wore tiny spring bonnets which were made by Mrs. Lewis Stafford and Mrs. Arthur McQuiston.

After dinner the cub scouts and their fathers joined in singing led by Mr. Warren Freeman. Mrs. Wendell Yeo accompanied at the piano.

Mr. Lewis Stafford, assistant cub master then presented awards to the following cubs:

Allen Wheeler, wolf gold and silver arrow; Alex Wallace, Wolf Badge; Joseph Sullivan, Wolf gold and silver arrow; William Baker, Wolf Badge; Billy Funk, Bear Gold Arrow; Billy Holstead, Lion Badge; Philip Shea, Lion Gold Arrow; David Peters, Lion Badge; David Yeo, Lion Gold Arrow; Michael Rogers, Silver Arrow, and John Goodman, two Wolf Silver Arrows.

Impromptu entertainment was directed by Mr. Robert Reed. The program concluded with the showing of a color film of "The Red Sox at Home."

Arrangements for the banquet were under the direction of Mr. William Funk, Jr., Mr. George Huberman, Pack Committee Chairman, assisted in the direction of the evening's program.

Rep. Thresher To Address NVN Ass'n

The Newton Visiting Nurse Association and its guests will hear an address by the Hon. Irene K. Thresher at its 58th annual meeting on Monday, March 12th. Special guests of the Visiting Nurse Association Board on this occasion will be the heads of other Chest agencies and of Newton's health agencies, as well as representatives of the city administration, of Newton clubs and organizations, and of visiting Nurse Associations from neighboring cities.

Coffee will be served at 10 a.m. preceding the meeting. Mrs. Matt B. Jones, Jr. is President of the association.

We wish to express our sincere thanks and grateful appreciation to our relatives and friends for the beautiful floral tributes, and the many other acts of kindness extended to us during our recent bereavement. Especially do we wish to thank

Many "Ifs" In the Tiger Baseball Outlook As Squad Gets Started

Coach Howie Ferguson called the first baseball meeting for February 27. A movie of the thrilling 1955 World Series was shown and practice was officially underway. Naturally everyone is hoping for a duplicate of last year's State Champs, and there is the possibility that this may occur. The team was hard hit by graduation. The sparkplug of the infield, Levon "Mouse" Kasarjian, a real hustler and clutch player is gone. The Newton great centerfielder, Bill Hamill, three times All-Scholastic has also left. It will be extremely tough to fill his shoes, and it is doubtful that it will be done. Another outfielder, Steve Herring, leaves another gap in the outer pastures. The initial sack is up for grabs with the graduation of Stan Chamberlin. Pitcher-outfielder, Bill Reilly is another boy lost by graduation. Well, let's go from the past to the future.

Of course, the following paragraphs are just opinions and it must be made clear that no position is clinched until starting day. There is always the chance of a "dark horse." The vacated first base post paves the way for a real good fight between Burt Katz and Bill Walker. Katz, star halfback, substitute hockey goalie, will have plenty of competition from Billy Walker of the basketball squad. As for the vacated shortstop hole, a top contender would have to be DelGizzi. He will have a big hole to fill, and if he does it could make the difference between a championship infield and one that is not. Al Martin, outstanding back court man of the Tigers, is a strong candidate for the hot corner. He is an expert gloveman and a good clutch batter. At the keystone sack it could be Dave Chamberlin or hockey star Kenny Keyes. At the high school stage, most boys can handle more than one slot and will be moved accordingly by Coach Ferguson. Working behind the plate there is plenty of talent. My pick would be John Beggs because of his last year's experience. Dave Bourne is also a top candidate.

Moving to the outfield, we find a problem. There are a good deal of "ifs" in the outfield. If they come through, there might be no stopping them. If they don't—well let's not think about that. Jack McCree, a real speedster, is a strong shot for one of the outer posts. It's a good scramble for the other two spots. Most pitchers can also handle an outfield position. Fergy has a real chore in filling these positions. Kenny Keyes can play outfield if necessary.

We predict that the Tigers are going to be a lot better than most folks think, and although they may not repeat as State Champs, they will give it a good run.

As far as the J. V. goes, there are some good looking boys. Outfielder, Ricky Holman; infielders, Bob David, Barry Bograd, Larry Stapin, and catchers, Krasnoo and Gaffney. Sophomores who have impressed are: Snyder, Calvert, O'Loughlin, Craig, Leonard, Rideout, Gleason, Seeley and Connerney.

It has probably been noticed that in reviewing the Tiger Varsity, the mound corps have been omitted. This is another important part of any team. A solid pitching staff is always found on a champion Russ Halloran will carry most of the load, and you watch this boy when the big league scouts come around. Dana Johnson, Howie Whitmore and Charlie Vento will also see action. There was hope that lefty Paul Joyce might make a Varsity moundsman, but he has been very disappointing so far.

Well, it won't be long now, when you'll hear the famous cry of spring and summer—"Play ball." And you just watch those Tigers play ball—You'll see a real good club.

Second Home Concert of Glee Club To Be Held Next Tues.

The second home concert of the 1955-1956 season of the Highland Glee Club of Newton will be given at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, March 13, in Newton High School Auditorium. This will mark the 104th subscription performance for the following of the men's chorus now in its forty-eighth year.

D. Ralph Maclean, who needs no introduction to Newton music lovers, will conduct the glee club and Jet Turner, in his first season as accompanist, will be at the piano in a program of selections old and new which will display the skill of the choristers and be pleasing to their audience.

The opening feature will be "The Carnival Masquerade" by Kountz for full chorus with tenor solo part sung by Edgar M. Randle. In the older composers scattered thru the program will be found Schubert, Bach, Rossini, and Handel. A "Credo" by Gretchaninoff will be sung with James A. Murray, bass soloist, as a memorial to two members, John H. Elwell, and Leonard R. Clinton, deceased in the past year. Jack Elwell was a charter member of the Club and Lennie Clinton had for many years served as Librarian. Several numbers have been prepared from the works of Rodgers, Herbert, and Romberg who are known for musical comedy and operetta, and in the field of more recent compositions will be such numbers as "My Bonnie Lassie," "The Phantom Duke" and the Waring arrangement of "This is My Country."

The guest artist announced for this Spring concert is Miss Nancy Carr, lyric soprano, who has attained a high standing in the music world. In the American concert scene she has been hailed by critics as a beautiful woman with a carefully and diligently developed natural talent and exceptional art. Her record, in addition to exclusive concert and recital appearances, includes national radio and TV contracts with CBS, NBC, Dumont, and Mutual networks. It was perhaps "The Chicago Theatre of the Air" that gained Miss Carr her first large audiences. In two numbers Miss Carr and the men will join in soprano and chorus performance.

While the home concerts are often referred to as subscription events, the Glee Club wishes to announce that they are not limited to sustaining members. Tickets for single concerts or for sponsor membership are available thru active members or at the box office.

Ralph B. Johnson, Scout Executive of Norumbega Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America, which comprises Newton, Wellesley and Weston, announced yesterday that an Explorer Scout will serve as a junior scientific aide in Antarctica during the International Geophysical Year, 1957-1958.

An Eagle Scout accompanied Admiral Byrd's first Antarctic Expedition.

Mr. Johnson has asked Explorer Advisors in Norumbega Council to recommend candidates for the trip.

Freedom Agenda Project Established

An educational program designed to bring a broader understanding of civil rights and individual liberties to the citizens of Newton has been established by the Freedom Agenda Project, sponsored by the Newton League of Women Voters.

AT THE LAST of three meetings, Robert E. Caron of 109 Warren street, Newton Center, was elected chairman for the remainder of the year. Attending these meetings held at the Boston College Faculty Lounge through the kindness of Rev. Father Kennealy, Dean of the law school and a member of the new group, were Mrs. Seymour Getter, President of the Newton League of Women Voters; Harold Wooster, Librarian of the Newton Free Library; James Purcell, Newton Council of the Knights of Columbus; Harry Lever, Newton Veterans Council; Miss Louise Walworth, Newton World Affairs Council; Mrs. Kenneth Waitte, Newton Federation of Women's Clubs; Rev. Sidney Adams, Executive Secretary of the Newton Council of Churches; Mrs. Paul Johnson, Newton Council of Church Women; and Prof. C. Moynihan, Professor of Law, Boston College.

THE BASIC AIM of the forum is to stimulate thinking and provoke constructive and worthwhile discussion in the area of individual liberties. To carry out this aim, the future plans of the group include organizing a discussion group in each of the eleven villages that comprise Newton. Plans now call for four meetings to be held during the months of April and May.

An interested guest at the second meeting was Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., who stated that a healthy condition exists when citizens take time out to discuss the problems of individual liberty and that they should have the support of the community.

ANY CITIZEN desiring to play a part in this undertaking may contact Mrs. George Alberts, 40 Solon street, Newton Highlands or Mr. Robert E. Caron, 109 Warren street, Newton Center.

Eliot Church To Conduct Services At Emanuel

The Eliot Church of Newton, recently completely destroyed by a disastrous fire, has, through its Minister, Dr. Ray Eusden, pastor of this historic Congregational Church, accepted the invitation which was extended by Dr. Albert I. Gordon, Rabbi of Temple Emanuel of Newton, on behalf of its officers, Board of Trustees, and members to conduct its regular Services at Temple Emanuel of Newton. The Maundy Thursday Service, to be conducted on the evening of March 29, and the Easter Sunday Service on April 1, will be conducted at Temple Emanuel.

"The invitation to the members of the Eliot Church to utilize our Synagogual facilities was extended through my friend and colleague, the Minister of the Church, Dr. Eusden, but a few hours after a devastating fire destroyed this beautiful Church Building. The members of Temple Emanuel are pleased to have the opportunity to assist our neighbors and friends in the spirit of brotherhood," said Dr. Gordon.

A check in the sum of $1000, representing a gift from the membership of Temple Emanuel to the Eliot Church for its rebuilding program will shortly be contributed.

Church Leaders to Visit in Moscow

Dr. Herbert J. Gezork, president of Andover-Newton Theological School, was one of nine Protestant leaders who left New York International Airport last Friday aboard a KLM Royal Dutch Arliner for an 11-day visit to Moscow. The purpose of the trip, sponsored by the National Council of Churches, is to strengthen the "spiritual fellowship" between Christian leaders of the United States and Soviet Russia.

Plan All City Paper Drive for Eliot Church Building Fund

The response to the Eliot Church Paper Drive to raise money for the Rebuilding Fund has been amazing and gratifying. The drive to be held Saturday March 24 has become a major all city drive with all parts of Newton joining in with enthusiastic support and aid.

THIS PAST Saturday Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Manhard collected several car loads of paper from Waban, Newton Centre and West Newton. Many youngsters helped in this venture. Erland and Victoria Russell, Freddy Angier, Billy Hunter, Ned Cully and Freddy Thompson were among those who helped.

The Waban Boy Scout troops 9 and 10 are joining in the drive. Under the direction of Mr. Paterson and Mr. Gittines these scouts will canvass the Waban area. Instead of collecting papers on March 24 they will go around on Saturday, April 28. This is in the Waban area only.

MORE THAN 125 workers are expected to help from Eliot Church and friends of Eliot and already 30 trucks and cars have been donated to speed the collection. Mr. H. L. Rojter who is buying the paper and magazines will have a large trailer truck at the Hunnewell Club for the whole day. Mrs. Ross and her food committee is preparing a sumptuous luncheon for all those participating.

For all paper and magazine collections, call Mrs. Hayes LA 7-9100, Mrs. Russell DE 2-4108, Mrs. Powers DE 2-6637, Mrs. Shattuck DE 2-9159.

All citizens are urged to contribute paper, magazines or time to this paper drive to rebuild the Eliot Church which meant so much to all of us.

Spend Fifty Cents To Get Back $1000

Calling upon the one-third of all Newton families who have children in the public school system to attend or at least send in a registration and fifty cents to the Newton White House Conference, Executive Director Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., of the Newton Taxpayers' Association today cited the following reasons for such action:

1.. Since the issues involved affect more than one-third of total city expenses they are significant to every taxpayer dollar wise.

2. Each parent owes it to himself and his children to get some comprehensive understanding of the local school system.

3. The material each registrant receives for his fifty cents provides information which could not otherwise be obtained without the expenditure of money and time to a value equalling a thousand dollars if done individually from a standing start.

4. Failure to even attempt to learn about the schools as a whole leads to individual reliance upon limited experience and rumor — and of those who do not take the trouble to bother now, it can fairly be asked later, "Who are you to complain?"

Mark your request "Please Mail Material" and send today with cash or check payable to John B. Rubenstein, Treasurer, 40 Elm road, Newtonville, Mr. Muther urged.

Visiting Nurse Assn Holds 58th Annual Meeting

New officers were elected and two scholarships awarded at the 58th annual meeting of the Newton Visiting Nurse Association held last Monday.

THE MEETING held at the association's headquarters at 1990 Washington street, Newton Lower Falls, was called to order at 10 a.m. by the president, Mrs. Matt B. Nelson Fund for additional study at Boston University. Miss Steinkrauss is Nursing Supervisor of the association, while Miss Power is one of the eleven nurses on the present staff.

Noted Group To Address Local Event

The determination of American citizens to work in common cause towards the solution of crucial problems will be affirmed once again at Newton's Little White House Conference on Education at Newton High School tomorrow night (Friday) and on Saturday morning and afternoon, March 17. On these important dates, every resident of Newton may avail himself of the opportunity to explore his school system and discuss with his neighbor and with expert consultants those facets of it which most concern him.

SIX MAJOR committees were set up to cope with the mechanics of arranging this meeting, the largest of its kind ever attempted in our community. Each group has two chairmen, and all are under the general chairmanship of Mrs. James H. Zimmer. Mrs. Zimmer's broad background in community affairs and most particularly in the field of education eminently qualifies her to direct so large an enterprise. As a member of the Scholarship Awards Committee of the Federation of Women's Clubs of Cornell University and of the executive committee of Cornell's Alumni Board, Vice-President of the League of Women Voters of Newton, and co-orinator of Education Projects for the League, a member of the Guidance sub-committee of the Massachusetts Council For Better Schools and former Chairman of the Community Characteristics Committee of Newton, Mrs. Zimmer knows Newton and its institutions well. As a Board member of the Newton Visiting Nurse Association, Newton World Affairs Council, Newton Highlands Improve-

The public is invited to attend the Newton contest.

Angier PTA to Present Panel Discussion Mar 20.

Tuesday, March 20, at 7:45 p.m. at the Angier School auditorium in Waban, the Angier P.T.A. will bring to its members a distinguished panel who will examine, "The Needs of Industry, the Problems of the Public Schools, and the Role of the Elementary School."

The panel will consist of Richard Morse, president of National Research Corporation; Dr. Austin Fisher of the Arthur D. Little Co.; Dr. Warren Rohsenow, professor at M.I.T.; Dr. Fletcher Watson, professor of Harvard University; Dr. Charles Richter, assistant superintendent of the Newton Schools.

Red Cross Fund At 25% of Goal

Newton's Red Cross fund drive reaches 25% of its $90,000 goal as the fund campaign rolls into high gear during the next two weeks.

THIS WEEK-END has been set aside as Red Cross Sabbath week-end and all over the City of Newton all denominations will speak to their congregations and ask that they "count their blessings" and give to the Newton Red Cross Chapter that their good work will be continued.

Your neighbors, numbering more than twenty five hundred persons in our City are on the job and will be calling upon you asking you to give and join.

Possibly, many of you are asking yourself, just how does the Newton Red Cross Chapter spend the dollars that are contributed by Newton citizens. 40.2% of it goes to our Newton Armed forces and veterans; for disaster preparedness and relief 9.1% is spent. On the Newton Red Cross blood program 15.1% is allotted. Health, Nursing and Safety Service 7.1%; Junior Red Cross 2.2%; Public Information 2.1%; Membership enrollment and fund raising expenses 4.3%; International Relations 0.2%; other community projects 1.1%; and general management, planning and administration 12.5%.

CHAIRMAN Frank Maher has announced that the campaign

New Lighting Is Planned for City

In requesting a $30,000 increase in the Street Department budget, Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., explained the extensive street lighting improvement program which necessitates this increase.

BY THE END of the year all principal streets in the city will be equipped with new fixtures, using much larger bulbs, placed on arms extending 6 to 12 feet into the highway. The new bulbs will be 2500 luminaries, equivalent to 200-watt lights, compared to the present 800 to 1000 luminaries, which is equivalent to 60- to 80-watt bulbs. Because of the increase in size and the prominent position of the bulbs, less lights will be required. All of the new bulbs are enclosed in globes for better diffusion and direction.

In many locations, sufficient illumination will be possible with lights on every other pole instead of on every pole as at present. A further saving to the city will be realized because the cost of current does not increase in proportion to the size of the bulb.

THE COST of installation of the new equipment will be borne by the Edison Company since most of the equipment to be replaced is over 25 years old.

Included in the $264,150 requested is $12,000 for a new skyworker for the Forestry Division to use in clearing away leaves and branches from trees that block the light. The new self-propelled vehicle is similar to the apparatus purchased last year, but has only a single bucket.

POLITICAL OVERTONES

More Sound than Sense to Arguments against Port Auth.: Eisenhower's Statements on Nixon Fail to Clarify Views

About the kindest thing that can be said for the opponents of the bill providing for the creation of a new Massachusetts Port Authority, into which would be merged the agencies now running the Logan and Bedford Airports, the Sumner Tunnel, the Mystic River Bridge and the port of Boston, is that they put on a very colorful show.

They shouted and screamed and heckled some of the supporters of the measure, but when the froth was brushed aside there was not much sense or substance of their arguments.

The main objective of the plan is to develop the Logan Airport and the port of Boston so that more commerce and air travel would be attracted here and add to the general prosperity of the metropolitan area.

Another purpose would be to build either a bridge or second traffic tunnel between East Boston and the city proper at no expense to the taxpayers in order to relieve the congestion in the Sumner tunnel and speed up travel between downtown Boston and the areas to the North.

FIRE PROTECTION FOR BLIND—Sister Thomasita, C.S.J., administrator of St. Raphael's Hall, Center street, inspects alarm box of new fire warning system which connects the home for aged blind women directly into Newton fire alarm system. Looking on are Chester W. Miles, center, of the Gamewell Co., Newton Upper Falls, which installed system, and Lieut. Lawrence N. Clark of Fire Prevention Bureau, Newton Fire Department.

Blind Now Protected by Fire Detection System

Blind residents of St. Paul's Rehabilitation Center and St. Raphael's Hall, Center street, are now protected by a modern fire detection system hooked directly into the Newton fire alarm circuits.

ELECTRONIC devices throughout the buildings detect any sudden rise in temperature, warning occupants while calling firemen by direct alarm to fire headquarters.

The system automatically sounds alarm bells on all floors of both buildings, and indicates the location of the fire on a central control board. Alarm boxes are located on the outside of both buildings. If electric power should fail, a standby battery operates the system.

THE INSTALLATION was completed recently by the Gamewell Company of Newton Upper Falls, and has the endorsement and recommendation of Lieut. Lawrence N. Clark of the Fire Prevention Bureau, Newton Fire Department.

St. Paul's rehabilitates newly-blind adults while St. Raphael's is a home for aged blind women, staffed by Sisters of St. Joseph. Both facilities are operated by the Catholic Guild for the Blind, which provides various services to the blind of the region without regard to religious belief, and conducts a religious activities program for the blind of the Archdiocese.

Fire Drives Six Families To The Street Monday

Five small children were led to safety and two firemen injured in a two-alarm fire which drove six families to the street. The fire did an estimated $5000 damage to an apartment house at 2 Walnut terrace, Newtonville, early Monday evening.

According to Fire Chief John E. Corcoran, the fire apparatus were hampered by cars too close to the corners and that a serious blaze was prevented by brick fire walls which kept the fire from spreading to the ten adjoining apartments.

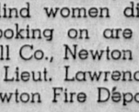

The blaze broke out in the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Oakey C. Lively, occupants of the first floor.

Treated at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital were Firemen Leo Murphy of 418 Watertown street, Newtonville, who suffered an injury to his right eye, and John Chagnon of 201 Adams avenue, West Newton, who suffered a burn on his forehead.

No, Ed Sullivan and his group were not imported from New York for the occasion, the program was planned and staged by members of the Junior I class. Peter Sahlin was the "M.C." and the entire program was directed by our music teacher, Miss Seaver.

The program opened with a clarinet and trumpet duet featuring Steven Roser and Scott Silliman. The Dancing Cat Ballet, an interesting dance number performed by Alice Schutter. Sue Draisin and Margaret Uehlein followed with a clarinet duet. "M.C." Peter Sahlin then introduced the girls ensemble which included Mary Harrington, Debby Isaacs, Arline Lamont, Beverly Smith, Linda Wheeler and Jane White.

Donald Kurson performed next with a trumpet solo. He was followed by Anne Kerr, a soloist, and Mary Hainer, comedienne. Galen Clevenger gave a vocal rendition of the popular song, Sixteen Tons. The program was rounded out with a vocal duet featuring Johanna Brown and Barbara Walazek with accompaniment by Priscilla Hall, Jerry Dangel with a trumpet solo, a piano solo featuring Patricia Humphrey and a vocal duet by Judy Bates and Nancy Cate.

The program was varied, ranging from comedy to ballet and was well balanced with vocal and instrumental pieces. Each performer demonstrated a surprising amount of talent which was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience.

A MILLION DOLLARS

What would you do with a million dollars. This intriguing question is the topic for compositions in the Junior II English classes of Mr. Caras.

This interesting assignment explains all of those puzzled but happy expressions we have seen on the faces of some Junior II members lately. I wonder if the million dollars is tax free?

Track Squad Will Be Looking For Its Fifth Straight Championship

With the coming of spring, it is time to look at the prospects for this year's outdoor track team. Under the coaching of Lemoine Boyle, the squad will be looking for its fifth straight state championship. Although hard hit by graduation, the prospects are quite good. Most often the outdoor team is stronger than their indoor mates, but this year they will surely satisfy for an equal showing. This would mean another championship.

The main reason why the outdoor team is usually superior to the indoor team is because in outdoor track there are more events calling for a better balanced team. Because the Tigers are usually weak in sprinting, which is a large part of indoor track, they do not fare so well. This year was a happy and well-earned exception, when they defeated Rindge for the state title.

Naturally the Boylermakers will miss their great shotput entry, Mel Shine, who is currently enrolled at the University of Pennsylvania. Al Rogan, John Simcock, Don Trimble, Bobby Lee, Don Bigelow, Dick DeSantis, Dave Brahms, and Dave Baker, are key losses to the Boylermakers.

Practice will not start for about three and a half weeks, so it is impossible to name the key men in each event. There is, however, a core of veterans returning from last year's team and from this year's indoor squad.

Ed Argue and Jimmy King starred as shot putters in the indoor season and should show up well this season. Brian Havey, a member of this year's cross country and indoor track teams, should be a big factor in the 880 and mile. Eddie Bograd and Menard could help out Havey in the longer distances. Sophomore sensation, Marty Beckwith, is counted on for duty in the high jump. He was terrific in the indoor season, and Marty jumped six feet two and a quarter inches in a New York meet this winter. Newton may have another Phil Reavis or Ernie Shelton in this boy. Also counted on in the high jump is Millard. Johnny Head, who turned in a brilliant performance to clinch the indoor state championship this winter, should do well in the hurdles. Morrison is another good boy for this event. Barry Gilvar, of football and track fame, is a strong possibility to help out the Boylermakers in the shorter distances, like the one and two hundred yard dashes. John Connerney, a teammate of Gilvar's on the football and track teams, is also a good short distance runner. Lou Farrugia and Mazzola are both lightning quick for the one hundred yard run. Brad Gottschalk can be a strong candidate for either the broad jump, or the hundred yard dash. Gil Bickum and Chuck Olten will be a welcome twosome to the Tigers. In the 440 or 880 Peter Nelson is a strong candidate, as is Reed in the pole vault. Ed Yobaccio can throw the javelin or discus, along with Kindred and King for assistance in the latter event.

It must be emphasized that not one of the above named boys has clinched his job. There is one thing that counts—and that is ability. The only reason these boys have been listed is because they have participated in previous track seasons. Coach Boyle is a fine handler of boys, and if the talent is there he can be counted on to turn out a strong team.

Until the season gets into full swing, and a closer look is given to the usual contenders, the power of the team can not be established. Although most coaches prefer to have their team in the role of underdog, I hope I don't curse the team by picking another championship for the Boylermakers.

Girl Wrestlers Take Over Spotlight Here

Gyrating girl grapplers take over the spotlight in the Burns-Kerr Legion wrestling show at the West Newton Armory Saturday night.

Main attraction will be a torrid tag team tussle between the Red Tigress and Slave Girl Moolah and Judy Grable and Darling Dagmar.

The fiery, sensational Slave Girl is queen of the junior heavies and one of the most colorful wrestlers ever to perform locally. Tough and talented as she is, though, she'll have her hands full Saturday.

Darling Dagmar is not only rated the most beautiful girl in the ring but one of the most able as well. Her partner, Miss Grable, has won a solid following as a result of two Armory appearances in which she displayed a potent combination of speed, savvy and strength. And in the good looks department, she's not far behind Dagmar.

Rugged action is assured in the other two bouts on Saturday night's program.

In these, badman Buddy Lee, the fans' pet hate, and Irish Pat Sullivan, their idol, will be in action, but not against each other.

Lee, a burly, 240-pound Californian, will tangle with youthful Emil Dupres, former Moncton, N.B., high school athlete who has impressed Armory assemblages.

Sully will clash with Gypsy Joe Gonzales, known as the vagabond villian.

Square Dancing To Be Held Here

Dudley Briggs of Belmont, well-known square dance teacher and caller, will make his first appearance, with Mrs. Briggs as his assistant, at the West Newton Unitarian Parish Hall, 1326 Washington street, West Newton, at the invitation of the First Unitarian Church, which is sponsoring a square dance, to begin at 7:50 o'clock Friday evening, March 23. Refreshments are included in the 75 cents admission, and all ages are invited, according to Mrs. Ernest W. Kuebler, chairman of the arrangements committee. Proceeds will go towards the Activities Committee's annual fund-raising for the church.

Mrs. Henry Whitmore, chairman of the Activities Committee, held a meeting at the parish hall, Tuesday morning, March 13, to complete arrangements for the March 23 square dance. Assisting on the committee, in addition to Mrs. Kuebler, are Mrs. Russell J. Barrnett and Mrs. John A Stackpole.

Dudley Briggs, who teaches English and history at Belmont Junior High School, makes square dancing his avocation. In the summer he is on the staff of Square Acres, a square dance family camp at Bridgewater. He is currently conducting a square dance course at Belmont High School, and has been caller this sesason for dances in Winchester and Needham and at the Hunnewell Club in Newton. Mr. Briggs specializes in square and related round dancing. He is a member of the North of Boston Callers' Association and the Old Colony Callers' Association.

-- Sport Shorts --

At a recent baseball practice, the Milwaukee Braves scout for this area showed interest in Jackie McCree, Russ Halloran, and Kenney Keyes. McCree, a speedster who plays the outfield, was a key factor in the relay team for indoor track and shows his speed when playing his position and running out base hits. Keyes, a great hockey player, can play either second base or the outfield. Russ, an all-star baseball pitcher and basketball player, was very impressive.

—o—

The scout took a good look at all players and said that the team looked good for such an early stage of practice. He will be back. There will also be other scouts before the season is over.

—o—

Melrose, a great hockey club, recently won the New England championship. The Tigers lost to Melrose twice—each time by one goal. Congratulations to the Melrose coach and players. A true test of Newton's ability can be seen by noticing the close scores of their two meetings.

—o—

Durfee High, which won the Tech Tourney in a great game with Winchester, was a surprise to yours truly. From performances against our own Tigers, Brockton and North Quincy seemed to be the best teams.

—o—

In a recent article, concerning the prospects for this year's baseball team, several boys were listed as strong candidates. They have not clinched their jobs as yet. No job is decided or settled! So, you boys who weren't listed—keep fighting!

—o—

In their second year of competition, the rifle team is completing their second successful season. With luck the team could win six or seven of their nine matches.

Before next year's hockey season rolls around I think a change in rules is necessary for the selection of the teams to compete in Massachusetts finals, etc. Newton lost four games all by one goal. Surely a better team than their record shows.

Spring Musical

Three performances of the Spring Musical were given last weekend. Each show was comprised of Cox and Box, Shades of Rhythm, and Trial by Jury. Shades of Rhythm was a variety of dances presented by the modern dance group, Orchesis. Miss Cheeney was the choreographer. Dr. Barry did a fine job in Trial by Jury, although before seeing the performance, his many friends could not understand how he could have a part in a musical but they saw, Dr. Barry had a non-singing role. Congratulations also to Mr. Merrit, Mr. Lasker, and Mr. Peck, the whole cast, the orchestra, and all the various committees which helped make the 1956 Spring Musical the success that it was.

Sue Stone, who played the part of the bride in Trial by Jury, says of the show, "Gilbert and Sullivan at Newton High has brought work, fun, and enjoyment to all of us. It was great!" Sue was also in Amahl and the Night Visitors, which was presented at this year's Christmas Vespers.

Club News

Did you know that Newton High School has a special club for Chess players? The Chess Club, sponsored by Mr. Bissex, has twenty members all of whom are boys. The president, Arnie Jacobson, has organized a double-elimination tournament to set up the club. Any boy or girl with a good knowledge of chess is welcome.

Sophomore Dance

Carefree happiness and wonderful fun will be yours to enjoy when you go to Jambolya. April 7 is the magic day and 8 to 12 are the magic hours when your life will be filled with dancing, entertainment, and refreshments. The best part of all is that they don't have to travel farther than the Newton High Gym.

"We hope to transport you to a South Sea Isle the minute you cross the threshhold," says dance chairman Peter Derow. Palm trees, soft lights, and heavenly music will be there for your enjoyment. Penny Doswell and her decorations committee are making sure that everything is in place so that you can get into the mood. Jim Yancey and his ticket committee will see that everyone's passport is in order. Even the Eskimos will be singing "Jambolya" when Barbara Dubin's publicity committee is finished. Gail Spuler's entertainment committee is lining up the music you like to listen and dance to. Every gourmet will be delighted with the refreshments that Richard Van Dam and his refreshment committee have prepared. Sandy Douglas and her hospitality committee will make everyone feel welcome.

Under the direction of Mr. Boyd almost a hundred Sophs are going all out to make Jambolya a success. Remember, April 7, 8-12, in the gym. See you then.

Drama Festival

The evening of February 17 at Newton High School was the climax and the beginning. To be more specific, the climax was arrived at by the choosing of the play that is going to represent Newton in the regional, the state, and the New England contest (we hope). The beginning is now on hand, for Newton has a long climb to finally reach the top — the competing for the New England Drama Festival award.

The play that received the honor of representing Newton High was The Corn is Green. The cast is as follows: Jones, Phil Bolton; Idwal, Roger Tucker; Mrs. Watty, Nancy Wilbert; Sarah, Barbara Dentino; Bessie, Elaine Moran; Will, Reinier Beeuwkes; Glynn, Bill Foster; Squire, Bob Sade; Miss Moffet, Nancy Levine; Miss Ronberry, Linda Bailey; M[illegible]an, Jim Dangel.

Crozier Council K. of C. Anniversary

The first reception and dinner of the Crozier Council, Knights of Columbus was a happy occasion for its members, relatives and friends at the Newton Center Women's Club.

The speakers of the evening were Most Reverend Eric MacKenzie, who was principal speaker, Mayor Whitmore, State officers of the Knights of Columbus, and Grand Knight John Mullen who received the new charter from State Secretary of the K. of C., James Norton.

Seated at the head table, which was festively decorated in honor of the Council's first birthday, were Bishop MacKenzie, his assistant, Reverend Patrick Gilmore, Mayor Whitmore, Mrs. Whitmore, State officers and their wives, Grand Knight John Mullen, and activities chairman, William F. McDonough who acted as toastmaster of the evening.

Mrs. William F. McDonough was in charge of decorations. Miss Mary Keenan, a consultant in the Newton public schools, rendered several beautiful vocal selections. She was accompanied on the piano by her mother.

The Newton Policemen and Firemen's Glee Club sang several splendid songs and Larry Cooper's Orchestra played during the dinner.

A highlight of the evening was when a beautiful birthday cake, containing the Knights of to the head table. Miss Keenan led the group in the singing of Columbus emblem, was wheeled "Happy Birthday."

Would Have the State Pay for Police Training

Representative George E. Rawson has filed a bill for Public Safety Commissioner Otis M. Whitney providing that the State pay the cost of training local police officers at the Massachusetts Police Academy.

The present law requires the town or city to pay a cost of $100 per man. To many small towns, this makes such necessary training impossible.

The school, located at Framingham State Police barracks, accommodates 100 men and gives them the same four-week course that State Police trainees receive. Officers trained at the Academy have greatly improved police operations and conditions in their towns.

At the hearing on the bill before the Committee on Public Safety last Thursday, representatives of the Mass. Police Chiefs' Association and Department of Public Safety strongly urged passage of the bill.

Two main arguments have been offered to the proposal. One is that it is a give-away and a steal. The claim has been embellished with all sorts of wild charges and obligations. The second objection is that it would increase the tolls for motorists using the Mystic River Bridge or Sumner tunnel.

It's entirely possible that some increase in tolls might result, although that it is not necessarily the case. They might go up, as a matter of fact, if a new tunnel were built under any auspices.

If two tunnels instead of one link East Boston and downtown Boston, the operating costs and carrying charges obviously would be larger, and motorists might have to pay a larger toll for the added convenience. That certainly is not unreasonable. Somebody has to pay for a second tunnel, and it should be the persons who use it.

From the arguments that have been offered it might be assumed that the bridge, the tunnel, the airports and the port facilities, all built with the people's money, were to be turned over to some private corporation to be operated for the benefit of its stockholders. One legislator, in fact, protested that this plan was the "Baby Dixon-Yates of 1956."

That, of course, is silly. They would be turned over to a seven-man authority to be run for the people. The seven members of that authority would be unpaid. They would be asked to contribute their time and talents as a public service. They would serve in a sort of supervisory capacity and would be unpaid. They would be asked to contribute their time and talents as a public service. They would serve in a sort of supervisory capacity and would engage experts to do the work in the various fields.

Whatever profits, if any, were realized, would be used to pay off the loans floated for the construction of new facilities. When those facilities were paid for, they would be owned by the people. If the new authority did not live up to expectations, it could be wiped out at any time by the Legislature.

The main objection with the present setup is that it is cumbersome and unwieldy. If the port comissioners want public funds to promote the port of Boston in order to attract more shipping here, they must go with their hat in their hands to the Legislature to beg for it. Usually, they get turned down by legislators who are understandably reluctant to enact any new taxes. The result is that the port is not promoted, and only a trickle of shipping moves into the best located and finest natural harbor on the Atlantic seaboard.

Organized labor is supporting the Port Authority bill for the simple and quite logical reason that it promises to improve the prosperity of the metropolitan area and provide new employment opportunities for many workers.

A strange spectacle was presented at the recent hearings when labor spokesmen stood before the House ways and means committee to argue for the measure and were heckled by Democratic legislators fighting the plan.

This caused some puzzlement because if the bill is a good one it is good for Republicans and Democrats alike. And if it is a bad bill it is bad for members of both parties. Whatever else may be said either for or against it, no issue of partisan politics is involved in it.

The real story behind the opposition by a large number of Democratic legislators is that former Governor Paul A. Dever is bitterly against the proposal, and he has undertaken to line up as many House and Senate members as possible in his attempt to defeat it Publicly, Dever's objections are the same as those voiced by witnesses at the State House hearings on the matter. Privately, he is probably concerned that some of the men he appointed to boards and commissions would lose their posts, if the various agencies are consolidated into one.

That is an understandable feeling on Dever's part. But the cold fact of the matter is that it is not a good reason for killing this bill if it represents progress for Metropolitan Boston.

Some Democratic legislators are on the spot in this matter. They do not want to offend Dever who still wields great influence in the Democratic party; neither are they anxious to displease their own constituents on whom they must depend for reelection next autumn.

Quite a few House and Senate members have cast some uneasy glances back at the votes they cast against the $200,000,000 bond issue last year. There is still time to remedy that mistake, and the highway loan undoubtedly will be enacted during the present legislation session.

There will be no second vote before election on the Port Authority bill. Some of the Democratic legislators, who are being importuned by persons close to Dever to vote against it, know that if they do so, they are going to be called upon to explain their actions on the campaign stump next September and October. And the explanations offered so far are not very convincing when they are examined in the cold light of sober reason and logic.

Believe GOP Leaders Will Drop Nixon

When a highly placed Republican in Washington made a friendly 5-4 wager last week that Vice President Richard M. Nixon will not be on the ticket with President Eisenhower next November, other GOP politicos privately told the person who bet that Nixon would be renominated and that he might as well pay up now.

They predicted that Ike will make a series of confusing and bewildering statements at his press conference designed to save face for Nixon and let him down easily but that when all the double-talking is ended and the time for action arrives, Nixon will be dropped.

Some long-distance observers thought the President was giving his blessing to Nixon, when he told reporters at his newspaper conference that there would be some "commotion" around his office, if anyone had the effrontery to suggest that he dump Nixon. The Vice President, however, was obviously not one of those who placed any such interpretation on the remarks; nor did he derive any comfort from it.

The fact is that Mr. Eisenhower has done some very fancy verbal toe-dancing on the subject of Nixon, and the indications are that he will do a great deal more before this rather embarrassing subject is finally closed.

For example, Ike told reporters that he had not presumed to tell Nixon what to do with his own future. He said he considers the Vice President one of the "comers" in the Republican party and that all he had asked him to do is to chart out his own course and "tell me."

There is very good reason to believe that President Eisenhower was being somewhat less than frank and candid in making that answer. He was then asked the obvious question whether that meant that he would be content to have Nixon as his running mate if the latter elected to remain on the ticket.

The President replied that he was not going to be pushed into a corner and maneuvered into answing a hypothetical question "involving about five ifs." He then went on to say that he had no criticism of Vice President Nixon either as a man, as an associate or as his running mate on the GOP ticket.

That, of course, did not answer the rather simple question put to him, as Ike very well knew.

There is no doubt in the mind of any well informed politician in Washington that Nixon is willing, eager and anxious to be nominated again for Vice President and that he is completely cold to the idea of being "promoted downstairs" to a position in the cabinet.

These are the facts in the Nixon case:

1. He has not been asked directly, whether he would like the Vice Presidential nomination. If he were asked, the answer would be a resounding "Yes."

2. It has been diplomatically suggested to Nixon that he should consider whether his political fortunes would be better served if he took a cabinet post which might provide him with a more promising springboard to the Presidential nomination in 1960 than would the Vice Presidency. (Nixon cannot follow the logic of that reasoning and is aware that it is nothing more than an attempt to sidetrack him.)

3. Some cautious Republicans are not at all certain that President Eisenhower is a sure and easy winner for reelection, and they believe he would be considerably less sure if Nixon is again his ticket mate.

4. They point out that Ike cannot be reelected by Republicans alone, and that he must draw from the Independents and Democrats as he did in 1952. Nixon, they fear, might hurt his chances of doing so.

5. The President himself has indicated to Nixon that he should consider stepping down if there is substantial evidence that he would weaken the GOP ticket.

6. Meanwhile, Mr. Eisenhower is waiting more detailed and precise information concerning Nixon's popularity or lack of it with the rank and file of the voters. If he becomes convinced that Nixon's presence on the ticket with him would drive away votes, as most of his advisers are insisting, then Nixon will be dumped in the interests of political expediency, whether he accepts the situation gracefully or not.

TWO-PARTY SYSTEM

On April 24 Massachusetts will hold a Presidential Primary. The voter who participates in this primary will play a significant part in keeping our two-party system strong. Each of our two major parties will present a ballot of candidates for local ward, city and state offices and delegates to the national party conventions. Each of our two major parties will sponsor as strong and competent a slate of candidates as the party voter demands.

Have your say. Register today. March 23 is the closing date for registration of those who wish to be eligible to vote in this primary.

To reassess in our own minds the importance of voting in primaries we have only to remind ourselves of what our two-party system is and how it functions on the political scene in our country today.

Our two-party system is a government and an opposition. Our two major parties differ only in their means of achieving the same basic social and ideological ends.

By contrast, in a multiple party system there are numerous parties each of which identifies itself with a specific cause or social or ideological purpose. These parties live, grow and die with the cause they were created to bear. In order for a party to be in power under the multiple party system it must combine with other parties to form a coalition.

Here in the United States we have witnessed the appearance of many minor parties — Greenbacks, Prohibitionists, Free Soilers, Communists, Socialists and Dixiecrats — to name a few. In each case these parties have been the vehicles of a particular cause, and they have never met with any success or permanence. Actually the strength of our two major parties lies in their lack of identification with any specific cause or group interest.

Here in our political life the American citizen makes his special interests heard through the many pressure groups which try to influence the platforms and candidates of both parties. The granges, the veterans' organizations, women's groups, labor unions, industrial organizations, chambers of commerce and many similar types of organizations are the vehicles through which the voter makes his many and diversified interests felt by the two political parties.

Our American political party is not a cause organization. It accepts causes when they have been accepted by a probable majority of the American people. Thus the party platforms take shape and the campaign issues of the opposing candidacies are delineated.

We might well liken our two party system to an American business corporation. As the corporation sells a product so the party sells service. The citizen shops around until he finds the best product, or, in the case of the party, the best government service for which he pays with his vote. The public benefits from this competition in ideas between the two parties just as it benefits from competition between producers of commodities and this competition is as desirable and useful in politics as it is in the market place.

The existence and value of this competition continues between elections as well as during the campaign. The importance of the opposition party in vigilantly checking and criticising the party in power cannot be underestimated. It is, of course, important that this criticism be reasonable and not undermining confidence here and abroad. As long as there are two political parties potentially able to win an election the voter will benefit by the competition between them.

Today our two-party system is faced with new problems. At a time when political costs are very much on the rise, the political spoils system is greatly reduced. A competent civil service program based on a strong merit system is extending itself almost to the top level of authority. This is beneficial for continuous effective government during the transition from one party in power to the other. But it presents a problem in recruiting good, strong party workers.

Another party problem is the increase in the number of independent voters in the country. The independent voter has no choice in the selection of party nominees. He gives himself no voice in raising the quality of the party's candidates.

For those who are independents because they do not wish to have their party affiliation known, it is still possible to vote in the primaries. These voters simply ask for the ballot of their choice at the primaries and any time following primary election day, they may go to City Hall in person and ask that the party designation be removed from their name. In this way no party designation will ever appear beside their name on the printed voting list.

Of course there are still a large number of voters who go into actual party work. Some are looking for a political career or a job. Others are seeking advancement for some special interest. Still other patriotic citizens are interested in raising the quality of the party of their choice, or work to preserve our two-party system.

It is incumbent on all of us to do our share to keep our two-party system strong. Becoming more informed voters and voting in all elections is a duty as well as a privilege for all of us. Let us register every eligible unregistered voter we can by March 23 so that our April 24 primary will find a record number of our citizens at the polls.

Remember — YOU are the strength of the party and therefore only if you vote in the primary elections can the strength of our two-party system be maintained.

Don't let your candidates be chosen for you.

Newtonite of the Week

By LEWIS PAUL SIMONS

PHILIP K. BROWN

This week the Graphic is proud to salute Philip K. Brown of 191 Waban Avenue, Waban. Mr. Brown is Chapter Chairman of the Newton Red Cross. He has been serving in this volunteer capacity since October of 1955.

Mr. Brown's original exposure to the Red Cross came literally through the back door. For many years Mrs. Brown had been a Motor Service Driver. One evening she had some fairly heavy equipment in her car which needed to be unloaded at headquarters. She enlisted her husband's service for this task and so Mr. Brown unloaded the car at the back door of the Red Cross building. He liked what he saw, and when an invitation to join the Board of Directors was offered, he willingly accepted.

During his six year association with the Red Cross Mr. Brown has served on the Finance and Executive Committees.

The American Red Cross, of which the Newton Chapter is an affiliate, is quite an extraordinary organization. Its original Charter comes directly from the United States' Congress. This Charter enumerates 4 mandatory programs which each chapter must carry on. They are as follows: (1) aid to servicemen and their families, (2) disaster relief, (3) fund raising, and (4) public information. The Blood Program, although not designated by the Charter, is carried on by almost all Red Cross Chapters.

Aid to servicemen is often a misunderstood function. The Red Cross cannot compel the Armed Services to send a man home on emergency furlough or obtain a compassionate transfer. All it can do is investigate the circumstances and make recommendation. In many cases these recommendations are accepted and in others rejected.

During World War II and the Korean War the Red Cross was authorized to operate close behind the lines and at Rest Areas. As many servicemen know, cigarettes, coffee and doughnuts were sold to them by the Red Cross. The Red Cross was required to take money for these articles because of orders from the War Department and not through Red Cross policy.

The success of the Disaster Relief Program has been brought home dramatically here in New England. Worcester, the Connecticut floods, and the hurricanes of last summer wiped out all the earthly possessions of thousands of people. Without the Red Cross many of these people would have had an insurmountable rehabilitation problem. It should be kept in mind that Red Cross money to replace houses, furniture, and other needed goods is given without an attached string of repayment.

Fund raising is self explanatory. Without money none of these programs could go on.

Other services that the Newton Red Cross offers to the community are courses in first aid, water safety, and mother and baby care. The Red Cross sponsors Nurses Aid, Nursing Service, the Junior Red Cross, the Grey Ladies, and many other functions.

Mr. Brown, as Chapter Chairman, is responsible for the smooth working of all these programs. He sees to it that the quality of service is high and available to those who wish to make use of it.

Mr. Brown is president of Promotions Inc. which is the famous Hart Model Agency. This firm specializes in fashion promotions and is responsible for many fine fashion shows in Greater Boston. The popular Herald-Traveler Fashion Show is a product of Promotions Inc.

The Red Cross is a vital community service supported by voluntary public subscription. It behooves all of us to support this organization monetarily lest we suffer in time of need.

Memorial School PTA Meets Mar. 22

The first report of Newton's White House Conference on Education will be made to members of the Memorial School PTA by a distinguished trio of speakers — Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., Supt. of Schools Dr. Harold B. Gores and Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., executive director of the Newton Taxpayers Association.

Initial results of the Conference and some of the discussions will be summarized at the Memorial School PTA meeting at 8 p.m., Thursday, March 22, in the school auditorium, it was announced this week by PTA program chairman Bert Harmon.

This will be the first opportunity for Newton residents to get a first-hand report from the men who direct and influence school policy. Dr. Gores will give some frank answers to the teacher problem in Newton. Mayor Whitmore plans to present official views concerning the school building program and Mr. Muther will give a straightforward balance sheet of costs and taxes.

Memorial School's own problems with the addition of new housing in the school area will be aired, also. An influx of new residents will require a addition to the school — and this, too, will concern speakers at the PTA meeting, for any additions must be financed as well as staffed.

The theme of the Conference, Education is Everybody's Business," applies in equal measure to the March 22nd meeting, according to chairman Bert Harmon. "If your children attend school, you have a vital stake in the results of the Conference which will be presented during the PTA meeting; and even if your families are grown up — or are still too young for school — your taxes support the schools and you should not miss this chance to hear your own business discussed."

Members of the committee which planned the PTA meeting, in addition to the program chairman, are: Bernard Plotkin, Nancy Brown, Bea Flaschner, Sybil Frumson, Jacqueline Harmon, Toni Fagan, Frances Litman, John McLead, and PTA President Richard Dwyer.

We Back the Biggest Difference in Cars Today With a Total of

$25,000 PERSONAL AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT Insurance

Divided Equally Between Husband and Wife
At No Extra Cost To You With Your New

Rambler · Hudson · Nash · Metropolitan

Here's the Big Difference That Makes It Possible

Why a total of $25,000 Personal Automobile Accident Insurance is given at No Extra Cost!

We back our confidence that American Motors cars are stronger, safer, more modern than others by giving each buyer of a new Rambler, Nash, Hudson or Metropolitan a total of $25,000 Personal Automobile Accident Insurance at no extra cost—divided equally between husband and wife.

This insurance provides for the payment of $12,500 to beneficiary or estate of either you or your spouse (if a member of your household at time of purchase)—thus providing the total of $25,000—if either or both should be fatally injured while driving or riding (either separately or together) in your new private passenger American Motors car anywhere in the world. Both are insured for the entire first year of ownership.

Covers fatality resulting within 100 days after date of accident. Applies to privately-owned cars purchased in the continental United States and Alaska where state insurance regulations permit.

Don't buy any new car until you get the facts about the priceless protection only American Motors cars can give you! See your Nash dealer! See your Hudson dealer!

Bennett Cerf Interviews George Romney

Noted publisher, columnist and television personality gets inside story of revolutionary advance in car construction from the President of American Motors.

CERF: Mr. Romney, why do you offer a total of $25,000 insurance with your new cars?

ROMNEY: It backs our claim that "single unit" construction makes the strongest, safest, most modern cars.

CERF: Is there really that much difference between the way you and other manufacturers make cars?

ROMNEY: All the difference between yesterday's railway coach and today's streamliner. Other cars still use a principle old as the oxcart: A flat frame bolted under a separate body. In our cars, frame and body are welded as a "single unit". It's the biggest stride since the all-steel body.

CERF: And this makes a safer car?

ROMNEY: Twice as safe. Instead of a flat frame underfoot, our frame is a steel, box-girder enclosure as big as the car. It gives you "wrap-around" protection in front, rear, sides and top.

CERF: That sounds like real protection.

ROMNEY: That's not all. Flat frames others use are stiff, so they transmit collision force throughout the car. Our big steel box-girders up front absorb most of the impact. They take the brunt of the punishment instead of passengers.

CERF: What about performance?

ROMNEY: That's a real plus. "Single unit" construction gives a better power-weight ratio. It's stronger and safer, but eliminates useless weight and bulk. Our cars have set many racing records.

CERF: And economy?

ROMNEY: They're tops. Rambler holds the gas mileage record in Mobilgas Economy Runs. Again, because our "hard-muscled" single unit avoids dead weight.

CERF: I like room and comfort.

ROMNEY: Nash and Hudson have more room inside than any high-priced car. Rambler equals medium-priced big cars. As for ride, the greater strength of our "single unit" lets us use larger springs, and superior front suspension.

CERF: Isn't resale value important?

ROMNEY: You bet. Rambler has top resale value in the low price field. In addition to other advantages, welded single unit cars last longer, make better used cars.

CERF: If all you say is true, why don't the Big Three make cars your way?

ROMNEY: You see, mere "bigness" can be a handicap in advanced automobile engineering. One of the biggest of the "Big 3" was years behind others in adopting the all-steel body. The bigger you are, the more factories you have—the more it costs to change.

CERF: I can understand that.

ROMNEY: Beginning in 1940, we spent over $50,000,000 to develop the "single unit" car. Today, it will cost the biggest companies billions to re-tool for our method.

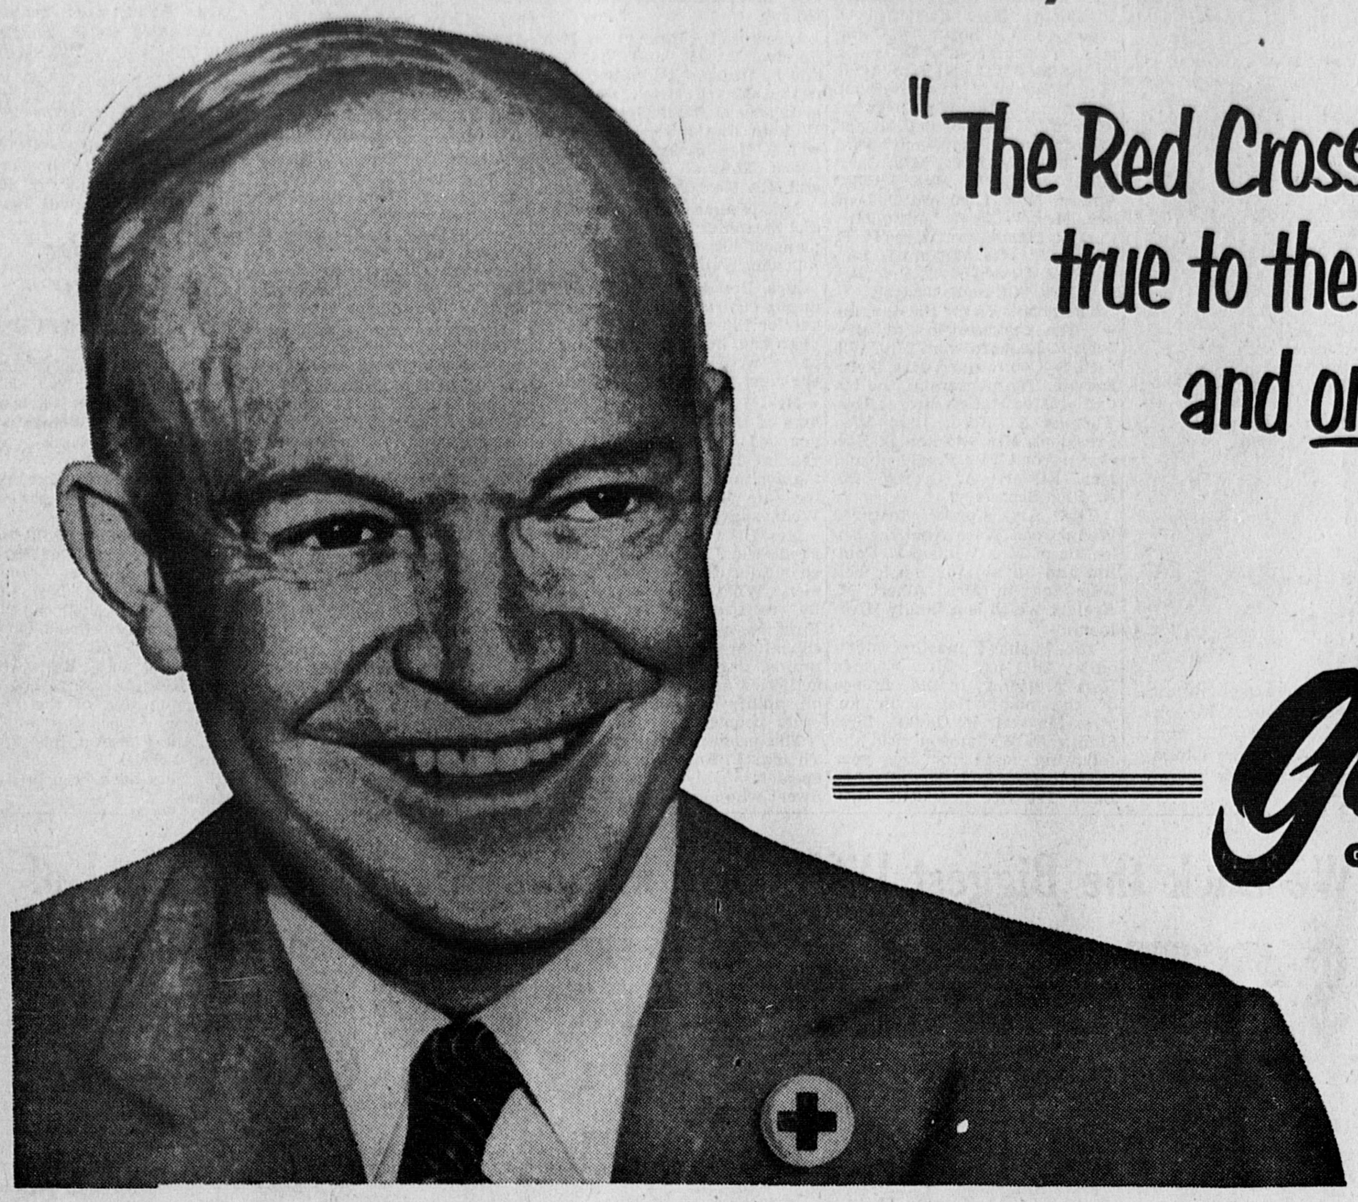

CERF: Do you think they will follow you?

ROMNEY: No doubt about it. Our major competitors will probably make the change gradually—piecemeal—or one model at a time. Frankly, we will be happy to see our "single unit" construction adopted, because it will mean better, safer cars on American highways.

CERF: Well, I'm about ready for another car. I'm going down to look at American Motors cars.

ROMNEY: All I ask anyone to do is see and drive our modern "single unit" cars at a Nash or Hudson dealer's. The rest is up to you.

Forum on Foreign Policy to Be Held

A forum on the United States foreign policy will be presented March 18, at 8:30 p.m., by Sisterhood Temple Reyim at a Congregation meeting.

The guests will be Congressman Tobert Macdonald, Dem., from the 8th Congressional District, and Congressman Lawrence Curtis, Rep. from the 10th Congressional District. They will speak on our foreign policy after which there will be a rebuttal by each. A question period from the audience will follow.

Mr. Joshua Guberman, prominent Boston lawyer, who is associated with the American Jewish Congress and the Jewish Community Council, will be the moderator.

Congressman Macdonald, a former Harvard football captain, was elected to the 84th Congress in 1954. During his term, he was appointed to the key Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee of the House and was elected majority whip for the New England area. He is one of the very few newcomers ever to be elected to the chairmanship of a Congressional Sub-Committee. He served as chairman of the Congressional sub-committee charged with investigating trade in South East Asia between the free countries and Red China and recently returned from a 36,000 mile tour of this critical area. During World War II, he was decorated for gallantry in action while commanding a P.T. boat in the Southwest Pacific.

Congressman Curtis, a native of Boston, graduated from Harvard University. He served during World War I as a Navy flyer until he lost a leg in a crash. He came back and graduated from Harvard Law School in 1921. For one year, he was secretary to Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes. He was Assistant U. S. Attorney in Boston, ran and was elected to Boston City Council in the late '20s. He went on to serve in the State House of Representatives, and then was elected to the State Senate. In 1948, he was elected State Treasurer and in 1952, he was elected to Congress, and was re-elected in 1954.

Mrs. Edward Rosenwald will preside. Mrs. Albert Sinofsky, Social Action Chairman, will introduce the program. Refreshments will be served. All are welcome.

Harvard Band Concert To Aid Scholarship Fund

The schools and scholarship committee of the Harvard Club of Boston Foundation is setting a new goal of $16,000 for their current scholarship fund drive. Each succeeding year scholarship funds have increased. This is due in part to the success of the Harvard University Band Concert at Symphony Hall, sponsored by the Harvard Club of Boston Foundation. All tickets are tax exempt and proceeds are used for these scholarships. This year's concert will be on March 23 and tickets range from $1.50 to $5.00. They are on sale at the box office, at ticket agencies and in Cambridge at the "Coop" and at Briggs and Briggs.

This year 15 freshmen and nine upperclassmen were helped with scholarship assistance at Harvard with the $13,900 raised last year. One of the freshmen awards this year was made to Levon G. Kassarjian, Jr., of Newton High.

DAR To Hear Wildlife Speaker

The Lucy Jackson Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met last Monday at the chapter house in Newton Lower Falls.

Mrs. Walter E. Holden, the regent, conducted the business meeting. She welcomed into the chapter Mrs. Roscoe Webber, a new member. A moment of silent prayer was held in memory of Miss Nella Pearson. After the officers' reports had been heard, Mrs. Holden told of the proposal of a new Archives building to shelter the numerous and precious historical documents of the state. It would be fire-proof, bomb-proof, and air-conditioned, and is a real necessity as Massachusetts possesses more historical documents than any other state in the union.

Mr. Robert L. Grayce, a member of the Massachusetts Audubon Society, and former junior ornithologist of a MacMillan expedition, spoke on "Wild Life at Home," and illustrated his talk with colored movies.

Te was served by Mrs. Walter R. Amesbury and Mrs. Theodore Nixon and the committee with Mrs. Edward H. Mendell and Miss Katherine E. Cutter pouring.

The union Lenten Services for the churches of Newton Centre are being held each Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. in the sanctuary of the Methodist Church. The Rev. Nathanael Guptill, pastor of the First Church Congregational, will be the preacher on March 21st.

There's safety in "scatterment"

by don herold

And Watertown Federal's Middle Name Is "Scatterment"

One of several reasons your savings are safe at Watertown Federal is that Watertown Federal re-invests them in literally hundreds of first mortgages on good homes.

This is diversification at its best. Only a tiny fraction of Watertown Federal's assets are invested in any one mortgage.

And these loans are reduced every month by the home owners, so that each mortgage becomes a better mortgage for Watertown Federal and for you.

"My telephone is the biggest bargain I ever found"

Most of us are too busy to give the family telephone much thought. Yet when you count the tasks it does, and the comfort it brings as well as the protection it gives, you do realize its value to you and your family.

When you compare what your telephone does with how little it costs, doesn't it turn out to be a real bargain — every day of the year?

The Committee on Participation with Mrs. J. Lawrance Oncley and Dr. Sem Hedrick in charge tackled the problem of assuring representation from every segment of the community in order that the conference might truly reflect a cross section of attitude rather than a partisan point of view. The goal of two laymen to each educator involved was a guiding principle, maintained from the composition of the first invitation to specific groups to the distribution of 34,000 flyers to 28,000 Newton domiciles.

THIS LATTER operation has invoked the postal skills of Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls and the Boys' Clubs of Newton, with assemblyline efficiency concentrated on packaging, addressing and delivering the flyers to distribution areas. Mrs. Maurice Strauss has not only kept a master crossfile of personnel and preconference activities, but with her committee has mailed background material upon receipt of each application for attendance.

The Participation Committee has also planned a post-conference Visitation Day on which interested citizens may see the Junior High Schools, the Senior High School, the Technical-Vocational High School and the Newton Junior College in action. Dr. Harold Gores, Superintendent of the Newton schools, and other school heads will meet with the visiting groups at the High School and at the Day Junior High on Wednesday evening, April 4, to answer directly any questions about our schools, and the following day, April 5, the schools mentioned above will be hosts to interested Newtonites. Conference participants may sign up for this unusual opportunity on March 16 and 17, after which a letter will be sent giving them a chance to indicate which particular classrooms or other aspects of the system they are most anxious to observe. This active group in Participation has included:

Chairmen: Mrs. J. Lawrance Oncley and Dr. Sam Hedrick; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Cohen, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dietz, Aurelio DiMuzio, Mrs. Jay Gilfix, Fr. Daniel Gilmartin, Mrs. Frank Greene, Mrs. Earl Ham, Mrs. Riley Hampton, Mrs. David Hume.

Mrs. Henry Portnoi, Mrs. Irving Rabinowitz, Mrs. C. L. Renker, Mrs. Philip Ross, Mrs. Herbert Rubin, Fred Sawyer, Mrs. R. W. Smith, Mrs. Maurice Strauss, Mrs. Newell Trask.

Mrs. Frederick J. Wood and Dr. Franklin P. Hawkes have jointly supervised the strategic Committee on Arrangements, whose activities have ranged from the daily sorting of registration slips to table decoration for luncheon on Saturday. Preparation of the physical facilities for the conference, parking, assignments to workshop discussion groups, lost and found service, ushers and finally exhibits and displays allied to discussion topics have all fallen within the province of arrangements, whose staff has enjoyed the services of:

Chairmen: Mrs. Frederick J. Wood and Dr. Franklin P. Hawkes; Mrs. Leonard C. Bassett, Mrs. Lyman Beggs, Mrs. David Berkowitz, Miss Ann Caldwell, Mrs. Morgan Campbell, Mr. Charles Chase, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cikins, Mrs. David Cooper, Mrs. William Custer, Mrs. Cornelius Dalton, Miss Ruth Dority, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Genaske, Mrs. Forrest Goldsmith, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Goldstein.

In addition, members of the Hi-Y Club of Newton, and student members of the Newton High School Parent-Teachers-Student Association are rendering various types of service.

ALL AVAILABLE media of communication have been utilized by the Public Relations and Publicity Committee, headed by Mr. Harvey Kazmeir and Mr. George Hicks. Newspaper coverage, radio announcements, television interviews with outstanding conference personalities and a city-wide display of posters have helped publicize this outstanding coming event. Engaged in this labor were:

Leo Barry, Samuel Bornstein, Mrs. William A. Curby, Rev. Louis E. Ford, Mrs. Ralph Hamilton, Mrs. Matthew Jefferson, Eugene Lomax, Jr., Mrs. E. I. MacPhie, Mrs. Joseph W. Miller, Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst, Miss Katherine Torrant, Vincent J. Tuscher, Robert T. Ward, Ralph Werman, Mrs. Norman Zamcheck.

The Follow-Up Committee under Mr. Harold Wooster and Mr. Philip J. McNiff has plotted most of its work from March 16 on. Members of this group will circulate throughout the conference to record trends and attitudes. They plan an informal luncheon conclave on Saturday and have scheduled thereafter two group meetings preparatory to issuance of a multilith digest covering their evaluation of the conference findings. The members of this committee are:

Joel Bloom, William Curby, Mrs. Thomas S. Derr, Mrs. Robert P. Freeto, Mrs. William Guterman, Dr. Roger Hamilton, Frank Heys, Jr., Mrs. William G. Klein, Mrs. William S. Knickerbocker, Mrs. Sumner D. Liebman, Miss Mary C. McSwiney, Mrs. Philip McNiff, Mrs. Paul Melrose, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walen, Mrs. David White, Mrs. Henry Whitmore, Jr.

The sixth committee, Printing, consists of Mr. Lawrence H. Anderson. Together with the indefatigable Miss Gwen Frederickson, he has been responsible for all printed matter pertaining to the conference. This material has run the gamut from simple letters to 35 pages of background information for those engaged in the workshop units.

WHILE the sheer mass of hours devoted to preparation of this conference could probably be documented with reasonable accuracy, no statistic could possibly indicate the selfless giving of energy and imagination to make a success of this vast endeavor, the thought, time, legwork and gratifying labor that brought it into being.

To the parents, educators, administrators and people of every background and pursuit, who cared enough to contribute in whatever manner they were able, grateful thanks from the small group whose early efforts you have nurtured into this meeting of all the people.

FINAL PLANS for "Aid for Cancer Research" luncheon and fashion show to be held at the Hotel Statler Friday, March 16, 1956, are being discussed at a hostess coffee hour at the home of Mrs. Alvin Ludwig. Visiting Nurses Honor Two For Long Community Service

The Board of Directors of the Newton Visiting Nurse Association has voted honorary membership to two women who have each served this Red Feather agency and the community for over thirty years. They are Mrs. Lewis H. Marshall of Hartford Street in Newton Highlands and Mrs. Charles J. H. Wilson of Brookside Avenue in Newtonville. Their story is Newton's story from before the first world war to the present

Mrs. Lewis H. Marshall came to Newton as a teacher from early positions in Templeton and Malden. She taught in several Newton schools: the Hyde School, the old Pierce School, and the Burr School in Auburndale. She has no children of her own, but she still receives letyears ago in her honor. Eddtt years ago and treasures the memory of a party in 1945 which many of them gave in her honor.

Mrs. Charles J. H. Wilson came from Canada to train for a nursing career at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, whose good reputation had spread to her country. Upon graduation Mrs. Wilson was asked to stay on at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital as assistant to the director of the School of Nursing and as a teacher of nurses, positions which she held for twelve years. She remembers when nurses had twelve hour tours of duty and when the present headquarters of the Newton Visiting Nurse Association on the hospital grounds housed the contagious wards and there were two cases of leprosy in the outermost wing. Since their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have lived in Newton, and she has given constantly of her knowledge of nursing to community organizations.. The Wilsons have a daughter, who graduated from Newton High School and Wheaton, a son in-law, and three grandchildren in Columbus, Ohio.

Both Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Wilson regard their membership on the board of directors of the Newton Visiting Association as one of their most satisfying community services. They recall when the organization was called the Newton District Nurse Association and when the staff consisted only of student nurses, who changed every two months, and one graduate nurse, who got her daily orders from the Hospital and made her rounds on a bicycle. Mrs. Marshall remembers what a privilege it was to serve on the money-raising committee in times before increased fees and the Community Chest Mrs. Wilson served as chairman of the nursing committee for many years and was instrumental in securing five of the agency's nursing directors. Both have watched with satisfaction as the staff increased in number and competency.

Mrs. Marshall was in on the start of many things in Newton. As a member of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club she was a founder of the Women Associates, a World War I organization formed jointly by her club and the Newton Centre Woman's Club. This group later joined with the Red Cross when it came to Newton, and Mrs. Marshall served as chairman of the Highlands branch. She was engaged in Red Cross work for thirty years. She was the first president of the Women's Guild of her church, the Sacred Heart Church in Newton Centre. For many years she has been a member of the Newton Wellesley Hospital Aides. She gave additional years of service to the Welfare Bureau, which had been preceded in Newton by the state-sponsored Associated Charities and which in its turn was a forerunner of the Family Service Bureau and the Community Chest. She was a member of the Central Council, a clearing house for community charities. For nine years she served Newton as the first woman member of the Recreation Commission. She liked her contacts with the supervisors and the children, is saddened that after all these years there is still only one playground pool, at Nonantum, and no adequate youth center in the city She remembers the skating exhibitions and the water pageants which the Recreation Commission sponsored on Crystal Lake. As chairman of the Committee for Retarded Children Mrs. Marshall pioneered in mental health problems locally.

Mrs. Wilson is a long-time member of the Second Church in West Newton, of the Newtonville Woman's Club, and of the Hospital Aides. She has been very active in local Red Cross work She has served as a director in the Red Cross for twenty-five years, as chairman of its home-nursing program during both world wars and of its first-aid program through the start of World War II.

In 1918 Newton was swept by an epidemic of influenza, which took a heavy toll of lives. A state of emergency was declared in the city; all available hospital beds were filled. The old Woodland Park Hotel, which had been closed for some time and which stood near the present location of Lasell Junior College, was chosen as an emergency hospital. Mrs. Wilson was called to direct the monumental task of preparing it to receive desperately ill patients. Overnight, adequate linens and medical supplies were obtained. So widespread was the epidemic that at first only two graduate nurses were available and Mrs. Wilson had to recruit married nurses, nome nurses, and nurses from Boston hospitals who could give a few hours. The building had not been used for some time and was very dirty. But two hundred men, including both Mr. Wilson and Dr. Marshall, cleaned it from eight o'clock one night to four the next morning, when it was ready to receive patients. The epidemic lasted seven weeks. The deaths were frequent because the disease had had such a head start. So well-organized was this community effort, however, that not a single worker became an influenza patient.

Family Service Board Hears Talk On Adolescence

"Adolescence is just a phase of development. The adolescent is no longer a child, nor does he want to be treated as such. Neither is he an adult or can he be treated that way." So Dr. Libbie Bower, Director of Mental Health Education for the Massachusetts Association for Mental Health, introduced her talk on Thursday evening, March 11th, at the annual meeting of the Family Service Bureau of Newton, which was held at the Newtonville Methodist Church, Newtonville. "Fundamentally," she said, "the adolescent is working on three problems of development: independence, social adjustment to the opposite sex (which is best during this period), and the setting of goals for himself — of thinking towards his future." To illustrate this point and to further develop her talk, Dr. Bower showed the film, "Age of Turmoil," which vividly portrayed adolescent behavior and which showed that the strict disciplines of childhood should give way to tolerance and understanding in adolescence. Following the film, Dr. Bower initiated and interpreted discussion raised by members of the Bureau and their guests.

At the business meeting which preceded Dr. Bower's talk, Mrs. Philip Segal, the president, gave an outstanding annual report, pointing out the responsibilities and limitations of the duties of the members of the Executive Board and emphasizing their accomplishments. She then presented Mrs. Catherine Holden, Executive Director of the Bureau, who gave her annual report. Mrs. Holden's report concluded with the following statements: "I think we must all realize and accept the fact that this modern age we ourselves have helped to build—with its emphasis upon scientific facts, material progress, ever-increasing automation resulting in less labor and more leisure, atomic power with its unpredictable future, etc., has by no means eliminated but rather heightened our human relations problems.

"The real truth is that if we are to survive in order to properly enjoy the almost unbelievable horizons open to us, we must indeed prepare ourselves to give this area of self-knowledge and our relationships to other human beings increasing priority. Social casework and other applied Social Sciences are not products of poverty, but rather the responses man has created out of dire necessity so that he may deal with the pressing human problems engendered by our miraculous but, at times, terrifying technological progress. Let us never cease to remember, then, how much truth there is in the old saying that 'Man does not live by bread alone'."

Officers and directors elected at the meeting for the year 1956-'57 were: President, Mrs. Philip A. Segal; first vice-president, Mrs. Felix Knauth; second vice-president, Mrs. Donald Mackenzie; third vice-president, Mr. Murray Sholkin; treasurer, Mr. Arthur Jacobs; secretary, Mr. Harry Walen; directors: Mrs. Winslow C. Auryansen, Mr. James N. Fitzpatrick, Mr. Arthur Jacobs, Mrs. William F. King, Mr. Sterling McKittrick, Mrs. Richard F. Mitchell, Mr. E. A. Lomax, Mr. William Powers, Mr. Benjamin Shattuck, Mrs. Philip McNiff.

Reelected to the board were the following directors: Miss Madeline Cobb, Mrs. Edgar Burkhardt, Mrs. Knauth, Mrs. Gustave H. Umbsen, Mrs. Kenneth J. Waite, Mr. Walen and Mr. Alex Miller. The nominating committee for 1956-'57 is as follows: Mrs. Frederick J. Wood, Miss Dorothy Taylor, Mrs. M. N. Smith-Peterson, Fr. Silvio Barrette, and Mrs. J. L. Oncley, chairman.

An Easy Way for Children to Save

At last, someone has come up with an easy way to get children to save and learn the value of money. A new "Cash in the Bank" contest, sponsored by Herlihy Bros., Inc., Somerville, offers cash and prizes, plus a savings account and free home bank. Open to children up to 16 and members of all clubs and organizations, this ingenious contest is widely endorsed by parents.

Simple rules state that contestant may earn $2.50 for each quart of Herlihy milk ordered for a period of 90 days by a friend, relative or neighbor. Child's name should be given when placing order with Herlihy's and a new bank account will be opened for him with cash credited. The more milk ordered—the higher the balance grows. Deliveries made to all residence addresses in Herlihy's home delivery area.

The boy, girl or club earning the most cash in the bank at completion of contest, wins a brand new portable television set. Games and other prizes awarded to runner-ups. Winners of the "Cash in the Bank" contest will appear on Herlihy's Kartoon Time, a children's show seen over WNAC-TV, Channel 7, Saturday mornings at 8:45.

Scouts, Little Leaguers and members of all clubs or organizations are invited to enter the contest on a special group plan. By registering the group name, members may help build their club treasury and win a portable television set for their clubhouse. Club presidents, interested in having Barbara Barry, Herlihy's Story Time Lady and other Herlihy officials address their groups and discuss contest, may call SOmerset 6-8180 for an appointment.

Contest closes May 19, 1956. Complete contest details may be obtained by calling SOmerset 6-8180 or writing Herlihy Bros. Inc., Somerville 43, Mass.

Rotary Club

Tracing the hospital development from the early days of confinement in "pest houses" to the present high plane of hospital service, William S. Brines, administrator of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital was the speaker at the luncheon meeting of Newton Rotary Club held Monday, March 12, at Brae Burn Country Club at 12:15 p.m.

Newton and Wellesley have every reason to be proud of their up-to-date hospital which provides care for the critically ill and injured all with "a family touch," Mr. Brines asserted. To provide this care, the hospital has a staff and employed group of 480 plus large numbers of citizens who aid in the program as volunteers.

Advances in the healing acts in our lifetime listed by Mr. Brines were "power packed pills" beginning with sulpha, the extra value of the short hospital stay, and rapid development in the study and use of anaesthesia. With a much shorter stay in the hospital, today's patient may pay a lower bill than formerly although his daily rate has been advanced. The Newton-Wellesley Hospital has a budget of about $2,000,000 a year, Mr. Brines stated.

Edwin F. Weidig, club president, presided. Dr. Frank Clark, and Dr. Cecil Clark, both members of the hospital staff respectively introduced and thanked the speaker. H. J. Pettengill, a Falmouth Rotarian led the singing. Recognition was given to Rotarians born in March including Harry W. Bascom, an honorary member of the Newton Rotary Club who will celebrate his 81st birthday this month.

There will also be a food sale at this meeting with Mrs. George W. Taylor and Mrs. Frank E. Morris in charge. The business meeting will begin promptly at 2:15 p.m. with Mrs. Frank M. Simmons presiding.

The annual scholarship bridge under the direction of Mrs. Clifford O. Mooney, will be held at the clubhouse Monday, March 26, at 1 p.m. This event, one of the most important of the club's philanthropies, is to raise funds toward the tuition of a worthy and deserving Newton High School girl, at the college of her choice.

Working with Mrs. Mooney for this affair are Mrs. John R. Clark, Mrs. Walter N. Keene, and Mrs. Orvil Hagaman in charge of refreshments, Mrs. C. E. TB Deaths High In Northeast

The northeastern states have the highest tuberculosis death rate in the country for the first nine months of 1955, according to Dr. Edward T. Blomquist, Medical Director, Division of Special Health Services, U. S. Public Health Service. This is the first time on record that the death rate from tuberculosis has been higher in this region, which includes New England, New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, than that for the South.

The reason for this, Dr. Blomquist, explained is because there has been an increase in TB deaths in this section for January through September, 1955, while there has been a decrease in such deaths in the southern states.

"Boston's tuberculosis death rate, which was 24.3 per 100,000 in 1954, was the highest in the nation for cities of more than 500,000," reported Dr. Blomquist. "Although this rate has been steadily dropping through the years the decline in Boston has been slower than in other large cities."

The tuberculosis problem in Boston is of concern to all residents of surrounding communities such as Newton.

Dr. Charles Joy To Give Talk In West Newton Tonight

Dr. Charles R. Joy, world-renowned relief administrator, in Europe with the Unitarian Service Committee ,and in Korea with CARE, will present "An Intimate Glimpse of Albert Schweitzer," illustrated with his own color slides, at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, March 15, at the West Newton Unitarian Parish Hall, 1326 Washington St., West Newton.

Appearing at the invitation of the Evening Alliance of the First Unitarian Society in Newton, Mrs. Lloyd E. Morris, Jr., president, and Mrs. Jerome K. Merlis, education committee, hope that all members and friend of the parish will attend to welcome Dr. Joy back from his latest trip to Dr. Schweitzer's hospital at Lambarene, French Equatorial Africa. Dr. and Mrs. Joy, whose home is in Newton Highlands, are members of the parish. Dr. Joy served as executive vice-president of the American Unitarian Association from 1930-37.

Dr. Joy has visited Dr. Schweitzer, the great physician-musician-philosopher, both in Europe and Africa. As author, editor, compiler and translator, Dr. Joy has been directly concerned with the publication of half a dozen Schweitzer books under the aegis of Beacon Press: "An Anthology of Albert Schweitzer," "The Animal World of Albert Schweitzer," "Music in the Life of Albert Schweitzer," and "The Wisdom of Albert Schweitzer." Beacon Press also brought out "The Africa of Albert Schweitzer," a volume of photographs and text, by Charles R. Joy, with Melvin Arnold, which was acclaimed among the outstanding books of the year by the American Library Association. For "Goethe: Four Studies," by Albert Schweitzer, Dr. Joy was both editor and translator of Dr. Schweitzer's French and German manuscript.

A former minister of Unitarian parishes in Portland, Pittsfield, Lowell, Waltham, St. Louis, Cincinnati, and the Church of the Disciples, Boston, Dr. Joy is a former literary editor and trustee of the Christian Register, and former editor of the Wayside Pulpit, former trustee of the Unitarian Retreat, former director of the Young People's Religious Union. He has been a member of the Star Island Corporation since 1927 and is also a former director of the Free Church Fellowship and of the Unitarian Ministerial Union, and of the committee on supply of pulpits. Dr. Joy was first vice-president of the Isles of Shoals Unitarian Association from 1925-38.

Dr. Joy served in both world wars. He was division secretary 1917-19 for the Y.M.C.A. In World War II he was European commissioner for the Unitarian Service Committee 1940-42, then acting and executive director until 1946. From 1944-46 he was also vice-chairman of Refugee Relief Trustees, Inc. Since then he has circumnavigated the globe on various humanitarian missions, including work as a relief administrator for CARE in Korea, and several trips to Africa in connection with Dr. Schweitzer's hospital in French Equatorial Africa.

Decorated by France with the "medaille commemorative de la Grande Guerre," and by Portugal with the "Cruz Vermelha de Dedicacao," "Cruz Vermelha de Merito," and "Cruz Vermelha de Benemerencia," Dr. Joy was made honorary member of the Representative Consistory of the Unitarian Churches of Rumania in 1934. In addition to his books on Schweitzer and contributions to various periodicals, Dr. Joy is the editor and compiler of Harper's Tropical Concordance, published in 1940.

Regulations Bill

In speaking for the Chamber of Commerce, Executive Secretary Rupert C. Thompson, expressed opposition to three bills regulating holiday observances. He urged defeat of the following bills:

House 225, which would make March 17, a state wide legal holiday, as well as in Suffolk County as at present.

House 2098 which would apply Sunday Law restrictions all day to all types of business on Columbus Day.

House 1286, which would apply Sunday Law restrictions all day on Veterans' Day and Memorial Day.

Sunday restrictions are at present aplied only from 7 A.M. to 1 P.M. on the above holidays.

Opposition to these holiday bills was based on the fact that "such restrictive legislation is wrong in principle . can only lead to more and more of the same." The all-day application of Sunday laws to Columbus Day, Veteran's Day and Memorial Day would mean "substantial loss to many business enterprises and inconveniences to many people to whom retail store and other business openings are advantageous."

No recommendation was made regarding the repeal of the 1955 law which provides for observing Columbus Day on Monday "because business is badly divided on the issue and repeal seems certain."

Miss Phoebe A. Bell, Secretary to the Director of the Newton Technical High School, and a leader in her profession, goes to Washington, D.C., this week as General Chairman of the Regional Conference of the National Association of Educational Secretaries, which takes place at the Willard Hotel, March 16, 17, 18.

Miss Bell has been associated with the Newton Public Schools for twenty-five years, and during this time she has given unusually valuable help to the planning and administration of the school. Newtonites To Return Visit in Apr.

The City of Newton is under close observation this week, and Newton High School students have been getting a foretaste of what they will experience next month when they travel to Wisconsin. Since last Saturday, Newton has been host to the visiting student exchange from Plymouth High School, Plymouth, Wisconsin.

FOR STUDENTS of both groups it is a thoughtful as well as an enjoyable time, as they see new places, hear unaccustomed accents and appreciate new points of view. Each visitor is living with a Newton family while he is here and is participating in home, church, school and social activities. All week long he has been seeing first-hand the things he studied in books to prepare for coming here. He will return to his home state with a more realistic view of the social and regional variety that makes our nation strong.

Upon arrival last Saturday evening, the group, which came by bus, was escorted by Wellesley police as far as the Newton line. At the line two Newton cruisers picked up the bus and led the motorcade to the Newton City Hall, where the visitors were greeted by the families with whom they are staying. Police flares, Fire Department floodlights and a "Welcome Ply-

Storm Postpones All Public Hearings Monday

Due to the severity of the storm Monday night, all public hearings by the Board of Aldermen were postponed for two weeks but the petitioner, seeking a permit for an auto laundry at 16 Needham street, Newton Highlands, presented details of the proposed plan.

Arthur S. Cipione, representing William Smith of Winchester, showed a diagram of the proposed auto laundry which provides for a circle of 45 cars around the washing equipment and a place to park a dozen cars. The entrance and exit, it was explained, would be on Winchester street.

City Clerk Monte G. Basbas stated that there was a petition in opposition to the auto laundry, signed by 175 residents of the area and that a telegram requesting postponement of the hearing was received from John B. Stetson of 80 Dedham street, Newton Highlands.

Vote Finances For Two School Additions

Erection of Large Sign Is Protested

The Newton Highland Improvement Association has announced that it is opposed to the presence of the large advertising sign erected on the southwest corner of Lincoln and Walnut streets in Newton Highlands.

"MUCH," states Joseph W. McMullin, president of the association, "has been done recently to improve the appearance of Newton Highlands square through renovation of the Stevens Block building which work was accomplished by one of the concerns domiciled in Newton Highlands.

"The large advertising sign," continued Mr. McMullin," directly opposite this building detracts from the appearance of the village in the opinion of many residents."

Port Authority Is Proposed

When the Governor's recommendation for creating a Massachusetts Port Authority was heard recently by the Committee on Ways and Means, Rep. George E. Rawson of Newton spoke in favor of the bill and urged its enactment.

The Authority is to take over the Sumner Tunnel, the port facilities, the Mystic River Bridge, Logan Airport and Bedford Airport, and would assume the bonds issued to pay for them. It is to be empowered to construct further facilities and their improvements. It would sell its own bonds, for which the Commonwealth would not be obligated. A seven member board is to administer it. When any facility is paid for by the toll or use revenues, it would revert to the Commonwealth. Thus the improvement of the Port of Boston would be financed without expense to the taxpayers.

Similar port authorities in New York, New Orleans, Philadelphia and other centers have proved to be a notable success. This proposal is supported by representatives of shipping, business, industry and labor and a

Governor Names Henry Russell To State Board

Henry E. Russell of 131 Suffolk road, Chestnut Hill was appointed by Governor Herter last week as a member of the State Board of Natural Resources.

Mr. Russell, who has been regional vice-president and general manager of the Carling Brewing Company plant at Natick since last Fall, will replace William O. Sweet of Attleboro, who resigned last week.

Snow Removal Job Handled Speedily

Twenty-eight inches of snow blanketing Newton within four days caused Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., to declare a state of emergency Monday, keeping city street employees, police and firemen on duty for more than 48 hours.

EMPLOYING 70 pieces of hired equipment to augment the city's own 70 pieces and over 500 men, the city had most of the streets clear on Tuesday. Over 70 automobiles were hauled away to speed the snow removal. Owners of these cars may claim the vehicles by paying the towing fee of $10, plus a dollar storage fee for every day the car remains in the garage to which it was towed.

The immediate problem after clearing the streets was to reach and clear catch basins to prevent the possibility of floods from a quick Spring thaw. Mayor Whitmore said this was being accomplished as quickly as possible.

THE MAYOR added that, due to the two storms, there would be no rubbish collections until Monday, March 26. He also requested that home-owners clear a path to garbage receptacles to allow easy access for collection.

The Board of Aldermen Monday night authorized $100,000 to appropriate city departments for the cost of snow and ice removal in excess of existing appropriations for the two storms.

POLICE were called on several times Monday night to assist physicians in answering emergency calls. A Street Department plow was sent to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital to clear the way to the accident ward after the hospital's plow became disabled.

A Water Department crew was sent to a Newton Centre home during the storm when a meter burst and the cellar became flooded.

Mrs. Constance Dugenier of 19 Trafton road, Framingham, an expectant mother visiting at 543 Dedham street, Oak Hill, was removed to the hospital by police at 12:40 a.m. Tuesday.

THE ARMY sent 150 cots to the Newton Chapter, Red Cross, for use of stranded persons, but the cots were not used, police reported.

Paper Drive to Be Held Saturday

This Saturday marks the launching of the Eliot Church Rebuilding Fund Paper Drive. It will begin at 8 a.m., and end at 4 p.m., and the entire city will be canvased for paper and magazines by members of the church, boy scouts and friends.

THE STRUCTURE of Eliot Church was destroyed by fire little more than a month ago, but the spirit to restore it has been overwhelming. From the time the plans were first formulated there has been enthusiastic support for this project. Mr. Richard Salinger is the chairman and has urged all people to call the four ladies on the telephone committee for paper collection. They are Mrs. Hayes LA 7-9100, Mrs. Russell DE 2-4108, Mrs. Shattuck DE 2-9159, and Mrs. Powers DE 2-6637. Mrs. Hayes and Mr. Gordon Christenson are in charge of getting trucks and cars and have said 30 people will be driving that day. The Boy Scouts in Troop 11, under the direction of Mrs. Manhard will join in collecting paper in the Newton Corner area.

Need Additional Support to Reach Goal Set In Red Cross Fund Drive

In reporting the ogress of the 1956 Red Cross Fund Campaign, Frank 1. Maher, Fund Chairman, said, "I wish to remind the citizens of Newton that the success of the Red Cross Drive depends on the necessity of receiving from each contributor an amount equally as great or greater than that given a year ago.

IN ADDITION we will need to reach an additional 10% of our citizens if we are to make the increased Disaster Goal this year. Although 40% of our fund goal has already been reached, the handicap of severe weather has caused a delay in reporting from our Village chairmen and captains.

The last week in March will be particularly difficult because of religious holidays and therefore it is especially important that all

Stevenson Forces Suffered Serious Blow in Minnesota, but Kefauver is Not Popular in South or with Dem. Leaders; Nixon's N. H. Vote Result of State GOP Politicians . . .

Whether Adlai E. Stevenson fights on through the scheduled battles in Massachusetts, Florida, California and other states or gives up now after consecutive defeats in New Hampshire and Minnesota, there is no question but that his chance of gaining the Democratic Presidential nomination for the second time has virtually vanished.

When Senator Estes Kefauver defeated Stevenson in Minnesota, despite the fact that Adlai had the backing of Governor Orville L. Freeman, Senator Hubert H. Humphrey and the Democratic machine in the Gopher State, it just about dealt a death blow to Adlai's hopes.

Even though the former Illinois Governor goes on to make a last stand in California and Florida, where political experts had expected the crucial tests to come, he will be waging an uphill struggle, and it will be difficult to generate much enthusiasm among his supporters.

Stevenson's backers probably are right in their claim that many Minnesota Republicans crossed party lines and marked their ballots for Kefauver in order to eliminate Stevenson as a contender and embarass the top Democratic leaders in their State.

Burt Katz A Key Figure In Sports For the Orange and Black

This is the first in a series of articles, spotlighting key figures in the sports world of Newton High School. This week the Orange and Black spotlight shines on Burt Katz.

On October 23, 1939 Mr. and Mrs. William Katz, were presented with a bouncing baby boy, in our rival city of Chelsea. Burt's first school was the Charles H .Taylor elementary school, and by the time he enrolled at Boston Latin School, it was obvious that Burt was athletically gifted. When he was in his second year of Latin school, his family moved to the Garden City, and while at Weeks Junior High, Burt participated in football, basktball, and baseball.

Contrary to the stereotype of athletes being strong and stupid, Burt is no slouch in the classroom. Now in his Junior year, he has been close to the honor roll every term. In the past football season, Burt was one of the bright spots on a mediocre team. At 5.9 1-2, the rugged 165 pounder played brilliantly as a defensive linebacker. At times Burt was played offensively, and while at the halfback slot he fit well into the colorful Tiger offense. Two of his outstanding plays were: a flashy eighteen yard carry to set up the winning touchdown versus Watertown, and an eighty yard touchdown pass-play to Peter Nelson, versus Brockton. However, these are just two instances. Burt was very consistent throughout the season, and should show up well in next year's competition.

Burt showed his versitality by backing up Brian Dooley, as substitute goalie in hockey, and playing first string J.V. baseball last year. This spring he has been battling Billy Walker for the first base job in baseball. Both have been equally impressive so far.

Burt is one of four boys; Herb, a graduate of Dartmouth; Sumner, graduating Yale this summer and hoping to attend Harvard Law School; and a younger brother, Lenny, now attending the beautiful Spalding School. As for his plans for the future, Burt hopes to enter the field of dentistry, and go to either Dartmouth, Brown, or Bowdoin. With a cheery smile and hello for everyone, his ability to get along with others, modesty, and the willingness to work, Burt is sure to be as well liked and as successful wherever he goes, as he is here.

When asked for comment, Burt expressed his gratitude for this article and said, "Thanks, Newton High School, for the social, athletic, and academic, opportunities that you are giving to me."

One reason why better hockey teams can be expected from the Orange and Black (although there was nothing wrong with this year's squad) is from the organization of a Junior Hockey League representative from Newton. Regardless of their final position in the league standings, the boys will come to Coach Jack Hall with more experience. This will make a difference.

Four Girl Tag Team on Card

Working on the theory that you can't give the fans too much of a "good thing," Matchmaker Fred Bruno has rescheduled the four-girl tag team match which highlighted last Saturday night's Burns-Kerr Legion wrestling card.

The tag team tussle, which figures to be a carbon copy of last Saturday's thriller, will be the feature attraction on a three-bout program at the West Newton Armory.

One big reason Bruno is bringing Slave Girl Moolah and her partner, the Red Tigress, back to battle acrobatic and beautiful Judy Grable and noisy Jean Hogan is that only about 200 witnessed last Saturday's spectacular setto because of Friday's storm.

Those who did turn out were rewarded with as exciting and lively a rumpus as the Armory has seen in two years, with tempestuous Moolah, junior heavyweight queen, and the hooded Red Tigress prevailing.

Although she and Miss Hogan lost, blonde Miss Grable was the outstanding performer, captivating the spectators with a dazzling and effective repertoire of holds that included a flashy flying head scissors.

Bruno had not scheduled the balance of his show at press time but promised topnotch special and semi-final engagements. The program will start at 8:30 p.m.

DAVID BAR-ILLIAN

Free Concerts To Be Held at Lasell College

A brilliant young pianist and a leading baritone of the Metropolitan Opera will launch the newly-organized series of free concerts to be offered to its students and the community by Lasell Junior College, according to an announcement just released by the Lasell Music Department.

David Bar-Illan, 25-year-old Israeli-born piano virtuoso, fresh from a highly successful concert tour of England, Canada, and the U.S. will open the series on Monday evening, March 26 at 8 o'clock in Lasell's Winslow Hall The recital is sponsored by the College and open to the public without charge.

He will be followed by Robert McFerrin, distinguished baritone and first Negro to win membership in the Metropolitan Opera's permanent company, on April 23.

David Bar-Illan has a background that includes winning the highest awards given by the Juillard Conservatory and Mannes College of Music. In June 1953, he was recipient of the Coronation Year medal awarded by Queen Elizabeth II, the first time it has been given to a pianist who was not a citizen of the Commonwealth.

Born in Haifa, Israel, Bar-Illan started studying and playing the piano at the age of five. He gave his first public recital when he was ten. During his 17th year he came to the United States to attend the Juilliard Conservatory where he was an invitation student.

His studies were interrupted when the Israeli War of Independence broke out, at which time he returned to his homeland to join the army. The young pianist has been a member of the Israeli underground since he was 14. During the war he took part in the Battle of Nazareth and in the bitter fighting to clear the Galilee.

As soon as the fighting was over, Bar-Illan resumed his studies at Juilliard. Following his graduation in 1950, he was awarded another scholarship—this time to the Mannes College of Music. There he studied with the eminent pianist and pedagogue, Hans Neumann, with whom he had worked in Israel as a youth.

In America, Bar-Illan has played more than 100 recitals during the past two seasons, including an enthusiastically received Carnegie Hall debut. What is even more remarkable, over 60 per cent of his 1957 bookings are re-engagements, which has set something of a record in American recital history. He was heard most recently in the Boston area on February 12, when he performed the world premiere at M.I.T. of Robert Storer's "Concerto for Piano and Band," under the baton of Thor Johnson, eminent conductor of the Cincinnati Symphony.

The critical acclaim accorded Bar-Illan in this country has been uniformly enthusiastic. The New York "Herald-Tribune" reported of his Carnegie Hall recital: "The piano is obviously his instrument; he takes to it as a bird does to air. He revealed that his instincts are real and his sensitivities acute. He is an icy pianist, no frosty tickler of keys. Openly, Mr. Bar-Illan is excited by music, and he communicates it by vivid and virile means."

Highlights of his Lasell program will include the Sonata in C sharp minor, Opus 27, No. 2 ("The Moonlight") by Beethoven; the Nocturne in D flat major, the Etude in G flat major, and the Scherzo in C sharp minor, all by Chopin and the brilliant and showy Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2 by Liszt.

Mr. Bar-Illan will also perform two numbers by Brahms—the Intermezzo Opus 117, No. 2 and the Ballads, Opus 118, No. 4—as well as Debussy's Fireworks and the Canzonetta and Toccata from Ben-Hayim's Suite "My Native Land."

Art Association To Hear Colorist

At the next meeting of the Newton Art Association on Thursday April 5th at the Newtonville Public Library, members and guests will be given a demonstration in water-color painting by a well-known artist. Throughout the year the programs of the Association have been planned by James K. Bonnar and his committee with an aim towards satisfying a variety of artistic tastes by presenting the most noteworthy personalities available.

The most recent regular meeting was no exception, as the guest artist was Mr. Sherwood Blodgett, water-colorist, former President of the Newton Art Association, and a member of the Business Art Club of Boston and the Copley Society. Mr. Blodgett has made an intensive study of the use of colors in painting, and by means of colored charts and diagrams he explained how some paintings could be more successful through a better understanding of shades and shadows in nature. He demonstrated certain magical illusions in color, and explained in a technical way how to produce the proper hues, color, and intensity.

Exhibits at the various banks and Libraries by members of the Association will continue throughout the month. These include the paintings of Dr. Carleton Whitney, Alice Weed, Sophina Coty, Thomas Eaton, Fred Thompson, Gordon McMillan, Paula Newman, James K. Bonnar, and Roy A. Randall.

A LEADING tort attorney, Stanley H. Rudman, 30 Haynes road, was with a panel of legal experts Saturday at the Hotel Statler participating in the mid-winter symposium of the National Association of Claimants' Compensation Attorneys. Attorney Rudman, a graduate of Harvard Law School and a member of Temple Shalom, joined a battery of Bay State baristers in a discussion of "Tort Law and General Maritime Law Problems" with attorneys from the six New England States.

Says "Sickness Should Be Treated As Matter of Ordinary Living"

"Sickness should be treated as a matter of ordinary living," said Dr. Wilmer P. Heath, Newtonville, one of three doctors speaking on child health at the March 13 meeting of the Horace Mann P.T.A. "A child shouldn't gain by illness nor escape responsibility. The illness should be taken as a matter of course, but we should remember that a child's security is threatened at such a time and he needs extra understanding. And regardless of the results obtained by new drugs, we should not forget the importance of bed rest and time to get over an illness."

DR. HEATH, who is Chairman of the Board of Health, spoke from the point of view of the family physician. He advised choosing a family doctor before there is need to call one, then staying with him, always following his advice. "Learn the time which is most convenient for you to call to get answers to routine questions. Know when he makes home calls. Get your call in early. He will answer a true emergency at any time. Be brief, concise and accurate."

Dr. Heath described the routine medical care which should be given every child from the frequent examinations and prescribed inoculations of the baby to the less frequent examinations of the older child and the continuation of booster shots at three-year intervals. Every child should be seen by his family physician at least once a year, he said, and added that he could not emphasize too strongly the value of inoculation with tetanus toxoid. In case of accident, the child who has been so protected will not have to have the horse-serum tetanus shot which may produce a severe reaction.

ON THE SUBJECT of polio shots, Dr. Heath said that, by and large, doctors in Massachusetts are recommending the use of the Salk vaccine, that there have been no serious reactions recently, and that there doesn't appear to be any hazard beyond remote possibility.

Dr. Heath gave instructions as to what to do in case of emergency while waiting for the doctor.

Geraldine Rickard, Ed.D., psychologist on the staff of the Children's Medical Center, explained why emotions are so important in the learning process of children, how children bring to every new experience in life their emotions. Adults do the same thing, she said, but for children there are so many new experiences throughout the whole process of growing up.

Dr. Rickard described five types of questions which children ask and which serve as clues to deeper meaning and feeling.

"Will you read to me, Mommy?" or "Will you help me fix my flashlight, Dad?" may really be a way of saying, "I'm lonely. Will you spend a little time with me?"

A BARRAGE of nonsense questions, such as "Why is red red?" is almost always a substitute for questions children don't dare to ask on matter of life, death, birth, or marriage. "Though we have a tendency to shield children from knowledge that is disturbing, we should remember that a child's thoughts and fantasies of what might have happened are much worse than what really did happen."

There is the direct question on the same subjects, but we sometimes over-estimate the child's curiosity. "Don't throw the whole book at the child at once," said Dr. Richard.

"If a snake bites you will you die?" is an example of a question which may express a desire to talk with a sympathetic, understanding parent about some distressing experience or frightening impression. Try to turn the question back to the child and get him to talking.

Parental anger is usually provoked by such questions as "Who said so?" and "So what?" These may also serve as an indication that a child is trying to break away from dependency upon his parents; or they may indicate that the child is really very worried about something, that he feels insignificant and is merely putting on a front of aggressiveness. Dr. Rickard suggested trying to meet this mood with, "I know you are angry and I love you, but what is bothering you?"

TWO misconceptions which many parents have drawn from modern books, she believes are (1) that parents should act as handmaidens to their children, making sure they are not frustrated, and (2) that parents should not become angry or impatient. By doing these things, Dr. Rickard asserted, parents would not be preparing their children for the actual situations which they will meet in adult life and in life away from home where they cannot expect their every whim to be met and where they will meet anger on the job and everywhere.

Dr. Reevan I. Levine, West Newton, spoke on the work of the school physician. He warned that one of the chief ways in which disease is spread by the fingernails and by contamination of things that go into the child's mouth.

Dr. Levine goes to five schools every morning between 8:30 and 9:45. Every child who has been out of school and has just returned must go to see him. If he finds something wrong, the doctor excludes the child from school so that others will not be exposed. Despite care in preventing contagion, parents should not be upset if their children are unavoidably exposed; should remember that a certain amount of immunity comes just from having been exposed.

TEACHERS play an important role in the school health program, said Dr. Levine. They hold a daily inspection and they keep a daily log of children who are ill; and they are always on the lookout for signs that a child needs the doctor's attention. One point, particularly stressed, is that every child should have with him at school either Kleenex or a handkerchief.

The family physician is the one who restricts children in case of illness, except in certain communicable diseases such as measles, german measles, scarlet fever, and polio, where there are definite regulations. Here, too, the length of time a patient or contact is restricted depends upon whether the child brings a written statement from his own doctor.

The role of parents in this program: "Keep child at home if he has symptoms of a cold. Watch carefully the contacts of children with communicable disease. If symptoms develop in a contact, call your physician. Protect other children in the home and in the community."

"Newton has the reputation of being th outstanding health department in the state," Dr. Levine said. "It became so at the hands of the late Dr. Morris, who fathered a bill passed by t legislature which has been used as a model for health departments all over the state as to how children should be examined by the school health department."

Dr. Levine described the plan for regular physical examinations by the school physician, in conference with parent and nurse. These are given in Newton to every child in kindergarten, third, seventh, and twelfth grade. If they discover any troub , it is left up to the parnet to take the child to his family physician.

AT THE BUSINESS meeting which preceded the talks, President Russell F. Gooley expressed appreciation to Mrs. Erich Arenberg and Mrs. John A. Snook and others who had worked on the skating program.

Nominating committee was elected as follows: Mr. Jack Hoover, 806 Watertown street, Mrs. Herbert A. Shaw, 17 Fairway drive, Mr. Stanley M. Griswold, 37 Randlett park, Miss Vera Andrews, teacher representative.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. C. Evan Johnson, 9 Proctor street, and Mrs. A. Joseph Stroum, 459 Albemarle road.

Eliot Church

The fire which destroyed Eliot Church on the evening of February 11 was a great shock to its members and to all the community. It had seemed as if the massive stone structure and the high tower to which passers by habitually turned their gaze and from which the church bell sounded had always been there and always would be. There are few citizens in Newton today who can remember the corner as it was before the church was built 67 years ago. We find it hard to realize that the familiar landmark is no longer there and we still catch ourselves looking up to a clock face which used to tell the time or thinking that we should stop at the church to do an errand or see some one there.

Under the By-Laws of Eliot Church responsibility for the management of all its property is entrusted to a Prudential Committee. On the afternoon following the fire this committe met with many interested members of the church to take the initial steps toward carrying on the services and activities of the church in the immediate future and toward planning its reconstruction. A few days later a largely attended meeting of the church voted to accept the recommendation of the Prudential Committee that a General Planning Committee be appointed to investigate all matters having to do with the rebuilding of the church and to report its recommendation as soon as possible.

This committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. Ray E. Johns have been meeting frequently since then. It has organized itself into five sub-committees, each collecting information necessary for solving some aspect of the larger problem. One committee is studying the changes taking place in Newton Corner and their likely effects upon the church in the future. A second is studying the present membership of Eliot Church to determine what sort of a church it will need. A third is collecting ideas regarding the type and size of the sanctuary that should be built and finding out what provision must be made for the church school, for youth activities, and for the social life of the church. A fourth is analyzing the financial problem, how much money will be needed and how it can be raised. A fifth has been visiting other churches to get any help that can be learned from their experiences in a building program.

The reports being made by the committees have brought in much valuable and necessary information but they have raised innumerable questions. As yet there are few answers for the answer to any one question depends upon how the many other questions are answered. The committee is encouraged that so much progress has been made in gathering information and in framing the questions and alternatives to be faced and it feels assured that the third step, reaching decisions and making recommendations, can soon be taken. On the basic question there is unanimous agreement, that a new church building will be erected on the site of the older one as soon as the building plans can be prepared and the necessary funds raised.

Eliot Church is profoundly grateful to the generous citizens and organizations of Newton and the metropolitan area for the contributions which have already been made to its building fund. It is deeply touched by the expressions of sympathy which have accompanied these contributions and by the willingness of so many churches and other institutions to offer the use of their facilities in this emergency. These evidences of fellowship and good will are truly heartening. The loss of its building is a disaster but it creates an opportunity to build a stronger and better institution, a challenge which Eliot Church is seeking to meet with success.

The fact remains, however, that Adlai picked Minnesota as a battleground. All the factors there were in his favor. The fight appeared to be rigged for him. He had more money to spend than did Kefauver. The powerful Democratic leaders with vote-pulling ability were in his camp. He was out campaigning in the Gopher State while Kefauver was trudging through New Hampshire's hills.

Notwithstanding all that, Adlai lost. His defeat can't be waved aside with the explanation that the Republicans accomplished it. A lot of Democrats had to vote for Kefauver, too. And Kefauver's triumph in New Hampshire certainly wasn't promoted by the GOP machine which was absorbed in promoting write-ins for Vice President Nixon.

What's the explanation for the sudden slump in Stevenson's stock, for the stunning upset he suffered in Minnesota and for his failure to make even a creditable showing in New Hampshire?

There are either one of two answers. Either the rank and file of Democratic voters simply don't want him as their party's candidate for President, or they are resentful at the attempts of the so-called Democratic bosses to tell them to rally behind Adlai.

The vast majority of the top Democratic leaders in the country are in the Stevenson camp. Governor Freeman and Senator Humphrey championed his cause in Minnesota. Senator John F. Kennedy and ex-Governor Paul A. Dever are beating the drums for him here in Massachusetts.

Dever and Kennedy, in fact, announced their support of Stevenson in statements issued on the eve of the Presidential primary in New Hampshire. Their pronouncements had about as much effect as popguns going off in the midst of gunnery practice on an artillery range.

If any of the top Democratic chieftains are with Kefauver, they have not been visible. Those who may support him such as Boston's Mayor John B. Hynes are sitting back waiting to see what happens. Hynes probably would not support any Democratic candidate, if Governor Herter were on the Republican national ticket, so high is his admiration and respect for Herter.

There is no question but that the Democratic bosses who are backing Stevenson may control enough votes at the Democratic national convention in Chicago to give him the nomination if they want to do it in the face of the grass roots sentiment expressed in Presidential primaries.

It is unlikely, however, that they will try to cram Adlai down the throats of the Democratic voters. To do so might be a fatal mistake for both them and their party.

Does this mean that Senator Kefauver is becoming a favorite to win the Presidential nomination and the right to run against President Eisenhower next autumn? Not at all. Kefauver will remain a short-ender no matter how many primaries he wins.

Kefauver sailed through practically every Presidential primary test in 1952. He led on the early balloting at the Chicago convention. But when he had spent his strength, the Democratic leaders swung behind Stevenson and knocked Kefauver out of the fight.

The fact is that the Democratic professionals don't like Kefauver and don't want him as their candidate for President. Kefauver is probably the only Senator from below the Mason-Dixon line who would not have the solid backing of the South at the convention next August.

Except for his home State of Tennessee, Kefauver would be unlikely to have any Southern support at all at the convention, amazing as that may seem.

What is likely to happen now is that the Democratic leaders will begin looking around for another Presidential prospect to step into Stevenson's place. You can just about count out New York's Governor Averell Harriman because he has the same weaknesses as Stevenson, and where the South would take Stevenson it would not accept Harriman.

At this time it appears that the Democratic possibilities who will be surveyed by the top party leaders are Senator Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri.

Johnson suffered a severe heart attack last year. He would not be able to barnstorm across the country any more than would President Eisenhower. If he were nominated, the Democrats hardly would be able to make Ike's physical condition a campaign issue.

Symington probably hurt himself with a certain segment of the voters in the famous McCarthy-Pentagon hearings, although that might not be an overpowering consideration.

The complexion of the Democratic Presidential picture certainly has changed completely in a space of 10 days.

High School Activities

Sue Stacey, Garth Rosanwald

Another successful Tigerama was held in the high school gym Friday, March 2, from 8-11 p.m. To the disappointment of quite a few boys who had to watch from outside, no tickets were sold at the door. Surely no one will forget to buy tickets in advance for the next Tigerama! The gym was divided into sections, one for dancing to the records introduced by "disc-jockey" Ken Sherman, a second for playing ping-pong, and a third for quenching the thirst of all.

The International Club is publishing a newspaper on current international affairs. The first issue has a story on racial prejudice.

The Music Club was privileged to hear Miss Toshiko Akiyoshi, leading girl jazz pianist of Japan, in a concert at the February 15 meeting. Al appearing with Miss Akiyoshi were Lawrence Berk, director of the Berklee School, where she is now studying; George Wein, owner of Storyville, where she will make her American appearance, and, as her accompanists, Wyatt Ruther on bass and Marcus Foster on drums.

Congratulations to sophomore Marty Beckwith, who amazed the track world at New York by taking third place in the high jump at the National AAU Scholastic Championships. Marty's leap of 6 ft. 2¼ inches was only 1½ inches off the national record set by Phil Reavi of Somerville High and Villinova fame. Marty said of his feat, "I'm very happy that I jumped as well as I did."

A spectacular Exchange rummage sale was held on February 25 in Newton High's Drill Shed. The net profit should be somewhere in the neighborhood of $1360, after expenses, because 1381 people paid 10c admission as well as spending a great deal on the articles for sale. Free coffee was provided by Chef's Restaurant, and sandwiches were sold at 9c apiece. Mr. Rinker, director of school exchanges, has this to say, "We've all worked hard, and although our strength has been fully expended in undertaking so great a project, I know when I say we would gladly repeat the entire procedure if we had to do it over again, I speak especially on behalf of the parents, who carried a rather heavy burden."

With the closing of the basketball season came the news that Russ Halloran had broken his own scoring record of 308 points by scoring 384 points this season. This is all the more amazing when you consider that since Russ was by far the best player on the team, the opponents always concentrated on him. Russ also broke the individual game record by scoring 41 points against Brockton.

A wonderful exhibition in Shakespearean theatre, including a sword fight, was presented to the Drama Club on February 2 by four students from Emerson College. The enthusiasm of the club members was so great that they didn't want the performers (Peter McLean, Don Perkins, Nancy Newman, and Linda Lions) to leave.

Congratulations are in order for Joe DeNucci, who won the regional Golden Gloves Tourney 147 pound class Championship, and Ronnie O'Laughlin, who went with the Boston PeeWee Hockey Team to Montreal, Canada, where they defeated a Pee-Wee team from that hockey center. Ron contributed one goal and one assist to Boston's 2-0 victory. Bouquets are also due for Ken Keyes, Brian Doole, Dave Crosby, and Pete Fitzgerald, who were picked for the G.B.I. All-Star Hockey Team.

The 1956 Spring Musical should be an enjoyable show. The three performances will be on the coming Friday night, Saturday morning, and Saturday evening. The program is divided into three parts, the first and third of which are musicals —"Cox and Box" and "Trial by Jury. The second act is a variety of dances by the modern dance group. Two teachers will appear in the Spring Musical—Mr. Hayes as the judge, and Dr. Barry as the attorney in "Trial by Jury."

Says Chemicals and Medicines Should Be Kept from Children

Many children in this State annually require medical treatment due to poison ingestion, Dr. Henry W. Godfrey, acting Director of Public Health in this city stated as he listed precautionary steps to be taken in the home.

"Pre-school children are confined indoors a great deal during inclement weather and parents should make a special check to see that common household poisons are not where they can be found by exploratory children," Dr. Godfrey pointed out.

"Among poisonous items which children are known to bleaches, lye, varnishes, paint bleaches, lye, varnishes, point thinners, insecticides, rubbing alcohol, anti-freeze, nail polish remover, hair tonics, kerosine, and many other chemicals.

"There is only one sure way to prevent children from being poisoned in the home and that is to have a special utility cabinet in which chemicals and medicines can be placed under lock and key.

"Parents never should assume that taste alone will discourage children from sampling household chemicals. Children's likes and dislikes are unpredictable where poisons are concerned. It is not unusual to discover that a child has been swallowing some harmful chemicals for days without regard to its 'tasting' qualities.

"For example, the unsuspecting parent may learn accidently that his child's breath smells 'oily,' only to discover that the child has been drinking kerosine drippings from an oil cup attached to the leaky valve of the kitchen range. The damage to the child's lungs incurred through absorption of oil can be quite serious.

"Don't let unguarded curiosity harm your child."

Imogene Coca likes to tell a story about how her clowning antics first caught the wink of footlights on stage. She had a small part in a revue called "New Faces of 1934." It was cold backstage in the little theater in New York, and Imogene borrowed a coat from an unknown actor. Even the coat didn't keep her warm . . . so she began to leap about in a comic way, beating her arms. The producer saw her clowning and put the act in the show. It was a hit. She later returned the "lucky coat" to the unknown actor . . . whose name was Henry Fonda.

The producers of the $64,000 Question have just about given up their search for a glamor girl with brains. More than 300 beauties have been screened as potential guests on the quizzer . . . but none has come up to standard.

Proper Time, Place to Smoke Protects Life and Property

Smoking, in those who have the habit, is a process somewhat akin to breathing. You just do it, not thinking as to the why, where or when. A smoker will strike a match in a powder magazine, or an oil refinery. It is an unthinking act, and discarding the match, the dottle of the pipe or the cigarette butt is also done without mental action of any kind.

For these habit-formed acts there is no cure, except that which lives within the willpower of the individual. And what individual who enjoys a smoke wishes to exert that degree of will power on a matter the seriousness of which is more fantasy than a fact so far as he is concerned?

What then can be done to reduce this huge waste of valuables which goes on yearly from the fires resulting from smoking—the fire in the home, the store, the farm, factory or office building, and in the forests and fields?

First, it must be recognized that a large proportion of the population does and will continue to smoke.

Second, that smoking is not just an after-dinner affair. It is a continuous process with some, and with practically all it involves not only the home but the place of business.

To take care of the first, there must be a recognition that in places in which there are people, there must be facilities to take care of the smoking habits. Almost no occupancy can be considered free of people who will desire to smoke. It is, therefore, essential that emphatic attention must be given to any prohibition of smoking. Signs in stores, forests, and other places must be not only eye-catching, but emphatic.

Information should be provided to tell people where they can smoke in order to provide greater safety for everyone.

The second phase of this problem involves the fact that smoking will take place. That being the case, the problem is how to permit smoking and not to involve undue hazards. First, the promiscuous placing of cigarettes and the thoughtless discarding of these and other forms of partially consumed tobacco must be prevented. That means ash trays and other receptacles in every room, hallway, porch and even in the kitchen, in every home, even though the residents may not smoke. They must be conveniently located, handy and self-evident as to their use, but they must not be a type which will readily cause a fire. That handy contraption of a small ash tray on a leather strap, held in position on the arm of an overstuffed chair by two weights, has caused many midnight runs for the fire department. One of the greatest dangers from smoking is in connection with industrial work, warehousing, shipping and other work where, because of the character of the material used, or to obtain the full value of the worker's time smoking is prohibited.

This produces an actual, or imagined, state of starvation in the person, which in too many cases results in stolen whiffs, in some out-of-the-way place, with the consequent quick discard of the "smoke" when someone approaches. To care for this, there must be provided a place where, and a time when, a person can smoke. When you smoke, please consider the location you are in for your own safety and everyone else. Use the ash trays to discard the "smokes." Do not smoke in areas that are posted "no smoking," you may live longer.

Eighty Percent of Families in N. E. Have Telephones

Over 116,000 new telephones added during 1955 brings to 80 percent the number of families in the states of Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont, having telephone service, New England Telephone and Telegraph's annual stockholder's report reveals.

This represents a 36 percent gain over 1954, and brings the total number of telephones in the five-state area to 2,680,000.

President E. Harrell attributes the rise to the year's high level of business generally, aggressive selling and merchandising, and the availability of more services for customers' special requirements.

Mr. Harrell reported earnings of 6.32 percent on total invested capital as against 5.63 percent in 1954, and net income of $8.95 per share as against $7.84.

The Company's 1955 construction work totaled $99 million, the largest amount ever, and $15 million more than in 1954. There were new buildings or building additions in 95 locations, added largely to improve and expand both local and long distance service.

Dial conversions were completed in 85 communities and there was further extension of Direct Distance Dialing by telephone users as well as by operators. In 1955, 76 percent of the Company's telephones were dial and 59 percent of long distance calls were dial-handled.

Military and civil defense communications needs had high priority in the year's construction and included some 14,000 miles of network circuits in the air defense system under project SAGE.

President Harrell reported a planned construction program of $100 million in 1956. He said "Expanding telephone facilities must move along with industrial growth."

News of Day

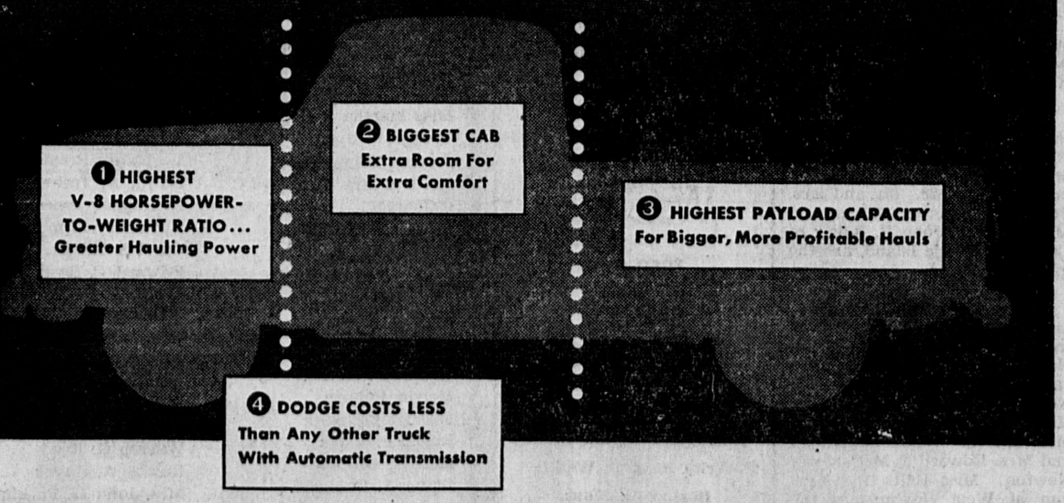

Leap Year Dance . . . On Wednesday, February 29, Leap Year Day, the Student Council sponsored a Leap Year Dance. This dance was held in the afternoon and was truly a Leap Year affair, with the girls asking the boys, calling for them at their attendance rooms and even providing them with corsages. Of course, the corsages were rather unusual, being made of such things as radishes, carrots, lettuce, olives, cherries and other odd things. A contest to determine the most original corsage was won by Vincent Farina with a corsage made by Claire Baccari. Refreshments were served and dancing enjoyed by all.

Family Frolic . . . The eighth grade officers and cabinet under the direction of Mr. Brown, the class advisor, are planning a "Family Frolic" night to be held on April 6, 1956. This affair will provide an opportunity for the entire family to have a "night out" with lots of fun being provided for all. The activities will include dancing, refreshments, and entertainment by students, faculty and parents. Tickets will go on sale soon.

Student - Faculty Basketball Game . . . The annual Student-Faculty basketball game will be held on Friday, March 2 in the gym. In this game a faculty team consisting of Mr. Eldert, Mr. Boston, Mr. Blount, Mr. Goodman and Mr. Brown will attempt to defeat the Day Varsity. This is always an hilarious affair and a large crowd is expected. An admission charge of 10c is contributed to the athletic fund.

Science Fair . . . Students and faculty are busy these days in planning and preparing for the annual Science Fair and Open House, to be held on March 28, 1956. Many students are planning to enter a project this year and a successful and interesting Fair is anticipated.

Dodge leads all pick-ups on all 4 counts!

Don't buy a truck blindfolded...

Check Dodge before you buy, and get more truck per dollar!

Choose any yardstick of comparison you can name—you'll find no other truck measures up to today's bigger, more powerful DODGE.

Prove it yourself. Give the new truck you may be thinking of buying a good, thorough going over. Dig into its payload rating, horsepower-to-weight ratio, cab size, performance, and price. Get the facts, right from the engineers' specification book. Then take time to . . .

Check Dodge. Match every one of these points against what you get in a DODGE truck, and see how much more Dodge gives you for each dollar you invest.

You owe it to yourself to get the best buy for your money, so be sure to get your Dodge dealer's deal before you decide—before you make the unfortunate mistake of paying more for your next truck and getting less.

Easier on driver—especially with automatic transmission. You get the largest cab for greater comfort, largest wrap-around windshield for greater safety.

Easier to turn. Dodge has industry's shortest turning radius—requires much less effort to park, make U-turns, maneuver through heavy downtown traffic.

Easier to load. Low body-floor means just an easy lift from ground to truck, saves you work every time you load, every time you unload.

Easier on gas. Dodge higher horsepower-to-weight ratio means less pulling effort required of engine, assures greater efficiency, maximum gas economy.

--Life Hazards--

Loss of life in fires is primarily caused by the lethal qualities of the products that are burning. For this reason it is of greatest importance that people in a building be acquainted, at the earliest possible moment, with the fact that there is a fire. Had this been done in most of these recent instances of serious life loss in fires, there would have been time to call the fire department, to proceed from the building or to close the doors before these lethal gases could be produced in sufficient reach a degree of toxic concenamounts to cause asphyxia or tration, as to produce death.

This failure to discover fire quickly is also a large factor in those fires which have destroyed buildings and contents. In few cases can a fire department extinguish, with small loss, a fire which is discovered only after it has smoldered and burned for several hours.

On the basis of these two statements it is self-evident that automatic detection of fire would go far towards providing life safety, especially for those places which are occupied throughout the twenty-four hours and where people sleep such as hotels and dormitorities. Also there would be a large reduction of property loss prevented in those places where no guard is on duty after working hours.

Discovery of fire can be obtained by devices which are sensitive to heat. These are known as theremostats and operate in different ways. One type operates at a fixed temperature while the other operates if there is a rise in temperature exceeding a certain rate greater than that normal to the occupancy. There are also devices which operate when smoke occurs, or from the radiation of heat rays, or from excess of oxides of carbon in the air. The reliability of all of these devices will depend upon the design, the materials used and the workmanship. They must be such that they can stand ordinary moisture, dust and fumes over a long period of years and still function when a fire occurs.

Assurance of the dependability of thermostats is part of the work of Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., these tests cover all types under various conditions of fires starting.

Together with the quality of the thermostat there must be a proper designed means of sounding the signal. This generally involves the use of electricity and will consist of a source of electrical energy, wiring, an alarm sounding device and a means of testing the combination of these to assure they are in working condition at all times.

People that are interested in fire protection realize that the automatic detection of fire through thermostats and an alarm system provides a safeguard of life and property only exceeded by the automatic sprinkler system, which includes not only a thermostat but also the application of water.

Prevention of fire hazards, early detection and fast extinguishment of fires can be accomplished by the modern devices and they should be installed wherever there is a life hazard or valuable property to be protected. Don't be the next casualty, prevent a fire and save a life.

Carr Nursery School

Mrs. A. Maxwell Stone, who teaches creative activities to nursery training teachers at the Eliot-Pearson School of Tufts University visited the Carr Nursery School on Tuesday afternoon, March 6, with seven of her students, to observe a typical activities program.

Miss Mary Harris, the nursery school's teacher, conducted a special session of the Carr Nursery School at which time a group of the school children living in the immediate Carr School district participated in the class that was observed.

The Carr School Nursery is now in its second year of successful operation and has been highly praised by authorities in the field of education. It is a non-profit school organized by parents under the guidance of and with the cooperation of the Newton School Department. Mr. Kenneth LaFlamme, principal of the Carr School and the Horace Mann School has given his generous assistance to the Nursery School.

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Carr Nursery School was held last week at the home of Mrs. Jack Marinsky, 8 Brookdale Road, Newtonville, with Mrs. Marinsky presiding. It was announced that requests for applications for next fall are now being accepted. The applications will be sent out by March 22. Parents interested in enrolling their children in the non-profit Carr Nursery School, Nevada St., Newtonville, should call Mrs. Edward Mason, enrollment chairman, at DEcatur 2-6513 or Mrs. Marinsky, DEcatur 2-1117 to request applications or further information.

Miss Mary Harris, the Nursery School's teacher, was given a vote of thanks for her outstanding accomplishments during the school year.

A report on the movies that have been taken to date was given, and plans to continue taking the 16 mm. color movies of both the indoor and outdoor activities of the children were arranged.

The budget for the next school year was drawn up by the Budget Committee and submitted by Mr. Paul Goldman, treasurer and chairman of the committee.

Newton Boys' Club Joins in National Week

Thomas V. Cleveland, prominent Newton realtor announced today that the Newton Boys' Club of 98 Dalby street will actively participate in the National Boys' Club Golden Anniversary Week which will be celebrated throughout the country April 2 through April 8.

Mr. Cleveland, who is chairman of the local Golden Anniversary Committee, stated that the theme of the Newton Boys' Club program will be "Help Juvenile Decency Combat Juvenile Delinquency."

Assisting Mr. Cleveland on the Golden Anniversary Committee will be Miss Adelaide Ball, member of the Newton Board of Alderman and John J. White, vice-president of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company.

Board Denies Miracle Mile Zoning Plea

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen Monday night, a petition for an extension of the manufacturing area near the "Miracle Mile" in the Highlands, was unanimously denied.

The Board did grant a request for a change of zone to manufacturing in Nonantum and upset by split votes favorable reports of committees for the expansion of a gasoline station in Newtonville; for a transfer of a nursing home license, and for a permit to construct a vestibule.

The petition of Elizabeth Manor, Inc., for an increase from 20 to 31 patients at the convalescent home at 11 Washington street, Newton, was denied by the Board. Despite a plea by Alderman Charles H. Cosgrove that the number be increased to 26, the vote on the matter was 11 to 3 against.

--Health For All--

In Grandmother's day this was the season for sulphur and molasses. The whole family would line up to swallow spoonfuls of the horrid medicine from the big brown bottle. This was supposed to build up the blood thinned by the long winter and protect against the hazards of spring.

Maybe a stiff dose of sulphur and molasses could temporarily jolt an adolescent out of the day dreaming that goes with the season. Probably it had no other useful effect. But Grandmother wasn't far wrong. Spring does have its special hazards, and stern measures are often necessary to deal with them.

This is the season of spring colds, brought on by man's eternal optimism. We all know that beautiful April skies can turn gray and pour down drenching rain within an hour. We know that temperatures can go up and down like a see-saw. But who prepares for such weather? We expect and dress for nothing but the best. Women shiver in their new spring coats and slosh through puddles in open-toed shoes The farmer can't stop his ploughing and run for cover with every shower. The small boy loses his rubbers. His older sister wouldn't be caught dead with an umbrella.

Mother can't spend all her time chasing after these delinquents. She might as well take it for granted that they will be foolish, and try to build up their natural resistance to colds. She can see to it that every member of the family is getting a proper diet, replete with the "protective" foods: milk, eggs, meat, green vegetables. She can make sure that everyone is getting enough sleep. If any member of the family seems "run down" and complains of tiredness, a visit to the doctor is in order. Children with colds should be kept at home. A day of quiet rest will usually ward off serious developments.

Too soon spring will pass. We owe it to ourselves to be in condition to enjoy every minute of it.

LAND COURT

To the Honorable the Judges of the Land Court for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Respectfully represents Carmen J. Lo Chiatto and Theodora M. Lo Chiatto both of Newton, in the County of Middlesex, and said Commonwealth; that they are owners of a certain lot of land with the buildings thereon, situate in Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, bounded and described as follows:

The land in said Newton, with the buildings thereon, situated on and numbered thirty-nine in the numbering of Jefferson Street, bounded and described as follows:

Southerly by said Jefferson Street, fifty-one (51) feet;

Westerly by land now or late of Hyde, eighty-four (84) feet;

Northerly by land now or late of Chase, fifty-two and 7/12 (52.7/12) feet;

Easterly by land now or late of Chase, sixty-four and 16/100 (64.16) feet.

That the record title to said lot of land is clouded by a mortgage given by Nora A. Smith, to Waltham Trust Company, dated July 23, 1936, and duly recorded Book 4997, Page 551, in Middlesex South District Registry of Deeds, purporting to secure a note for $2950., payable in three years with interest annually, which mortgage appears to be undischarged, unassigned and unforeclosed on and by the record and not properly or legally discharged of record;

That for more than twenty years after the expiration of the time limited for the full performance of said condition, no payment has been made and no other act done in recognition of said mortgage; and

That the mortgagor named in said mortgage and those claiming under her have been in uninterrupted possession of said land for more than twenty years after the expiration of time limited in said mortgage for the full performance of the condition thereof.

WHEREFORE your petitioners pray that after appropriate notices a decree may be entered on the foregoing allegations as authorized by Section 16, Chapter 240 of the General Laws as amended by Chapter 20, of the Acts of 1924.

NEWTON CHAPTER
21 Foster Street, Newtonville

The swift cold waters that flowed over New England rose to a monstrous torrent one horror-filled night in August. Death and destruction and terror and woe were upon the green land. And when the rains stopped, misery stalked the valleys, touching literally every family.

This is but one of the 300 disasters this year in which many helped relieve the agony — helped repair the devastation. You helped — you who joined the Red Cross.

Won't you join generously this year — and help again? For disaster will strike us — over 6 times each week in 1956 — and no one knows where. The Red Cross will be there. Will you stand with us?

7.—MALE HELP

LIKE TO GO INTO BUSINESS FOR YOURSELF??

Would you like to be in a business where someone else furnished all the capital? Where your earnings were limited by your own ability? As an automobile salesman in our employ you would have such an opportunity.

You will receive high commissions on every sale, plus a bonus plan. Excellent working conditions in one of the best residential areas in the U. S. — away from the hustle and bustle of downtown Boston.

We prefer men who have had some selling experience. Men who have been successful in selling specialties often make much more money selling automobiles. Perhaps you are selling in a retail store but would prefer outside work with greater opportunities. Perhaps you are retired or semi-retired with an established position in the community, and would like to get back to a job where you can govern your own speed.

mouth" banner greeted the guests.

THE EXCHANGERS spent Sunday as a family day, getting together in the evening for the progressive supper at the homes of three Newton exchangers. Monday, Newton High itself greeted the visitors with a Welcome Assembly and a tour of the campus. The Plymouth group attended classes and were greeted after school, at the City Hall, by Mayor Howard Whitmore and Superintendent of Schools Dr. Harold Gores.

Directed by Mr. Carl L. Swan and Miss Frances ". Smith, Newton teachers who are faculty advisors to the exchange, excursions are leaving from Newton in many directions for tours of the local universities, the City of Boston, the North Shore and the Lexington-Concord area. In contrast, Friday will have High school classes, and inter-exchange basketball game, and end up with dancing at the Totem Pole.

IN BOSTON, the visitors will meet Governor Herter during a tour of the State House, and will attend Cinerama.

Exchangers are delighted with their souvenir exchange yearbooks, an innovation prepared by Mr. Swan. It contains all kinds of information exchangers will need, a picture of the Newton students who are hosts, and is decorated with historic and modern Boston scenes as interpreted by F. W. Dahl, famous cartoonist, whose daughter is an exchanger. The back cover shows a New England bean pot arm in arm with a Wisconsin cheese.

Much interest in the exchange has been shown, both in Wisconsin and in Massachusetts. A meat processing plant in Wisconsin has shown its enthusiasm with a donation of food for the exchange's progressive supper. Such gestures foreshadow a warm welcome for Newton in April. Organizations of this region have shown their support by contributing souvenir bean pots and attractive silver pins to the Wisconsin visitors. The dinner in Gloucester is by courtesy of a fish packing plant there. The evening of dancing at the Totem Pole is by invitation of the management.

THERE WILL be free time for Plymouth students to spend with the Newton families for trips or getting acquainted. The visitors leave next Wednesday in anticipation of seeing their Newton friends in Wisconsin on April 14.

solicitors make a round-up of un-reported calls. The difference between complete coverage will mean limited service by the whole Red Cross.

Who is going to be hurt if this total is not collected this year? Frankly, you, the public, because you are the Red Cross. It may be your son or brother in the Army, Navy, or Air Force who received your help through their Red Cross.

YOU MAY be the one to receive a pint of blood given through your Red Cross that may save your very own life. You may be the one who will be given a back rub in the hospital by a Nurse's Aide trained by your Red Cross. You may save your daughter's life only because you have learned to apply a tourniquet in a Red Cross First Aid Class.

Do you think you will be immune from sickness and accident? If you are like the rest of us, you and yours one day will be sick or injured. You are the Red Cross. It is your Red Cross which cannot be taken for granted when you have fed or nutured its being.

You can keep the Red Cross at the side of those stricken by disaster, or you can disappoint the Red Cross by turning your back on it now. Your Red Cross has definite responsibilities given by our government. To fulfill these requirements you must give blood, you must take time for volunteer and safety duties, and you must give money.

IF YOU HAVE given no blood, give a pint; if you have time to give, give it; if you have given money, give a little more if you can. If you have not been solicited, please make your contribution to the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, 21 Foster Street, Newtonville. If you have not yet given it, please do it now. Your Red Cross in Newton "MUST SUCCEED."

Drive-

ALL THOSE who live in Waban will have their papers collected April 28th by Boy Scout Troops 9 and 10, under the leadership of Mr. Paterson and Mr. Gittine. This applies to the area only.

Mrs. Ross and the ladies on her food committee have announced that the Prince Macaroni and Spaghetti Company have offered to provide spaghetti enough to feed the 125 volunteers and workers. The meal will be served at the Hunnewell Club from 11:30 to 1:00.

The Young People have made and distributed posters and cards throughout Newton containing names and phone numbers of people to call. Barbara Joslin and David Smith have lined up people to be on the trucks Saturday. Mr. H. I. Roiter, whose company is buying the paper, has donated a large truck to be at the Hunnewell Club to transport papers from there to his company.

EVERYONE in Newton is urged to give their papers, time or cars to aid in this worthwhile project to help in the rebuilding of the Eliot Church of Newton.

Show-

$25 U. S. savings bond. Each of the remaining acts will get a $5 U. S. savings stamp.

Applications should contain name, address, telephone number, school attended and age. A description of the form of entertainment should also be submitted.

Applications should be sent to Edmund F. Chevris, 30 Channing street, Newton 58, no later than Saturday, April 7. You will be notified when and where to appear for your audition if your application is accepted.

IF AN ACT consists of more than one person, at least one must be eligible under the rules above. The Audition Committee's decision on the elegibility of applicants is final.

Whittier-

The featured speaker is Lt. Governor Sumner G. Whittier, from Everett. Since its beginning, Newton Mayor, Howard Whitmore, has been a regular guest.

THE BREAKFAST begins promptly at 8:00 a.m., with a social time beforehand in the Fellowship Room. The arrangements have been largely made by Stanley E. Parker, President of the Foreniters, with an able committee. A large sale of tickers is anticipated in view of the prominence of the speaker.

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Whitmore Previously Committed to Support Reynolds; Peabody Will Be Difficult to Best Regardless of Opponent; Whittier-Nelson Feud May Impair GOP Victory This Fall

Former Representative Christian A. Herter, Jr., is the type of young man who respects the right of everyone to support whom they wish in an election contest and who recognizes that political promises were not made to be broken.

Consequently, there was no sign of rancor and bitterness on his part when a group of prominent Newton Republicans, among them Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., publicly announced their backing of former Assistant Attorney General Harris A. Reynolds of Weston whom Herter is opposing for the GOP nomination for the Governor's Council in the third concillor district.

Mayor Whitmore's name in the list of endorsers of Reynolds' candidacy caused a flickering of political eyebrows. It's rather unusual for the Mayor of a non-partisan city to commit himself in a primary fight, particularly this early, with six months still to go in the conflict.

The explanation given by Whitmore that he had agreed to support Reynolds before he was aware that Herter planned to run for the Executive Council was accepted by the Governor's son, and the two are still good friends.

Red Cross Extends Drive Two Weeks Due to Big Storm

The Newton Red Cross announces that they will extend their 1956 fund program an additional two weeks that they may reach their quota which to date has been farther behind than in any year in the history of Newton. The extension of the program is in line with the Boston Chapter who has already announced their extension due to weather.

ADVANCE GIFTS in the City of Newton from our residents gave every indication that the fund would reach its goal very easily within the first two weeks as our quota was set at approximately last year's figure.

This advance response was curtailed by several of the worst snowstorms we have had in history just prior to the entrance of Spring. Snow that could have hit Alaska hit Newton as it did many other Metropolitan areas and has made the Red Cross workers job one of the most difficult they have ever experienced. Many, many workers have announced at the Chapter meetings their calls on various homes during the start of the campaign and were requested that they make a re-

Dinner at 6:30 will be followed by a short business meeting, including election of officers. The program at 8 is to be a forum on United Fund Drives moderated by Mr. Harry L. Whalen. Little White House Conference Big Success Despite Big Storm

A weary but still witty gentleman faced an unusual audience last week after completing a contemporary Odyssey by train, plane, street car and foot which surpassed the legendary one of Ulysses in the number and difficulty of miles covered.

Dr. Clarence H. Faust, President of the Fund for the Advancement of Education of the Ford Foundation spent nearly twenty-four hours en route from Baton Rouge, Louisiana, to Newton, concluding his journey travel-worn but victorious at the Waldorf Cafeteria at Newton Corner. "Education is Everybody's Business" was the theme of his address to 500 hardy Newtonians, many of whom arrived in ski clothes, to attend Newton's Little White House Conference on Education. With a pre-paid conference registration of over 1,000, conferenc planners calmly re-arranged their program, which was to have opened Friday evening. The latter session, a panel discussion on "What Are Our Goals in Education" with Mr. Brassil Fitzgerald, Dr. Francis Parkman, and Dr. W. Linwood Chase discussing the part of the parochial, private and public school respectively, held at Newton High School on Sunday afternoon, March 18, with the mettle of the community again strikingly displayed in the number who attended.

The workshop discussion units of Saturday morning went to work as originally scheduled. Unit groups were combined in view of the change in attendance, each with trained Discussion Leaders and Consultants in each category, viz.: Teachers, Finance, Buildings and General Considerations. The participants in each group explored in depth various problems pertain-

NEWTON SPORTS

Sports Teach That a Loss One Day Can Be a Victory the Next Day

Next to maintaining a good academic record, one of the most beneficial phases of high school life is sports. Naturally one is at high school to get an education, and either go on to college or enter a profession. Yet, sports is an education in itself.

The worn out bit, "it helps you to accept defeat and fight back," is oft used in arguing for sports. Of course nobody likes to lose, and nobody takes defeat graciously. Some may put up a strong front, but deep inside, there is bitterness. This is only human. However, if anything can help you to come bouncing back, it is sports. It will help you realize that a loss one day, can be reversed into victory the next.

The acquaintances made through athletics can be made most valuable. Many high school athletes get summer jobs through sports, which will help pay for their college education or help them in their trade. Of course, participating in sports is a help when you apply for college or any job.

It should be made clear, that naturally everybody can't be a star. If you aren't good enough to make a school team there are many alternatives. Church leagues, intra-mural athletics, playground leagues, or clubs. Student managing and sport writing are beneficial to you.

Throughout life, in any profession, there is competition. If you are better than the other guy, you get ahead; if you aren't nobody will help pick you up. Sports introduces our young citizens to competition early in life.

Often in life the ability to get along with others and cooperation, is the difference between success and failure. The teams are few and far between that won many games without team play.

At Newton High School there are many sports open to all. Football, basketball, baseball, hockey, golf, tennis, indoor track, and outdoor track, give a wide variety of selection. And even if one is cut from a team, to get out and try can be helpful.

And girls too, can receive many benefits from sports. The well-rounded person is the person that gets ahead today, and girls that participate in their sports are a step ahead of the others.

The physical aspect of sports is most important. It helps build your body. Most athletes are better prepared to fight disease and sickness if it comes. Besides body building, sports help build character.

Finally, the enjoyment angle. If for no other reason, the relaxation and enjoyment offered by sports is a strong selling point. The office worker, after a hard week at the office, likes a round of golf. Or, much as it may surprise the teachers and adults, we students have a hard day at school. Out on the athletic field, the pent up energy and steam can be let off without harm to others. Juvenile delinquency can be curbed in a large part through Police Leagues and other sport organizations.

So, to any parents reading this article, encourage your son or daughter to participate or be connected with sports in some way. He will be better for it.

Sport Shorts

Russ Halloran, Mr. Basketball at Newton High, closed out his last season of varsity play in brilliant style. He set two records; first, he set a one game high, throwing in forty-one points versus Brockton, and secondly, he broke his own record for most points scored in one season with three hundred and eighty four. This amounts to more than twenty points a game!

—o—

Joe DeNucci, who won the regional Golden Gloves 147 pound title, finally met his match. The novice welterweight from Newton, put up a great fight against Jackson Brown of Chicago, but lost. We are confident that one loss won't keep Joe from coming back, and we look for good things and lots of victories from Joe in the future.

—o—

Although the Canadian hockey teams usually give our American teams a good beating, the Boston Peewee Hockey Team traveled to Montreal and defeated their squad 2-0. Ronny O'Laughlin, a boy who should win a starting berth on next year's Newton team, flipped in a goal and an assist.

—o—

With snow on the ground, and baseball all but underway, football is probably farthest from your mind. Yet, spring practice is going on, and the prediction from here is that the Tigers are going to be a pleasant surprise to many of you.

—o—

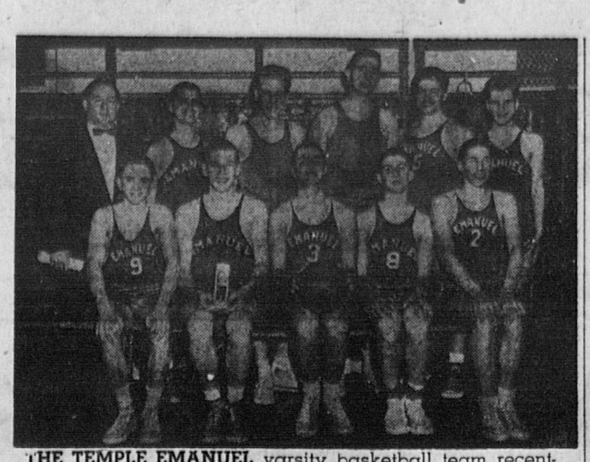

When next year's hockey season rolls around, keep your eye on a boy named Earl Cornish. A transfer from B.C. High and ineligible for competition this year, he will be counted on to carry a heavy load.

—o—

Since the departure of Art DeStefano, the Newton football team has had two mediocre seasons. Many people have been wondering what has happened to Art. He is now in his sophomore year at Villanova. If he does play football in his next two years, we look for favorable comment about him.

—o—

Bill Hamill, the great Tiger baseball star, is now at Holy Cross. Levon "Mouse" Kasarjian is at Harvard.

Dance to Be Held By Newton East Little League

Philip Lowe, Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Newton East Little League has just announced that the 4th Annual Dance of the Newton East Little League will be held on April 14 at 8:30 p.m. at the Bowen School 280 Cypress Street, Newton Centre. Most of the tickets sales for this dance are being made by door to door calls by the players of the 12 Newton East Little League baseball teams. Admission to the dance is free to those who contribute.

This year, as in previous years, combined Booster and Annual Dance ticket sales are relied upon as the main source of revenue for defraying the expense of the ball playing season. These expenses include cost of equipment as baseballs, bats, uniform replacements and repairs and umpires. The expenses during one playing season have been found to be about $15 per youngster participating. It is expected that there will be about 200 boys between the ages of 8 and 12 years participating in Newton East Little League baseball this season as compared to 182 boys participating last year. Thus $3000 will be needed to cover expenses this year.

By Little League rules, this drive is necessarily confined to the Newton Centre and Chestnut Hill areas (south of Commonwealth Avenue), Oak Hill and Thompsonville. The residents of this area are earnestly urged to give generously to this worthy cause which provides so much for the healthful physical as well as character building activity of the youngsters in this area. This year a very fine group of managers have already been found and assigned to direct the activities of the Newton East Little League baseball teams. It should be noted here that all of these managers as well as all of the personnel of the Newton East Little League are public spirited individuals devoting their time voluntarily.

All contributions to the Newton East Little League, which is a charitable and educational organization, have been officially declared to be tax deductible by the Internal Revenue Service. If you have not been solicited personally and wish to make a contribution, you may do so by addressing it to Newton East Little League, c/o Mr. Philip Lowe, 125 Cedar Street, Newton Centre.

South Little League Try-outs

Tryouts for the Newton South Little League Baseball Season will be held at the Cold Springs Playground, Newton Highlands on the following dates: April 14, 21, 28.

Applications are now available at the elementary schools in the following villages: Newton Highlands, Waban, Newton Lower Falls, Newton Upper Falls, and Sacred Heart of Newton Centre.

-- High School Activities --

Newton High School is proud to have six of her students representing her in the semi-finals in competition for the General Motors Scholarship. Dotty Swanton, Jeff Nason, Bruce Dow, John Kelley, Dick Minear, and Mike Harting are six of the sixteen hundred students in this national academic competition. Only one winner from each state and territory will be chosen. The scholarship offers a needy student up to $2,000 a year and $200 to any student, regardless of need. In addition, General Motors sends a check (equal to the tuition fee if that fee is not over $800) to the college that every winner attends.

The 1956-57 basketball, hockey, and track teams have bright prospects. Returning basketball lettermen are forwards John Beggs and Brian Kenny, and guards Dave Chamberlain and Al Martin. These veterans along with a very successful Junior Varsity will form the nucleus for next season's varsity. There are several excellent prospects for next year's hockey team, including Jimmy Leonard and Ron O'Laughlin. Many of the standouts of our really great track team will be back: Pete Nelson, Gardner Rollins, Jack McCree, Marty Beckwith, Jim King, John Connery, and Larry Mazzola.

In the current issue of the "Newtonite" one column reads in part this way: "The current crop of letter-writing which has sprung up in this paper as of late makes way for a compliment to the faculty advisor and paper staff for being liberal enough to print some of these tirades. 'Tis a credit to the brass for letting the more vehement individuals among us express their sentiments." Here are a few of the comments of some "vehement" students: "School spirit is not a good characteristic, because it increases one's pride without enriching one's life." "We believe that no school government is good school government. The elections (for school offices) are unfair. A miasmatic mist of conformity and passivity reigns in the legislature." "The football season's over. Drop back into obscurity, fellers, for a while, and give civilization a chance to progress." "Rock and Roll bears little relationship to music of any sort. It is much closer to ordinary noise. Imagine the barbaric rites of primitive savages accompanied by a rasping, abrasive saxophone and an out-of-tune orchestra, and you have a close approximation of Rock and Roll". "The present marking system defeats many of the purposes of giving pupils grades. If school work is worth grading, it is worth grading exactly, fairly." "On approaching from behind, one finds distinction between boy and girl increasingly difficult, what with boys' permanent-wave hair styles and effeminate walks, manner of dress and actions." This poem should be the final word on the criticism of NHS government.

"Dear you who criticize our school government,
So you've said its bad
And it has been sad.
But what have you done
After all that fun,
To make the school any better?
Say! Just What's the matter?

Anyone can loudly claim
That such may be his aim,
But the aim is wrecked
If not put in effect!

As school spirit is not nice
You want it shoved on ice
Along with our elections,
Which are only abominations.

You like nonconformity,
Feel it's a rare commodity
In possession of a very few
In fact only you.

Lift that mist of miasma
The climate's bad for my asthma,
For I have an allergy to those Conformists in nonconformists clothes.

How about next week's projects.
Dear junior Fearless Fosdicks,
After your yelling and shooting,
Will there be any carrying them-outing?

So let's have a little action
From your noisy little faction.
And who knows?
You may actually do some good

Or something."

Message to seniors: "Isn't it wonderful to have College Boards out of the way?

NHS exchange members have been working laboriously all year. Finally their dreams have come true. Saturday, March 17th, the exchange members from Plymouth, Wisconsin arrived in Newton for a week's stay.

Five From Newton Win "Excellent" Rating At Mass. Drama Festival

Newton High School students and teachers demonstrated the kind of spirit which has made Newton High School outstanding, when they struggled against the storm Saturday to be on time for the Massachusetts Drama Festival Preliminaries, held at Hingham High school. Like real troupers they were determined that the show must go on, and they were rewarded by a rating of "excellent" for the performance, while individual Newton actors and actresses won five of the twelve places on the "All-Preliminary Cast." Newton students who won awards were Bob Sade, Linda Bailey, Philip Bolton, Nanci Levine, and Roger Tucker. Other members of cast and crew were Barbara Dentino, Elaine Moran, Nancy Wilbert, Jim Dangel, Bill Foster, Reinier Beeuwkes, Carol Reed, Judy Smith, Joanne Swett, and Cynthia Davis.

This cast, which won its chance to participate by its performance at Newton's own Drama Festival, February 17, will now be among the finalists who compete for the state award in John Hancock Hall, April 6 and 7.

Saturday's struggle to see Newton represented at Hingham began when only a few of the twenty actors and crew were able to get to the early morning rendezvous at Newton High School. By word of mouth or telephone students were directed to go to Hingham by train. One used the MTA to Quincy and another bus from there. The faculty directors drove over snowy roads with the car full of props and arrived in time to ferry the cast from the railroad station to Hingham High School. Three quarters of an hour later they were presenting the play.

The disappointment of the schools that were unable to make the trip to Hingham because of the weather gave great concern to the Massachusetts Drama Association, the New England Drama Association, and to Mr. William Spink and Miss Helen Ryan, Newton teachers who are active Association workers. In a gesture of cooperation, with the help of Dr. Leo Barry, Principal of the High School, they invited the schools which had missed the preliminaries at Hingham to present their plays in the Newton High School auditorium on Tuesday.

Schools invited to complete the semi-finals at Newton were Mt. St. Joseph cademy, and Belmont, Revere, Somerville, Apb. Williams, Needham, St. Johns, Attleboro and Franklin High Schools.

Annual Lenten Luncheon At YMCA Today

Dr. Carl S. Ell, President of Northeeastern University, will be the speaker at the Newton YMCA's seventh Annual Lenten Luncheor to be held tonight Thursday) at 12:15 p.m. in the YMCA auditorium. Dr. Ell's subject will be "Makers of Civilization."

Plans for the affair are being made by members of the Christian Emphasis Committee of the YMCA, Ralph B. Emery, chairman and John E. Danielson, secretary. The meeting will be another of a series of lay sponsored luncheons for business and professional men.

Mayor Howard Whitmore was the 1955 speaker. Joseph Earl Perry, President of the Newton Savings Bank, addressed the 1954 meeting.

Dr. Ell, speaker for this year's Lenten Luncheon, is a graduate of De Pauw University and also holds degrees from M.I.T. and Harvard in addition to honorary degrees from Tufts, De Pauw, Boston University, and the University of Rhode Island. At Northeastern, he was named Dean of College of Engineering in 1917 and has served as president since 1940. Listed as an outstanding educator and able administrator, Dr. Ell has headed Northeastern during a great expansion program. Dr. Ell lives at 21 Beaumont Avenue, Newtonville.

Rev. Elmo Young, minister of the Newton Centre Methodist Church and Rev. Russell E. Gundlach, pastor of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church were scheduled speakers at YMCA staff and employee Lenten devotionals to be held this spring.

Members and friends of the YMCA are invited to attend the luncheon. Further information can be secured from John E. Danielson, Youth Work Secretary and also secretary of the Christian Emphasis Committee of the Newton YMCA.

Sporting Goods Firm To Erect Building Here

Future plans for construction of a new Wilson Sporting Goods Co. building in Newton, have been announced in Chicago by President Fred J. Bowman.

THE FAMOUS athletic goods firm recently purchased a plot of ground at Needham street and Industrial Place in the Newton Industrial Center, developed by Cabot, Cabot & Forbes Co. Occupying 88,742 square feet, the tract will be the site of a combined Wilson Boston sales branch and clothing factory for the New England area. Wilson currently maintains a similar operation at 53-55 Franklin street, in Boston.

Construction details have not yet been completed, but the new building will be of modern, one-floor design. It will also include ample parking area for customers and employees.

ACCORDING to Bowman, the new facilities will provide additional service to the growing number of Wilson customers throughout the Northeast, which he termed a rapidly expanding market in the sporting goods industry.

Negotiations for the sale have been handled through the Boston real estate firms of Cabot, Cabot & Forbes Co. and C. W. Whittier & Bro.

There Is Still Time

There was a time, not so long ago, when crippled children were kept in back bedrooms and hidden from relatives, friends and neighbors. Their parents felt ashamed and actually believed that they were to blame for their children's handicaps.

Today that attitude has changed, and crippled children have been brought "out of the dark" and "into the light" through specialized care, treatment, and scientifc rehabilitation. This change of heart makes productive citizens out of the physically handicapped. Organizations like the Massachusetts Easter Seal Society and its 1,600 Easter Seal affiliates across the nation lead the way.

New medical discoveries and techniques take rapid strides in the rehabilitation of the crippled. Still, there are many more persons who can be helped. At the same time, services for crippled children continue to grow more costly each year. Funds are desperately needed to continue and expand care and treatment to reach more crippled children and adults.

The Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped has proved that crippled children and adults can be rehabilitated so that they will be taxpaying, rather than tax-supported, citizens.

Your support of Easter Seals will help.

One Solution

In many congested localities, and even in our smaller communities, the lamentation arises that juvenile delinquency is increasing alarmingly, and often the despairing comment is made that there evidently is little we can do about felonies and vandalism by youth. These social pessimists argue that, like the Biblical observation about the poor, juvenile delinquency "ye always will have with you."

A refreshing rebuttal to this attitude of resignation about a problem that admittedly is complex is provided by some figures recently issued by Boys' Clubs of America which this year is celebrating its Golden Anniversary—50 years of dedication to the conviction that boys are not always anti-social by nature. The juvenile's "common enemy," leaders of this group say, on the basis of a half-century's down-to-earth experience with boys, is not the corner cop or the roving truant officer. For example, the real and most formidable foe of youth, in just about all instances where destructive behavior reaches the courts, is a woeful lack of imagination and constructive thinking about how to channel the unbounded energies and ingenuity of our young people.

In its span of 50 years, Boys' Clubs of America has grown from a nucleus of 53 local clubs, mainly in New England, to a national association of some 450 clubs from Maine to California. Its members, ranging in age from seven to 20, in number almost 500,000; and in big towns and small, the dues are so low that any kid can afford to belong.

What is the magic formula? There really is none save to make possible the constructive investment by boys of their free time in organized and supervised activities, in a variety of crafts, arts, hobbies, sports, basic vocational training. Boys' Club directors and their staffs of professional and volunteer instructors find little difficulty in firing the imagination of boys in supervised recreation. Given a choice, the average youngster will prefer a club of his own to the catch-as-catch-can contacts of the streets and alleys. He obviously favors playing sports with the conventional equipment than with improvised tools on indifferent sandlots. He can't learn anything of fascinating arts and crafts without appropriate instruction and the requisite material.

The difficulty, then, is not in arousing juvenile interest in these safety-valve outlets for the wonderful excess steam of boys. The core of the problem is establishing enough of these clubs which means arousing the much wider interest of the public. The cost, commonly borne by Community Chests, United Funds or independent campaigns, is infinitesimal in relation to the spectacular returns in "juvenile decency."

Flight to Reality

The children in this country, as everybody knows, have already conquered outer space. On the other hand, they have contribed to lift the siege of the Alamo. But shades of Davy Crockett, ask the children about the glories of the Salk vaccine and they will say only that it hurts.

Some of us parents, like our offspring, don't always—in the final analysis—get the point. We have in mind the fight against cancer in the United States, now moving into its 43rd year.

Through the years, the American Cancer Society has been shouting from the rooftops the message of early detection and prompt diagnosis. For four decades it has informed us that most cancers are curable if caught in time. And the AVS, in its life-span, has distributed the list of cancer's seven danger signals literally in billions.

For its part, the public has been generous in its financial support of that organization. But the rub is that vastly too many people are dying needlessly of cancer. Last year 80,000 persons lost their lives to that disease because treatment was begun too late. The ACS says we coul dsave half—not a quarter—of those who develop cancer today.

No wonder then that the American Cancer Society has adopted a new slogan this year for its annual cancer crusade. It's FIGHT CANCER WITH A CHECKUP AND A CHECK. It's an indispensabe action combination that means fighting cancer not only with your checkbook, or pocketbook, but with your appointment book as well. It's a slogan that says strike back at cancer with a one-two punch: your contribution to the ACS and a trip to your doctor.

Remember that cancer strikes one in four—two families out of every three. Learn Cancer's seven danger signals. See a doctor regularly. It's the "early bird" that catches cancer in time.

First Church, Christ Scientist

The significance for all mankind of Christ Jesus' victory over disease and death will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural passages regarding Jesus' crucifixion, resurrection, and ascension will be among the Bible selections to be read from the gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John. "Unreality" is the Lesson-Sermon topic.

Readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following: "The resurrection of the great demonstrator of God's power was the proof of His final triumph over body and matter, and gave full evidence of divine Science, — evidence so important to mortals. The belief that man has existence or mind separate from God is a dying error. This erros Jesus met with divine Science and proved its nothingness" (42:15-21).

Passover Services At Temple Shalom

Jewish people everywhere will once more rehearse mankind's first uprising against human bondage as they celebrate the week-long festival of Passover, which began at sunset, Monday, March 26. As told in Scriptures, the origin of the Passover story centers about the demand made by Moses of Pharaoh that the Israelite slaves be set free. The Jewish holiday of Passover marks the successful outcome of the efforts of Moses.

Temple Shalom of Newton had a Passover family service on Tuesday morning, March 27 at 10:30 a.m., and will have a Passover Yiskor (memorial) Service, Monday, April 2, at 10:30 a.m. Services will be conducted by Rabbi Murray I. Rothman.

Model seders (the festival meal which takes place on the first or first two nights of the holiday) were held for the children of the religious school with the faculty and parents conducting the celebrations.

The students of the Temple Hebrew School will hold their own special Passover services on Thursday, March 29.

Friday night Sabbath services during Passover week will be conducted by Marshall Levin, a member of the congregation and Mr. Shimon Chasdi, a member of the faculty of Temple Shalom Religious School who will give the sermon entitled, "The Bible Lives in Israel".

The Hope of Easter

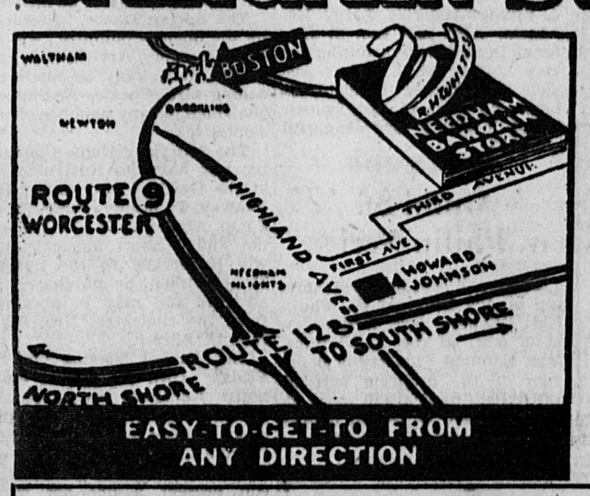

No longer a world of dark despair;
No longer sadness everywhere:
For, see! dispelling fear and doubt
The Easter sun is breaking out.
Nature's making all things new,
New for all, and not the few.
Hope, the soul's sun rifts the cloud;
No need longer for the shroud.
Hope and Courage Easter brings;
Come, join in the anthem Easter sings!

MRS. JOHN RODERICK ARCHER

MISS BATCHELDER IS BRIDE AT CORPUS CHRISTI, TEXAS

At a double ring ceremony, performed by the Rev. A. Norman Evans in the First Methodist Church, Corpus Christi, Texas, Miss Barbara Ann Batchelder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eugene Batchelder of Waban, became the bride of Mr. John Roderick Archer of Corpus Christi. The bride's father gave her in marriage at the four o'clock ceremony, March 10, and a reception followed at the Town Club. Mr. Archer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl P. Archer of Springfield, Ohio.

The Oriental theme was carried throughout the ceremony and reception of the all-pink wedding for which the bride designed her own gown and those of her attendants. With her slim Oriental sheath of pink de soie satin, designed with a mandarin neckline and full overskirt of pure silk organza encircling the back of the sheath, the bride wore a matching pink coolie hat with veil of pink illusion. Her fingerless pink satin gloves matched her pink satin sandals and she carried a satin fan trimmed with seed pearls, pink roses and stephanotis.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Beverly A. Peel of Corpus Christi and the bride's cousin, Miss E. Francis Fisher of Allston, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Elaine Ruggles of Newcastle, New Hampshire, Miss Patricia L. Zoch, Mrs. Floyd C. Skinner and Miss Beverly J. Herrington, all of Corpus Christi. They wore coolie hats and matching short gloves with their pink silk broadcloth sheaths. The gowns were fashioned with pink and white striped overskirts of matching silk broadcloth. They carried Oriental crystalline fans with shell pink ranunculas.

Mrs. Batchelder wore pink peau de soie and Chantilly lace with a hat of tiny pink and green flowers for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother chose pink peau de soie under silk chiffon. Both wore corsages of pink elfie roses.

Richard T. Archer of Cincinnati, Ohio, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers included Beverly A. Peel, William R. Stroble, and Wallace E. Graham of Corpus Christi, J. C. Lane Jr., of Port Isabel, Texas, and Elmer H. Dolch of San Antonio, Texas.

The bride attended Academie Modern and the New England Conservatory of Music. She is a member of Delta Phi sorority. Her husband studied at Ohio State University and Texas Christian University and served with the U. S. Coast Guard during World War II.

turn visit, but the road conditions have made it practically impossible for them to return.

RIGHT NOW it looks as though Spring is just around the corner and your Red Cross worker and fund canvasser will remain on the job another two weeks to complete the work that the residents of the City of Newton want completed.

The City of Newton Red Cross Chapter needs 90,000 dollars to carry on the work they have so ably fulfilled for many years and Newton has one of the finest Red Cross Chapters to be found in the United States today.

If any Newton resident were to survey the News that has happened during the past year such as fires in our city, parades, storms, sickness, etc., regardless of the hours they occur, they would read that the Newton Chapter has been on the job serving Newton.

As Newton Red Cross Chapter approaches the final weeks of our drive let's all take a look at what has happened in our fund for the first three weeks. Our special gifts fund committee has announced almost the amount collected in 1955 and this amount was subscribed by the first weeks of the drive. Newton Villages who last year subscribed a total of over $56,000 to date in the 1956 fund has reported $18,000. Surely everyone knows that the reason for this report has been the elements of weather. Workers who are responsible for calling upon your home have definitely not been able to make the call in many instances. Also many Newton residents have been away during the past month and are now returning.

IF YOUR HOME has not been contacted by a worker, please phone the Newton Red Cross Chapter, Newtonville, Mass. and tell them that you wish to contribute to your Red Cross. The amount is not what matters, it's that we want every resident of the City to take an active part in our Red Cross Chapter. A Red Cross Fund worker will call upon you at any time and be very happy to accept your contribution to your Chapter, if you will call the Chapter and voice your willingness to give.

Many calls have been received at the Newton Chapter stating that they wish to contribute but they have not been called upon. As you know, the workers are citizens of our city who devote their time to this great cause. If they should call at your house and find no one at home, please do not feel that they have failed at their job. A call at the Chapter will bring a return visit. They are most anxious to do the job.

As the final weeks approach, Newton is very confident that an all out drive during the next few weeks that should put the Newton Chapter over the top.

Conference-

ing to each subject and the vigor of the discussions was a triumph over the elements which had nearly cancelled them.

Recorders under the direction of Dean Francis Kappal of Harvard University compiled the findings and a summation of attitudes, criticisms and recommendations was presented late in the afternoon by four Newtonites, each a specialist in one of the fields.

Dr. Wendell Yeo expertly crystallized the significance and value of such a conference when he emphasized the democratic belief that it is better to discuss a question even without setting it than to settle a question without discussing it.

From this candid look at its educational picture by the citizens of Newton, intelligent, realistic and productive measures may be taken in the future. Educators need and want both the awareness and support of their communities in the problems which face them in our rapidly expanding technological society. From the place of Humanities in the curriculum to safety regulations in school construction, the tax dollars of every mature citizen are involved, and from the underlying philosophic and practical goals of education today will emerge the ever more able America of tomorrow.

Dr. Faust touched on these facets of the broad school situation and many more yesterday afternoon. Forced to become doers rather than spectators, the people of Newton and of other communities across the nation now holding or planning similar conferences may rightly feel that they have responded to an urgent issue. From such "grassroots" probing may come the answers from all the people to problems which directly affect all the people.

The program will be in two parts. Wednesday evening, April 4 will be Question-and-Answer Night at the High School, to discuss high school, technical-vocation school, and junior college; and at the Frank A. Day Junior High School, where those interested in the junior high schools' programs will meet.

In order that Visiting Day on Thursday, April 5, be a worthwhile and satisfactory experience, it is suggested that interested people fill in and return the available questionaires, indicating what they would like to see and do. In this way, school routine will continue in ordinary fashion, giving visitors an unimpeded view of secondary school life.

The citizen committee in charge of assisting the schools with arrangements is headed by Mrs. Richard Mitchell, BI 4-6383. Call her for further information. Other committee members are Mesdames Leonard Bassett, Norman Krim, Earl Ham, C. L. Renker, Norman Zamcheck, R. W. Smith, Jay L. Gilfix, Milton Cohen, Irving Rabinowitz, Robert B. such as snow removal, collection of garbage, ashes and rubbish, maintenance of streets and maintenance of tools and equipment, and for street lighting. The largest single item was $325,000 for the collection of ashes and rubbish.

The only other departments topping the million dollar mark were the Fire Departmen. and the city treasury. The smallest department appropriation was the $6050 of the Sealer of Weights and Measures.

IN PRESENTING the budget, Earle D. Wood, chairman of the Finance Committee called attention to the fact that there is an expected increase of $12,000,000 in assessments and that additional auto excises would exceed $100,000. In reporting the balance sheet of committments, Chairman Wood stated that the city owed the state about $195,000, this representing the difference between state receipts and state charges.

He attributed the biggest part of the budget increase to the increase in both employees and in salaries. He stated the School budget was up $397,000, 87 percent of which was due to new employees and raised salaries. He also called attention to a $358,000 increase due to more employees and salary boosts for city employees.

A tabulation of the budget figures will be found elsewhere in this issue.

ARDIS WHITMAN

Is Author of "I'm Tired of Grandma"

Ardis Whitman, writer and lecturer comes from an old New England family, although she was born in Nova Scotia and educated at Acadia University. For many years she has been writing and lecturing on various aspects of contemporary life and has for some time been an unusually successful leader of a Great Books discussion group.

She has contributed widely to the Readers Digest, the Ladies Home Journal, Coronet, Glamour and other national magazines. Her first book "I'm Tired of Grandma," created such a furore that it was publicly debated by a panel consisting of Mary Margaret McBride, Osa Johnson, Henry Morton Robinson and George Jean Nathan.

In "How to be a Happy Woman," Miss Whitman implemented what she had previously said about the valuable role of modern women, indeed her perception of basic values has grown and deepened with each new writing. Her article in the Readers Digest on "What is the Limit of Your Mind?" attracted so much attention that she was asked to do a series of articles for that magazine.

"We cannot expect to live without anxiety, but we can learn to put it to our own good use" Miss Whitman has said in her article "Learn to live your Worries" condensed from Journal of Lifetime Living, which appeared in the February 1956 Readers Digest.

In private life Ardis Whitman is Mrs. Owen Rumsey, has one son and one daughter and resides in New Britain, Conn.

ELEANOR S. MITCHELL

'Seven Homes Had I' Author To Be Present

"Seven Homes Had I" by Eleanor Swann Mitchell is the intimate and revealing account of the experiences of a foreign service wife. It is really much more than that — it is a fascinating story of a member of one of the first families of Virginia married to a proper Bostonian.

Born, reared and educated in Richmond, Virginia, Mrs. Mitchell had all of the cultural, social, and educational qualities to equip her for the duties of a wife of a career member of the Consular Service of the United States. True to her Southern tradition, she became ea charming, erudite and captivating hostess for her husband in the many countries where he served. In the sweltering heat of Spain or the chilling cold of French Canada, the hospitality of the Mitchells became famous.

Retired now from the Consular Service, W. M. Mitchell and his wife make their home in Brookline. While she pursues her writing career (this is her second book) she finds time to devote to church and community affairs.

Mrs. Mitchell is a member of the following organizations: Hannah Goddard Chapter D.A.R.; Women's City Club of Boston; International Institute of Boston; League of Women Voters; Salon Francais de Boston (Past President); Friends of Framingham; Colonial Dames of Massachusetts — and she is currently president of the Women's Aid to Seaman's Club of Boston.

Mrs. Mitchell will appear in an attractive French costume when she speaks at the International Tea.

Study Teacher Merit Salaries

A special sub-committee has been appointed to study the possibility of introducing a merit salary schedule for Newton teachers, after a report was made by Supt. Harold B. Gores on the study of merit rating plans now being made in Utah.

Mrs. Grace C. Whitmore, Mrs. Genevieve R. Oncley and Francis Frazier, all of the committee, will study the question in consultation with the Newton Teachers Federation and report what action, if any, will be taken.

THE PURPOSE of the merit rating plan would be to reward exceptional teachers for exceptional service. Several of the discussion groups at Newton's White House Conference on Education urged such a study.

Newton had a merit rating system under Supt. Frank E. Spaulding which was abandoned shortly after he left the city in 1914.

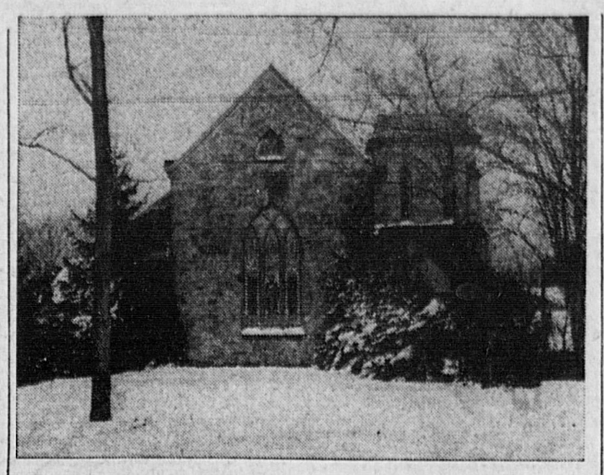

The Teachers Federation, with which the subcommittee will consult before making a report, numbers about 90 per cent of the city's 668 teachers among its members.

MME. ROSE ZULALIAN

Known As One Of Greatest Contraltos

Although Mme. Rose Zulalian, known as one of America's foremost contraltos, was born in Armenia she came to this country when she was only four years old. While she was still a young girl, she gained an enviable reputation as an interpreter of her native folk songs. Later she studied with Vincent Hubbard and his father who were the teachers of Roland Hayes. After courses in both French and Italian operas, she became popular on the concert stage. She has given recitals in Symphony Hall, Boston, Town Hall, New York, the Auditorium in Detroit and recently she sang to a large audience in Chicago. She has won many triumphs in concert, opera and oratorio work but her greatest fame has grown out of her singing "The Star Spangled Banner" at various national conventions.

-- WELCOME --

"The Newtonville Woman's Club is most fortunate in obtaining for our International Celebrity Tea, many distinguished men and women in their respective fields.

"We are truly grateful to these outstanding guests, who have given so generously of their services, that we may share some of their successes.

"Our sincere thanks goes to Mrs. Roger Wheeler and her committee, in bringing to our club this rare privilege."

Elsie M. Simmons
President
Newtonville Woman's Club

The Newtonville Woman's Club wishes to take this opportunity to thank publicly Mr. John W. Fielding and Mr. William Cooper of the Newton Graphic, for their splendid co-operation in making this edition of their paper possible.

History of the Newtonville Woman's Club, Inc.

Seventy-two years ago, six women, whose names were prominent in Newtonville affairs at that time, believed that a Club for the women of Newtonville would be a valuable addition to the life of this village.

Under the leadership of Mrs. John W. Dickinson, with Mrs. Robert C. Bridgham, Mrs. Henry H. Carter, Mrs. Arthur H. Soden, Mrs. Joseph H. Wiley, and Miss Margaret C. Worcester as Charter Members, the Newtonville Woman's Club was founded for the purpose of rendering service wherever needed and promoting good fellowship among the women of Newtonville. That it met a real need was evidenced by its rapid growth, and it was not long before a larger meeting place than the homes of members was required.

The Central Congregational Church, for many years, hospitably allowed the club to meet in their assembly hall. The club continued to grow and prosper.

Besides assisting in all community projects, the club developed two projects peculiarly its own,—the Children's Christmas Party and the Scholarship. Shortly before Christmas each year, twenty or more children, who would otherwise have a very slim Christmas are brought to the club and are given a fabulous afternoon with playthings as well as useful presents, entertainment and, of course, eats. The scholarship is given each year to a carefully chosen girl graduating from High School to assist in defraying her expenses to the school or college of her choice.

Changes come to clubs as well as to individuals. The activities of the Central Congregational Church had grown to such an extent that they needed the hall for themselves and requested that as soon as possible the club find another meeting place. Just at this time the Universalist Church became available for purchase.

Fortunately, Mrs. Dickinson, the founder of the Club, had anticipated this development and had left a substantial legacy toward the building or purchase of a club house. With the money left by Mrs. Dickinson together with a mortgage granted by the Newton Waltham Bank and Trust Co. the club bought the stone church at 61 Washington Park, Newtonville in 1932, during the presidency of Mrs. Herbert F. Blair, and converted it into a most attractive and desirable club house.

It became necessary in order to own property and transact business for the club to be incorporated and this was done at that time. Therefore, since 1932, the club is The Newtonville Woman's Club, Inc.

In spite of hurricanes and other vicissitudes, the club has continued to prosper and to be a vital and effective force in the life of the village of Newtonville. Instructive and entertaining programs, such as the International Celebrity Tea on April 2, with real service to others and good fellowship among the members we have had this year under the leadership of the present president, Mrs. Frank M. Simmons, and they will continue to be found under the leadership of future presidents in the Newtonville Woman's Club, Inc.

Mildred Buchanan Flagg to Be Mistress of Ceremonies

MILDRED B. FLAGG

Newtonville's own celebrity, lecturer and author, Mildred Buchanan Flagg, will serve as Mistress of Ceremonies, introducing the Foreign Consuls and Honored Guests at the first International Celebrity Tea of the Newtonville Woman's Club Monday afternoon.

It seems almost superfluous to write a pencil portrait of anyone as well known as Mrs. Flagg, for she has long been recognized as a gifted writer and lecturer, being author of half a dozen novels on the theater, current events, travel; having visited four continents, not once but many times. Just choose any old subject and she can hold you spellbound for hours.

After receiving her A.B. and A.M. degrees with Phi Beta Kappa honors, Mrs. Flagg was head of the English departments of two large New York High Schools.

A versatile lecturer, Mrs. Flagg often builds a delightful impromptu talk around the names of celebrities suggested by her audience.

Concerned with the welfare and cultural life of the community, Mrs. Flagg is co-founder and director of the Newton Community Forum, director for twelve years of the Newton Hospital Aid Association, State radio-television chairman for A.A.-U.W., State Commander for Woman's Field Army of Cerebral Palsy, State Commander for Women's Salvation Army Drive and she is organizer, chairman and Mistress of Ceremonies of Celebrity Breakfasts.

Two years ago she started a writer's workshop in Newton, which in the course of a year, grew in membership from six to seventy-two.

Mrs. Flagg is not by any means, the only literary member of her family. Her husband, a past district governor of Rotary International, was New England Manager of the MacMillan Book Company for many years. Both her children were graduated from college with Phi Beta Kappa honors. One daughter, Nancy, a Smith graduate, is married to a magazine writer for the "New Yorker" and other publications. They live in the Virgin Islands and have two little sons, Edward Francis and John. Nancy is a short story writer who has been connected with Vogue Magazine. The other daughter, Julia B., a Wellesley graduate is assistant sales manager of the McGraw Hill Publishing Co. College Department.

Even Michael, the family's venerable cat has worked his way into the literary world in the passive capacity of simply being smart enough to be good subject matter.

GRACE WARNER GULESIAN

Outstanding Composer and An Author

One of the outstanding celebrities to be introduced at the International Celebrity Tea is Grace Warner Gulesian, composer and author, who has to her credit more than one hundred musical numbers published and performed in concert, recital and over the air.

Born in Massachusetts, Mrs. Gulesian studied with Carl Faelton of Boston, with Madame Helen Hopekirk of Radcliffe College and with Frederick Converse of the New England Conservatory of Music.

She has done extensive concert work in New York, the Middle East and Europe, has written music and lyrics for the opera "Princess Marina' which was introduced at the Colonial Theatre, Boston, and the music for "Dick Whittington," performed at the Boston Opera House and for which Mrs. Larz Anderson wrote the books.

In collaboration with her husband, Moses H. Gulesian, she wrote the play, "Made In America," which had a long run on Broadway. She composed the musical setting for "The House By the Side of the Road," written by Clara Endicott Sears. Her latest composition, a two-piano number is "in a Hong-Kong Garden."

Mrs. Gulesian has been head of the music division of Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, a Vice-president of the Massachusetts Federation of Music Clubs, Past President of the Boston Branch, National League of Pen Women, and Teritorial Chairman for the National LAPW.

She is also head of the radio department of the Massachusetts D.A.R., has been regent of the Johanna Aspinwall Chapter D.A.R. and a member of the Newton Centre Woman's Club whose chorus she organized. Mrs. Gulesian will accompany concert soloist, Madame Rose Zulalian at the Newtonville Women's Club.

The land in said Newton, with the buildings thereon, situated on and numbered thirty-nine in the numbering of Jefferson Street, bounded and described as follows:

Southerly by said Jefferson Street, fifty-one (51) feet;

All Are Welcome

Lobster Appeals To N.E. Visitors

"You can always tell a tourist by the lobster he eats," so says Robie Faulkner, host to thousands of travellers every year at the 1812 House on busy Route 9 in Framingham, Mass.

"Local New Englanders," he reports, "dine earlier than the travellers and sightseers and show a preference for steaks, fried chicken, roast beef and turkey.

"Out-of-state people nearly always want fresh lobster. The most popular forms start with Broiled Live, Lobster Newburg, Lobster Thermidor and Baked Lobster, in that order." A luncheon dish that seems to have wide appeal at the 1812 House is Lobster Shortcake.

Tourists and New Englanders seem to be in agreement, however, on their choice of desserts. Most popular favorites all around are the Yankee perennials—Deep Dish Apple Pie and Indian Pudding — both served hot.

Another thing travellers from other parts are looking for is New England atmosphere and historic background. "Fortunately, we have our share of that, too," he points out.

The 1812 House was an historic homestead of which much of the original early American homelike atmosphere has been preserved.

Some surprise has been expressed that ex-Representative Herter decided to run for the Governor's Council, and several readers of this column have written in to ask what influenced him to do so. The answer is a fairly simple one.

A number of Republican leaders sought him out and urged him to become a contender for the Executive Council, informing him that they felt he was the candidate who would have the best chance of regaining the seat for the GOP.

Whether Herter, Reynolds or someone else eventually gets the Republican nomination, he will not face an easy fight next November, for the Democratic candidate in all probability will be Councillor Endicott (Chub) Peabody, former Harvard football hero, who can not be unseated without a struggle.

Peabody is presently seeking the Democratic nomination for Attorney General, but there appears to be little chance that he will get it. Both Boston City Council President Edward J. McCormack, Jr., nephew of Congressman John W. McCormack, and Representative Joseph D. Ward of Fitchburg, who are bidding for the same endorsement, shape up as substantially stronger than does Peabody.

It is unlikely that Peabody will place any higher than third in the running at the Democratic State convention in June. If he is eliminated from the Attorney General race, as is expected, he undoubtedly will turn back and run again for the Governor's Council, and he will not be defeated easily.

That is what the Republican leaders, who are anxious to reclaim Peabody's seat for their party, had in mind when they approached Herter and asked him to make the fight.

When the matter was first broached to him, Herter said he would not make a formal commitment until after President Eisenhower had announced whether he was going to stand for re-election and until after he determined whether his father would be making a nation-wide campaign.

He made it plain, without saying so directly, that if his father were to be involved in a national campaign, he would not run for anything himself but would devote energies to assisting him.

Last week the former Newton legislator acceded to the arguments of those attempting to persuade him to enter the Council field and announced his candidacy. He hardly can be accused of delaying his decision too long because the primary in which he will run was then still a full half year away, and a vast number of contenders who will be running for various offices next September have not yet disclosed their plans or even made their decisions.

Another question being asked about the younger Herter is why he resigned his seat in the Massachusetts House of Representatives at the close of the legislative session in 1950, severed his connections here and took a federal post in Washington.

The reason he did so was that he felt that a set of circumstances had developed which made it impossible for him to stand on his own feet and serve the people of Newton in the manner in which he felt they were entitled to be served.

He was completely enveloped in the shadow cast by the position of his father, the Governor. When he voted on a measure, it was considered that he was reflecting the policy of his father, not the sentiment of the Newton residents who had elected him. When he spoke on a matter, he was regarded as speaking for his father, not for his Newton constituents.

A possibility existed that somewhere along the line, when he exercised his own judgment and initiative, he might well cause embarrassment for his father and the Republican party.

To serious-minded, conscientious ex-Representative Herter the situation did not seem to be a fair one either to his father or to the people of Newton who had elected him to the House.

So when the 1953 legislative session was concluded he resigned from the House, moved his family to Washington and accepted a position there. It was a drastic and difficult step and one that a less conscientious person would have been unlikely to make.

Now, as the Governor is serving the last year of his final term on Beacon Hill, his son has come home to resume his own political career. Some of the GOP chieftains at first sought to induce him to go on the GOP State ticket because of the strength his name would add to it. But Herter did not think that would be fair to the men planning to seek various places on the ticket. Then he was importuned to make the fight against Peabody and try to win back a Governor's Council seat the GOP had lost in 1954.

The Republican party in Massachusetts does not have too many young men of the ability, integrity, character and capacity for public service of Christian A. Herter, Jr. It would do well to encourage those it does have.

Whittier Will Suffer if Nelson is Ousted

Republican leaders are deeply worried over the conflict between Lieutenant Governor Sumner G. Whittier and GOP State Committee Chairman Elmer C. Nelson which has now broken out into the open after simmering behind the scenes for a long time.

They point out that not only does it shatter any semblance of unity and harmony within the GOP but that it might impair the election prospects of Whittier who will need a united party behind him next fall.

A bitterness has existed between Whittier and Nelson for some time. It probably stemmed principally from a clash of temperament between the two men. The differences might have been settled quietly if they had not suddenly exploded in public.

Nelson is a blunt, outspoken, strong-willed individual who has worked hard to build up the Republican organization throughout the Commonwealth and who undoubtedly has accomplished a great deal for the GOP. He recognizes only Governor Herter as his boss.

A BENEFIT PARTY, sponsored by the Junior Guild of the Infant Saviour, will be held at the opening night performance of "Ice Chips of '56," April 6 at the Boston Garden, proceeds to go to the support of the Infant and Maternity Department of the Catholic Charitable Bureau and St. Mary's Infant Hospital. Shown above are three participants in the Ice Chips: Gregory Kelley, Eastern Men's Novice Champion, Susan Blodgett, Eastern Novice Ladies' Champion, and Tenley Albright, Olympic Champion; pouring is Mrs. Nelson Erickson, Jr., co-chairman of the benefit.

HARRIS REYNOLDS

Harris Reynolds Gets Backing In Councillor Bid

Attorney Harris A. Reynolds, a former resident of Newton, has been endorsed by a dozen Newton people in his bid for Governor's Councillor. Reynolds, who recently resigned as an assistant attorney general, is seeking the Republican nomination for the post now held by Endicott Peabody.

Local endorsers include Ernest G. Angevine, Adelaide B. Ball, Haskell C. Freedman, Harry H. Ham, Jr., Richard H. Lovell, Duncan Edmands, Helen and Michael Panella, Kenneth S. May, Kenneth W. Newcomb, John P. Mixon, Hirsh Sharf, Stuart M. Spaulding and Edwin A. Terkelsen.

Reynolds, who is 41, is now a resident of Weston. He is still a member of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church and during his residence here, he served as an officer of both the Newton Highlands Improvement Association and the Newton Upper Falls Improvement Association. He also served as president of the Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A former member of the Newton Republican City Committee, Reynolds is a life-long Republican. He holds membership in the Massachusetts Republican Club.

He graduated from Dartmouth in 1935 (cum laude, Phi Beta Kappa) and received his law degree from Harvard Law School in 1938. Reynolds, has been a member of the Massachusetts Bar since 1938, and belongs to both the Boston and Massachusetts Bar Associations.

Fessenden School

Four local boys were honored recently in the spring term election at the Fessenden School, West Newton. Roderick Hagenbuckle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Hagenbuckle, 286 Waltham Street, West Newton, was elected secretary of the VI Form, vice-president of the Reds, (one of two competing groups of students), and to the Committee, the student-governing body. George Baldwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard R. Baldwin, 15 Wykeham Road, West Newton, was elected president of the V Form.

Stephen Putnam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic L. Putnam, 90 Lake Avenue, Newton Centre, was elected treasurer of the V Form; and Francis Spring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Spring, was chosen treasurer of the III Form.

TELE-VIEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS

What are the factors which go to make up the average television service charge! Ordinarily they can be broken down into three. One is the professional know-how of the serviceman. He is a highly trained electronics technician, and his skill and experience, like that of the carpenter or the lawyer, are valuable. Most of us can saw a board . . . but we can't do the skilled work of a carpenter. We pay him to do the job because he does it faster and better. So it is with the TV technician.

The other cost factors are time and parts. A television repairman's time is his livelihood, just like, for instance, a doctor's. You pay your doctor a standard fee for an office call — even if it's only to get a speck of dirt out of your eye! You rely on him, too, to find and treat serious ailments. Similarly, the time consumed by a TV technician in answering a service call is a cost factor . . . though the cost is remarkably low!

Finally, there's the cost of parts . . . and no set owner questions that expense, particularly since tubes and parts for your TV set are available at a very low price.

Put these factors together and the average TV service charge comes out as a bargain! It's only a bargain, however, if it's done right. That means you add reliability to the other things mentioned . . . reliability which you can be sure of when you call us for economical TV service.

Teachers Hired For Vacancies

Fifty-four teachers have been hired thus far by the School Department to fill an expected 70 vacancies in elementary and secondary schools for next September.

FIFTY of the 54 positions have been made for the elementary schools. Four have been hired for secondary schools where about 17 vacancies will occur.

It is still early to fill the positions, said Assistant Superintendent Charles O. Richter, particularly for the secondary school where more specialized work is required. Dr. Richter is working with principals to recruit qualified teachers.

The School Committee has accepted the resignations of the following teachers:

Mrs. Vasilike Fiflis, Day Junior High School, effective July 1.

Mrs. Carol Friedenberg, Spaulding School, effective May 15.

Ann Keane, on leave from Davis School, effective Feb. 27.

Mrs. Sally Martyn Lacy, Spaulding School, effective as soon as a replacement can be found.

Mrs. Beverly Tasko Lusk, Warren Junior High School, effective April 28.

Marion L. Phear, Ward School, effective July 1.

Mrs. Nancy Newman, Carr School, effective May 1.

Louise Williamson, Meadowbrook.

Day Camp Group Holds A Meeting

Members of the N. E. Day Camp Directors Association, with 26 day camps represented, met at the Beaver Country Day School March 11 at which time a panel discussion on camp practices was held. Chairman of the meeting was Joseph DePasqua, Beaver Country Day Camp, Chestnut Hill.

Representatives of camp insurance specialists reported on the various forms of insurance that camps should carry.

It was reported that the Day Camp Standards were accepted by the American Camping Association and that implementation of these standards would start this summer. Day Camps which do not meet these standards will be denied membership to the American Camping Association. Thomas W. Leydon, Camp Patoma, Holliston, was appointed Director of Publicity.

Camp Fire Girls Hold Mother And Daughter Breakfast

One hundred and twenty-five Camp Fire Girls of Corpus Christi Church, Auburndale, joined with their mothers, leaders and sponsors at a Mother and Daughter Communion Breakfast on Sunday, March 18th. The Breakfast, which was held in the Church Auditorium, was served by father of the Camp Fire Girls, and the occasion celebrated the 46th Birthday of the Camp Fire Girls of America, as well as the first birthday anniversary of the Corpus Christi group.

In keeping with Camp Fire's birthday theme, "Plant seeds, reap friendship," the only admission tickets required was a package of vegetable seeds from each girl. These were presented to the speaker of the day, Sister Marie Bernadette of the Columban Missionary Order, who will deliver them to Korea in April. Sister Marie Bernadette, who has spent 17 years in China and the Phillipines, gave a fascinating account of her work in this field, and recounted many interesting and humorous stories of the difficulties and rewards in her work She lived through the trying days of two Japanese invasions, in China and the Phillipines, and remembers most vividly the great kindness and generosity of American troops during the liberation. She spoke of the need for small gardens to properly feed the Asian peoples, and of the one small garden of beans which supplemented the rice diet of the Sisters under the occupation.

In charge of the morning's program was Mrs. Orazio E. Vaccaro, Chairman of the Auburndale group. Guests of honor included Rev. John L. Johnson, pastor, Rev. Edward Beucler, spiritual director; Rev. John Lyons, and Mrs. Virginia Coogan, Camp Fire District Director.

Awards for distinguished salesmanship during the recent Camp Fire Candy Sale were made by Mrs. James Sullivan, chairman of the candy sale, and Mrs. Peter Stofflet, her assistant. Super Charms were presented to Kathy Coyle, Jean D'Agostino, Claire D'Agostino, Phyllis Vaccaro, Marjorie Hayes, Virginia Riley, Diane Foley, Patricia Foley, Kathleen Tom, Patricia Curley, and Sheila O'Donnell. Super-Charms were presented to Linda Pucciarelli, Sandra Lembo, Mary Ann Sullivan, and Joan Mullare. A special prize went to Linda for having sold the most candy.

The following leaders and sponsors served as hostesses to their groups: Mrs. Vincent Tarushka, Mrs. Thomas L. Gill, Mrs. Eugene Coyle, Mrs. Paul Malone, Mrs. William D'Agostino, Mrs. Harold F. Murphy, Mrs. Eugene Sampson, Mrs. Charles Ryan, Mrs. Barbara Pollock, Mrs. Bernard Hunt, Mrs. Ralph Dooley, Mrs. Earl Mullare, Mrs. James Sullivan, Mrs. Edwin Harrington, Mrs. Eric Martenson, Mrs. Antonio Vetro, Mrs. William Hayes, Mrs. Marguerite Hanna, Mrs. Paul D'Agostino, Mrs. Peter Stofflet, Mrs. Archie Hayes, Miss Miriam Ellis.

Maundy Thursday Services Tonight

Maundy Thursday will be commemorated at the First Unitarian Society in Newton with a service of Communion following the fifth and final Lenten lecture on "Primary Loyalty," to be given at 7:30 p.m. tonight (Thursday) by the Rev. Jonn Ogden Fisher, in the Alliance Room. The general theme of the Lenten series is "The History of Heresy." The four preceding talks, including this Thursday, March 22, on "Primacy of Individual Conscience," have been held at 10:30 o'clock Thursday mornings, preceded by coffee, served under the chairmanship of Mrs. Irving Fisher.

The First Unitarian Society in Newton welcomes three new members: Hanna M. Neilson, Esther S. York and Stephen York.

Albert K. Reed, head usher, is being assisted at morning services in March by L. Fabian Bachrach Jr., W. Howard Hulsman, Lowell V. Coulter and Stephen York.

Mrs. Willard B. Weissblatt is chairman for the month of the welcoming committee, assisted by Mrs. Irving Fisher, Mrs. John W. Gurry, Mrs. Jerome K. Merlis and Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Beisel Jr.

Schenectady N. Y. — About 90 per cent of the world's supply of mica is used by the electrical manufacturing industries for purposes of insulation.

-- High School Activities --

Despite the snow, nineteen Newton High students journeyed to Claremont, New Hampshire, last week. These students participated in the New England Music Festival under the direction of Mr. John D. Raymond, who is the conductor of the Lafayette College Choir of Easton, Pennsylvania. Marilyn Mayer, Ada Nazzzaro, Lorraine Gayzegian, Patricia Marlrey, Deborah Green, Sheila Ahearn, Marie Giordano, Robert Huss, Paul Pearson, Irving Krasner, James Mitchell, Barry Roberts, Ernest Lendman, Wallace Blackwood, Wallace Palmer, and Thomas Powers were warmly received at Claremont during their three-day stay.

Congratulations to Judy Glaser, who was named the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorow at N.H.S. She received the highest score in a written examination which tested the homemaking knowledge and attitudes of senior girls.

On May 12 the Latin Club will be host to the Massachusetts Junior Classical League, a branch of the National J.C.L. The Massachusetts group represents twenty-one schools. The meeting on May 12 will include a business meeting, lunch, and an afternoon program. On May 5 the Latin Club members will be guests of the Belmont High Latin Club.

Miss Kennedy, homeroom teacher in 2304, is a member of the Massachusetts State Science Fair Committee. She will judge science fairs in six high schools and in the Rhode Island State Fair. There will be a science fair at the M.I.T. Athletic Cage on April 27-28 to which all are welcome.

Ruth Evans won the Gold Key Award in The Boston Globe's Sixth Annual Scholastic Art Awards Competition. Congratulations, Ruth.

Newton High is especially proud of its Junior Red Cross Council. The council members read to young people who have such diseases as cerebral palsy or rheumatic fever. Mrs. Kendall, Newton Red Cross Chapter Representative, finds this project has been carried out not only by high school students, but also by junior high-schoolers, "who have also given wonderful cooperation."

Bob Gorn's electronic robot turtle placed first in a public exhibit of their projects by the forty finalists in the nationwide Westinghouse talent search.

The newest singing group at Newton High is the KAPRIS with a "K," which is made up of Ed Shulkin, Marv Pearlstein, Al Coss, and Mark Golub. These boys intend to "cut" an independent record soon. Al and Mark wrote the songs (which will soon be heard on the radio) "I Wanna Love You" and "Loop-De-Loop." Besides the recording, the KAPRIS with a "K" have three charity shows for the future.

Spring is here; the Newton High baseball practice has started. Coach Ferguson says, "We're working on conditioning and fundamentals in the drill shed now." Newton is sure to have another winning baseball team, especially since many of last year's regulars are returning, including Russ Halloran, Al Martin, Johnny Beggs, Howie Whitmore, Dana Johnson, Ken Keyes, and Dave Chamberlain.

An interschool debate will be held on May 10. The affirmative side of the topic, "Resolved: Red China should be admitted to the United Nations," will be presented by our debating club's four best debators.

The news in this column was reported by the members of the Journalism class at Newton High School and was edited by Garth Rosenwald and Sue Stacey. For more information on what's news at N.H.S., read The Newtonite, official publication at Newton High.

Dr. Godfrey Says Polio Shots To Be Given Over 10 Week Sp

At an Executive Board Meeting at the old Pierce School on Thursday evening, March 1, members of the PTA Council of Newton heard plans for the distribution of the Salk polio vaccine to Newton school from Dr. Henry W. Godfrey, acting director of Public Health. The PTA Council was also requested to cooperate in the inoculation of pre-school children.

Dr. Godfrey reported that the schools hoped to distribute the vaccine in a 10-week period; the first inoculation to be given in the first five weeks and the second during the second five weeks. According to the proposed schedule, 800 to 900 children would be inoculated each day. The time for beginning the inoculations will be governed by returns of cards.

Of the 1500 cards already filled out and returned, a small percentage of the total, Dr. Godfrey emphasized that half the parents want the shots to be given by a family physician. In these cases, the schools will send the serum to the family doctor.

Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, nursing supervisor of the Health Godfrey, called on the PTA's Department, speaking after Dr. to help with the inoculation of pre-school children. PTA members will be needed, Mrs. Miller said, to act as hostesses at the schools when the mothers bring the young children in. Their help will also be needed to notify parents by card or phone of the date, time, and place of the inoculation.

Cards are being distributed from door to door to the mothers of pre-school children by Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, and the Nonantum Boys Club. They are also available in the Public Health office.

Dr. Hamilton, president of the PTA Council, next introduced Mrs. Norman B. Krim and Mrs. Melvin I. Cohen from the Participation Committee of the Newton White House Conference on Education. They asked that registration blanks for the conference be distributed at PTA meetings and also requested help in a weekly collection of registrations from the different schools.

A nominating committee was elected to include Irving Neiman, vice-president of the Council; Melvin Dangel, former Council president; Miss Ann Caldwell, principal of the Pierce School and coordinator for the Council; Robert Clinton, president of the Hamilton PTA, Mrs. Wilfred Werner, president of the Ward PTA; and Dr. Eugene Binder, president of Oak Hill PTA and program coordinator for the Council, alternate.

The Council welcomed the new Meadowbrook PTA and its president, Dr. Sam Hedrick, who is also a vice-president of the Council.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Sutcliffe, presidents of the Underwood PTA, reported that a parent opinion survey on the advisability of rules for elementary school behavior had been completed by the Underwood PTA. The Council has a committee of parents and teachers which this year is studying the idea of a community code for out-of-school behavior at the Junior High level.

The Council discussed briefly plans for the annual June Conference. Dr. Hamilton and Charles O. Ritcher, assistant superintendent of schools, suggested several topics for the conference.

Fire Detection Systems

A careful study of fires causing large loss of life proved that the deadly carbon monoxide gas, the product of incomplete combustion, had passed through the verticle and horizontal openings and saturated the entire structure causing asphyxiation of the occupants before the fire department was called. Failure to discover the fire in its early stages resulted in most of our fires of conflagration proportion. Churches, because of their open construction, cocklofts and the fact that they are so continuously without ocupancy, are nearly always a total loss. The lives of those in hospitals, schools and public and private instiutions are dependent upon discovery of fire in the first few minutes.

Automatic fire detection is the answer. Many devices which are sensitive to heat, smoke and gases, have been developed which if properly installed and maintained would give the alarm of fire in time to save both lives and property.

For years we have known the action of both the fixed temperature thermostat and the one that operates on a rapid rise of heat greater than that due to normal occupancy. They have both given a degree of life and property protection far beyond the cost of their installation.

More recent devices have been developed which operate by the use of the "Electric Eye" and which gives the alarm on the slightest appearance of smoke. There are many places where this type is especially adaptable.

A later type now is available which is sensitive to the radiated heat waves similar to the radio wave which serves your radio set. The rays of the sun or ordinary lighting circuits do not affect this action. This delicate mechanism is very sensitive and gives immediate response.

The dependability of any system of automatic fire detection depends upon the design, the materials used, the workmanship, the functioning of the warning signal, the reliability of the actuating current supply and the constant maintenance and supervision which assures its workability at all times.

Any of these detection systems can be harnessed to perform a multitude of duties in addition to giving the alarm of fire. Fire doors can be closed, air conditioning machinery can be stopped, dampers dropped and a host of other essential tasks can be performed in the early moments of any fire.

With all these developments of automatic detection available there is little reason why at least our most essential buildings, hotels, hospitals, convalescence homes, factories and theatres should not be supplied with automatic protection. The first few minutes of any fire may count into eternity for those who may be trapped.

A fire detecting device is well worth considering for both businesses and for the home. It could be the means of saving your life or your property.

Businessmen May, In the Future, Be Visiting Lecturers In the Schools

Not too far in the future in the average Massachusetts community, businessmen may be lending staff members as visiting lecturers to local public schools and older women may return to schools as specially trained assistants to teachers.

THESE "revolutionary tactics" to meet the teacher shortage were described on WGBH-TV, Channel 2 at 6:45 last Friday, and broadcast simultaneously on WGBH-FM. During the program "Backgrounds," Louis M. Lyons, new analyst for Boston's educational TV station interviewed Dr. Harold B. Gores, superintendent of public schools in Newton, and Mrs. James H. Zimmer, general chairman of the recent Newton Little White House Conference on Education. The topic was "What Can Citizens Do for Their Schools?"

Dr. Gores and Mrs. Zimmer gave capsule digests of this conference whose principal speaker was Dr. Clarence H. Faust, president of the Fund for the Advancement of Education. Dr. Faust spoke about the "revolutionary tactics" needed in education to meet the nation's number one educational problem—not enough teachers.

The Newton Little White House Conference, held for the first time by Newton citizens, had 1,000 registrants signed up for the conference last weekend. Despite the snowstorm, 500 aldermen, businessmen, teachers and even the mayor plowed through drifts in ski clothes or plodded in on snow shoes to participate in round-table exchanges that centered on four issues. These issues were school finance, school building, "the winning and holding of teachers," and a general session.

DR. GORES, superintendent for seven years and the father of two Newton schoolchildren, described the meeting as "not a glorified PTA program." (Dr. Gores works with 711 teachers and 15,400 children in the public schools).

Mrs. Zimmer indicated how schools will become more emphatically "by the people" as well as "of and for them." She also outlined in what ways the Newton conference set several firsts for a meeting of its type. "For example," she commented, "it could not have been held 10 years ago."

The Newton conference was sponsored by Operation Education, the Newton League of Federation of Women's Clubs, the Newton Community Council, Newton Council of Parent-Teacher Associations, Newton School Committee and the Newton Teachers Committee.

MRS. DORIS L. GREEN

Named Head of Savings Bank Women of State

Mrs. Doris L. Green of the Newton Savings Bank was elected president of the Savings Bank Women of Massachusetts for 1956-57 at their 31st Annual Meeting held at the Hotel Statler, Boston, March 16.

Other officers elected were Miss Gertrude Majeska, Lynn Five Cents Savings Bank and Miss Margaret F. Dougherty, North Adams Savings Bank, vice presidents; Miss Evelyn F. Grace, Home Savings Bank, Boston, secretary; and Mrs. Dorothy B. Gorey, Greenfield Savings Bank, treasurer. More than 200 bank women from all parts of the State were present for the Conference which was held on Thursday and Friday and was presided over by the retiring president, Mrs. Hazel M. Hartwell of the Springfield Five Cents Savings Bank.

Mrs. Green was chairman of the Eastern Group of Savings Bank Women in 1953 and 1954 and is at present a member of the Women's Committee of the Boston Chapter of the American Institute of Banking.

Named Member of Police Group

Warren W. Oliver, president of the Newton Co-operative Bank of Newtonville, has been appointed a member of the 1956 Trends and Economic Policies Committee of the United States Savings and Loan League.

The appointment was announced today by Walter H. Dreier, Evansville, Indiana, president of the League, which is the nationwide trade organization of the savings and loan business and represents more than 4,200 savings associations and co-operative banks.

The Trends and Economic Policies Committee is one of the important committees of the League charged with the responsibility of reviewing and reporting on present business and real estate market trends and economic conditions affecting savings associations and co-operative banks.

Annual Report of Boston Gas Made

BOSTON, March 13 — Boston Gas Company sold more gas in 1955 than in any previous year, but earnings were lower than in 1954 because of increased operating costs and the loss of $700,000 revenue resulting from new reduced rates to customers.

This summary of Boston Gas Company operations in 1955 is given by E. H. Eacker, Boston Gas President, in the company's annual report just distributed to its 1800 employees.

The reports shows that combined revenue from gas and electric sales in 1955 were $27,048,000, or $119,000 less than the year before. Revenues from the sale of appliances, office rentals and miscellaneous sources brought the total revenues to $29,014,000 or $320,000 more than 1954. Total expenses, however, rose $690,000, leaving net earnings of $1,591,000 or $370,000 less than the previous year.

"This is not a discouraging picture because growth in sales can be the foundation of the long-range soundness of our company," Mr. Eacker stated. He set continued growth as the major target for 1956.

In addition to the new high in gas sales, the volume of retail appliance sales by the company and reporting dealers was also at a record peak, the report states. Gas house-heating sales were up 350%, kitchen and other space heaters up 39%, automatic water heaters up 44%, ranges up 19%, refrigerators up 27% and clothes dryers up 98%.

Others interesting statistics of Boston Gas Company's operations in 1955 were as follows:

The Customers' Service switchboard handled 418,000 telephone calls from customers.

For every employee there is $35,200 invested in plant, equipment and tools. For every gas customer there is $194 invested.

Woman's Association

The Woman's Association of the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, will have its monthly meeting Wednesday, April 4.

At 10 o'clock the handwork group meets with Mrs. James A. Brickett and the surgical dressing group with Mrs. Fred Alexander.
